Soccer Manager Looking For Revenge in Football Cup Play

By KEN METHERAL

Canadian Press Staff Writer LONDON (CP) — Bournemouth manager Freddie Cox and his team from the wrong side of the soccer tracks meet the aristocratic Tottenham Hotspur Saturday in the fifth round of the Football Association Cup.

The game, one of eight scheduled cup ties, offers Cox an opportunity to gain revenge on Spurs' tempestuous supporters who once booed him right off the London club long regarded as one of British soccer's glamour teams. Bournemouth is one of two third-division clubs left in the running for the big silver trophy — full title the Football Association Challenge Cup — that is soccer's version of Canadian football's Grey Cup.

The team faces a formidable opponent in Spurs, who hold down second place in the first division. Most observers believe the fast-moving Spurs will win handily despite Bournemouth's surprise victory over first-division Wolverhampton Wanderers in the fourth round.

But the game will be played in the south coast resort and Bournemouth has the best home record of any club in the six leagues in England and Scotland. Bournemouth has not been beaten on its own ground since Dec. 17, 1955 — 28 home matches without a defeat.

COX WANTS REVENGE
Also, there is the added incentive of revenge. It is eight years since Cox left Tottenham under a cloud—booed by the team's home supporters, who didn't appreciate the football artistry of the clever but uncolorful forward.

Cox, who started his career as a 15-year-old ground staff boy with Spurs, moved over to Arsenal and led the Gunners to a cup medal. "It was only the attitude of the crowd that took me to Arsenal," says Cox. "I just couldn't stand the atmosphere at Tottenham. Maybe I'll really be able to give them something to boo about this time."

The other "little 'un" in Saturday's round is Millwall. Like Bournemouth, Millwall plays in the third division. The club is drawn against a first-division club — Birmingham City. Millwall also enjoys the advantage of a home-ground game, but is given little chance of advancing to the sixth and quarter-final rounds.

Other games pit Aston Villa against Bristol, Barnsley against Nottingham Forest, Blackpool against West Bromwich Albion, Huddersfield against Burnley, Manchester United against Everton and Preston against Arsenal.

Racing Season To Open June First

WINNIPEG (CP) — The R. James Speers Corporation limited Thursday announced a program of 71 days of racing on the Prairies this year with guaranteed purse money totalling more than $686,000.

The season will open at Calgary's Victoria Park June 1. No racing is scheduled in Winnipeg where Polo Park is being torn down to make way for a shopping centre and no new track has been built.

Richest race on the Prairie circuit, the $10,000-added Canadian Derby, will be run Aug. 21 at Edmonton. It usually is held in Winnipeg. Gross value of the race last year was $15,500. The $7,000-added Alberta Derby and $4,000-added Winnipeg Futurity also will be held in Edmonton.

George Kell Plans To Retire After '57

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Infielder George Kell, who needs only 38 more major league hits to reach the 2,000 mark, said Thursday he plans to retire from baseball after this year.

The Baltimore Oriole third baseman said he figures he's good for that 2,000th hit and "at least" 125 games this season.

The 34-year-old Kell, who has had 1,962 hits in 13 major league seasons, hit .271 last year. His lifetime batting average is .306.

Signs for 7th Year With Edmonton

EDMONTON (CP) — Guard Frank Morris, 33, has signed for his seventh season with Edmonton Eskimos and his 16th with a major Canadian football team, club officials announced Thursday. He has played on six Grey Cup teams.

Formation Of Players' Ass'n Best Kept Secret Of Year

By JACK SULLIVAN

Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — There's no doubt that the best-kept secret of any National Hockey League season was formation of the Players' Association, announced this week. Every club owner and league official heard about it after the news was out.

Even after it hit the newspapers, the public and the NHL weren't sure of the association's aims. The players didn't lift the fog except to say the association was formed to "promote, foster and protect the best interest of NHL players."

That's okay with the club owners and league officials. Their aim also is to keep the layers hay and to protect their interests. They would like to know how the association plans to do this.

There have been guesses, and the best seems to be that the players have more than a passing interest in the Saturday afternoon telecasts of NHL games over a coast-to-coast American network inaugurated this year. They probably wish to share the new-found wealth with the owners.

"The telecasts aren't in the pennant class. The deal is no secret," NHL President Clarence Campbell said in an interview. "The network pays $10,000 a game to the home club. That's an indemnity to the club for giving up its established night-game policy."

Campbell was as surprised as the next fellow when the new association was announced from New York. He was remarkably calm about it. "There's no reason why I should call a meeting of the NHL governors and I don't plan one," he said.

QUESTION OF FAIRNESS
"Nobody can be criticized for he added. "That's a laudable ambition but one person's conception of what is fair and reasonable can be a little different than anybody else's."

