King's County Ministers Plan Prayer Meetings

Many people have deplored the lack of prayer in the churches, and the absence of the "old-fashioned" mid-week prayer meeting, but there have been very few suggestions as to how to restore the mid-week prayer service.

One suggestion came from the Kings County Ministerial Association which met Monday afternoon, March 8, at the home of Mr. S. A. Custance, Dundas. After a devotional period conducted by the president, Rev. W. A. Paterson, Georgetown, the discussion topic for the afternoon was introduced by Mr. Custance. He recalled some of his experiences in the "old-fashioned" prayer meeting and raised the proposition that the lack of prayer meetings is a sign of a dying church while, on the other hand, a weekly meeting for prayer gives evidence of a living church.

After some discussion it was felt that if the ministers in the County would support one another there could be a revival of interest in prayer in the churches. It was suggested that on the day of the Ministerial Association meeting the ministers remain for a prayer meeting in the church of the entertaining minister. This meeting would be for all who wish to attend.

The first of these prayer meetings will be held on May 17 in the Souris United Church of Canada under the leadership of Rev. Donald Sharme. It is hoped that members of the churches from all parts of the county will meet for an hour of prayer.

Sees Yankees Team To Beat

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Ted Williams Friday named New York Yankees as "still the team to beat" in the American League but added: "They're going to have more trouble."

Talking with reporters in his hospital room, the Boston Red Sox outfielder said: "They lost something when they lost Vic Raschi. No club can give up a pitcher like that and not be hurt. They've also lost Billy Martin and Mickey Mantle is a question mark with his leg."

Recovering from an operation which set his badly fractured left collarbone, injured March 1, Ted described the Red Sox as "definitely a dark horse in the race." "I depends on what the rookies do."

Ted Kennedy Reported Out With Injuries

TORONTO, (CP)—Centre Ted Kennedy may be lost to Toronto Maple Leafs until the National Hockey League playoffs start later this month. Dr. Jim Murray, Club physician, examined Kennedy on his return from Montreal where Leafs shut out Montreal Canadiens 3-0 Thursday night, and said the groin injury the Toronto player suffered may keep him on the sidelines for two weeks.

It was revealed also that defenseman Jim Thomson suffered a broken nose in the Montreal game. Centre Danny Lewicki has been recalled from Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League to replace Kennedy.

Little Sands Wins King's Intermediate C Ch'ship

The Little Sands Ramblers won the King's County intermediate C hockey championship at Murray Harbour Wednesday night when they defeated the Forest Hill squad 10-1 to take the round 12-4. The Ramblers will now advance against the Bedeque team, the first game of which series is scheduled for Murray Harbour tonight.

The Little Sands team was in fine form Wednesday night as they out-skated and out-played the visitors through three periods and took an early command of the game. It was a complete reversal of position to the first game when Forest Hill showed the superiority. The Ramblers defense and goalie were outstanding, but all members played a first class game. R. MacLaren stood out for the losers by breaking up many of their plays at his defense zone.

Lineups: Forest Hill — Goal: MacKinnon; defense: R. MacLaren, W. MacLaren, S. MacLean, forwards: Gallant, E. MacDonald, Campbell, Matheson, H. MacDonald, Thompson. Little Sands — Goal: F. MacLean; defense: Harris, Hume, R. White; forwards: Clements, Saunders, MacDonald, M. MacLean, S. Blue, S. White, N. MacLean, Stewart.

All Red Cross articles of knitting and sewing were passed in by members to the secretary, consisting of four sweaters, four pairs ankle socks, three nighties, four pairs overalls, two panties and two tunics. Program consisted of an instructive and interesting discussion on home coloring. Mrs. Bruce and Mrs. Moore read a number of helpful articles on this special craft. Mrs. George M. Blue gave several demonstrations on fun and play. Two contests followed, which were readily answered. Mrs. Bruce invited members to meet at her home for the April meeting, roll call to be answered by a home labor saver.

H. & S. Association Meet In Geo'town

A meeting of the Home and School Association was held March 4 in the Legion Hall. The president, Mrs. Easton, opened the meeting with the prayer from the Creed card repeated in unison. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mr. J. B. Scully, acting as temporary secretary. A report from the health committee showed that repairs to the school toilets were under way, and that health conditions in the school were as satisfactory as the individual teachers could make them, under the obvious drawbacks of an old and poorly-heated building. The teachers of the junior grades are especially to be commended on their efforts to see that the children are dry and fully-clad before leaving the school building. The recent weather conditions and the resulting slats of the school yard have made it practically impossible for children to keep their feet dry in any kind of footwear.