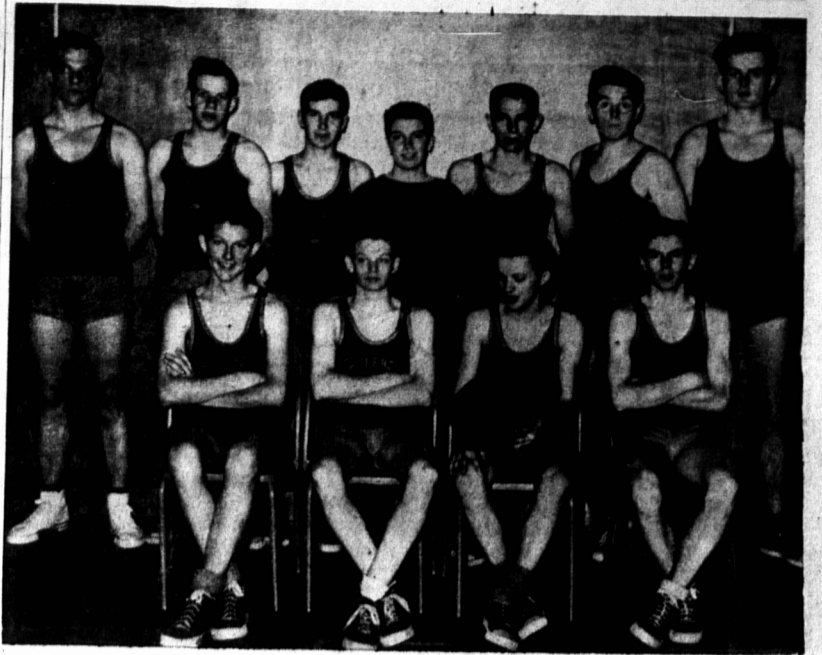

The newly formed association hinted it would try to make the NHL pension plan a little more inviting. This is Campbell's baby—he inaugurated it in 1947—and he considers it probably the best in sport or any other profession.

"There's no limit to what a player might receive," he said. "Players pay $900 a year which is tax exempt into the pension fund and the NHL's average annual contribution is $65,000." A player with two years' service receives $15 a month starting at age 45. Top pension is about $300 a month at age 65.

"Where will you get any better than that?" Campbell asked. "Many people work 35 or 40 years — and 11 months a year — to get a pension that doesn't come close to ours."

SASK. OIL OUTLOOK

EDMONTON (CP) — Mineral Resources Minister J. H. Brockelbank of Saskatchewan predicts that 1,200 oil wells will be drilled in his province this year and that at least 800 will be producers. On Feb. 1 there were 2,637 wells in Saskatchewan, of which 2,490 were producing oil and 157 natural gas.

World's Largest Sports Arena Is Proposed And Approved

NEW YORK (AP)—The world's largest sports arena, enclosed for year-around use and seating 150,000 persons, was proposed Thursday and drew immediate approval of Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

Location of the project, to be called Olympic City, was not disclosed but its sponsors said the aluminum-domed building covering approximately 15 city blocks was planned for a site in either the Bronx or Queens.

Estimated cost of Olympic City, to be privately financed, is $57,425,000. Of this amount $27,000,000 will be for enclosure of the all-weather arena.

Sponsors are Richard D. Gittlin, real estate broker, and Joseph Nelson, a cotton planter from Memphis, Tenn. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., is counsel for the group, the Greater New York Sports Arena, Inc.

HORSES TO HELP
Roosevelt said a bill would be introduced in the current session of the New York state legislature at Albany seeking a licence to conduct a four-months indoor harness racing meeting from December through March.

The present plans to finance the huge arena is based on getting the harness licence, but Roosevelt explained that if this was not obtained the proposal would be continued under a different financial setup.

Sponsors said the arena would be suitable for trotting races, track meets, baseball, football,

Ontario Figure Skater Tops At Ch'ships On Thursday

By AL VICKERY
Canadian Press Staff Writer WINNIPEG (CP) — Blonde Doreen Lister, 14, of Schumacher, Ont., led 14 skaters through the compulsory figures of the junior women's singles Thursday at the opening of the three-day Canadian figure skating championships.

Initial rounds of the junior dance, senior waltz and senior ten-step and the junior pairs championships were scheduled for Thursday night.

Skating with grace and precision, the Porcupine Skating Club competitor compiled a total of 507.5 points in the five compulsory figures which make up 60 per cent of the grand total. Free skating, which makes up the other 40 per cent, will be held tonight.

Miss Lister was the point leader in four of the five sets of figures laid down by the Canadian figure skating Association three months ago for the juniors to perform.

Sandra Tweesbury, 15, of the Chatham, Ont., Skating Club was runner-up with a total of 584.9 points.

Surprise in the standing was the 12th position of Elaine Protheroe of Winnipeg, who only last weekend captured the Western Canada senior women's singles title at Calgary. A post-entry, Miss Protheroe failed to display the same near-flawless skating that gained her the western championship.

The championships will continue today and Saturday morning at the Winnipeg Winter Club before winding up Saturday at the Winnipeg