Each parent has recently received a report on their child's health from the district nurse. There seems to be a widespread need for dental attention, and the announcement at this Home and School meeting that the mobile dental clinic of Dr. Frank and his assistant, Miss Anita Phillips, will be at the services of Georgetown school children early in April, was a very welcome one. The ladies appointed to the health committee for this month are Mrs. Walter Solomon and Mrs. Agnes Murphy. The Music Festival committee reported that three choruses have been entered from the Georgetown school. Over 100 pupils passed their voice tests under Mrs. H. McLure. There was some discussion as to the means of transporting such a large number to the Festival. At the suggestion of Rev. Paterson, a ways and means committee was appointed to aid the Festival committee in this respect, consisting of Mrs. Wm. Murphy, Mrs. W. Solomon, and Mrs. Fred Delory.

The resignation of Mrs. Wm. Murphy as secretary-treasurer was read, and Mrs. Walter Solomon was newly appointed to the position. Mrs. William Price is the temporary secretary for the last three months. Correspondence was read from provincial headquarters concerning Education Week, and it was announced by Mr. Scully that visitors' day at the local school would probably be Wednesday, March 10. It is to be hoped that both fathers and mothers will show their interest and cooperation with the teachers by a record attendance on this day. Miss A. Keenan had examples of her Grade 1 pupils' work on exhibition, both numbers and art work. The members enjoyed looking through this exhibit, and it is planned to have the work of other grades shown at future meetings.

For the social part of the evening, Mrs. McLure divided the members into three groups, and a number of rounds were sung before the ladies of the lunch committee, Mrs. David, Miss Solomon and Mrs. A. Stewart served welcome refreshments.

It was decided that a crokinole party be held in the Red Point school and proceeds go towards the school. Red Cross knitting and sewing were handed in to the secretary Mrs. A. Robertson. Mrs. Foster Garrett and Mrs. Clayton Rose put on an interesting program: readings by Mrs. A. Robertson, Mrs. Foster Garrett, Miss Bernice McPhee, Mrs. Clayton Rose, Mrs. Lorne McNeill; recitation by Mrs. Foster Garrett (Changing Colors), and a contest by Mrs. Clayton Rose (Number of Beans) won by Mrs. Charles Ching; contest by Mrs. Foster Garrett (the word) won by Mrs. Nelson Stewart.

Tour of United Kingdom Agricultural Areas

By William C. Cairns

We visited a great many herds of top-quality beef-cattle not only in Herefordshire and Gloucestershire but in Scotland as well. The British beef industry in common with other parts of agriculture has been helped immensely by government subsidies and by guaranteed markets at guaranteed prices. A great many top-quality beef animals are exported for breeding purposes to the various meat-producing countries of the world. A lot of beef is fattened on chiefly pasture in summer and chiefly silage in winter. Beef cattle can be housed very cheaply in winter in covered yards or, in some cases, they may be left outside all winter. Most beef cattle (bullocks) are not killed until they are three or four years old. All of the common breeds of beef are to be found in Britain and each seemed to be thriving on the lush British pastures.

Hog-Raising Hog-raising in Britain is big business and we visited several farms where there were several thousand hogs including a great many brood sows. It seemed to me that the British farmer really knows how to produce hogs. Some people operate what might be called pork-plants where they produce nothing else but huge quantities of pigs. One such farmer sells annually $3000.00 worth of manure. Brood sows are usually kept out on pasture all summer and the young pigs also are usually allowed to run until they are nearly fifty pounds in weight. Sometimes shelters for both sows and winter are made out of pressed straw with loose straw on the top making the structure water-tight. Various other types of pig-housing are in use and the farmer can buy a great many of these in a prefabricated form for easy erection.

Possibly one of the newest ideas in pig-housing comes from the Harper Adams Agriculture College where Mr. William Price is the president. Mr. Price has invented what he calls the pig-parlour which is a piggy with a low ceiling, few, if any windows and Sheep-rearing is very big business especially in the hill-sections. Sheep produce a large percentage of the nation's meat as well as supply huge quantities of wool. There are a great many breeds and crosses of sheep but, as neither Herman nor I was especially interested in sheep, we did not study them closely. It seemed to us that sheep in Britain were subject to more diseases than sheep in Canada and in many areas they had to be watched daily as a precaution against attack by flies or dogs. (To be continued)
