TREATMENT FOR OBESITY.

A Patient Loses Fifty Pounds in Six Months —The Hot-Water Cure.

Savill gives an account of his treatment of obesity that presents some features of special interest. A man five feet ten inches in height and weighing 284 pounds was admitted to the Paddington Infirmary to be treated for an ulcer. This patient, 68 years of age, was unable to walk, chiefly by reason of his bulk. He was put upon a diet of one pound of cooked fish and one pound of lean cooked meat a day and a pint of hot water sipped at intervals every two hours. The fish and the meat were distributed in meals, according to the taste of the patient, but no bread, vegetables, milk or any other article of food was allowed. The patient was a person of intelligence and did everything toward the success of his treatment, managing to drink five or six pints of hot water during the day. Weight decreased steadily. On admission, September 21, it was 284 pounds; on October 2 it was 274 pounds; on November 18 it was 256 pounds, and on December 4 it was 246½ pounds. At Christmas there was some latitude given in diet and the result was a prompt addition to his weight of seven pounds, but by January 15 weight was reduced to 239 pounds. After four months' treatment the diet was modified by the addition of two small slices of bread and butter at breakfast and supper and milk and sugar in his tea night and morning.

On February 7 he returned to ordinary meat diet, such as other patients had, with the exception of potatoes. He then weighed 234½ pounds. Weight increased slightly for a time after resuming ordinary diet; but on March 21, when the patient left, he weighed 230½ pounds, having lost over 50 pounds in six months. The ulcer healed within four weeks of his admission, and pain and stiffness soon disappeared, permitting as much walking as the space in the ward would allow. Weight remains the same (230½ pounds), the man now being on ordinary diet, but drinking no beer. His health is excellent.—London Lancet.

Flower Combinations.

We all know perfectly well that a beautiful thing may be quite spoiled by using it in some way inconsistent with its character, writes F. Schuyler Mathews in St. Louis Republic. This is particularly true with regard to a flower when it is used for the purpose of decoration; it is too often the case that one loses sight of the beauty of flowers by reason of the compact way in which they are arranged. A word or two about the characteristics of certain flowers may help us toward a more intelligent use of them.

A little attention bestowed on the character of a flower will help one to understand how two or more of them may be artistically combined. Yellow daffodils look pretty with white cherry blossoms, and the Pyrus japonica combines well with white narcissus; but pansies or violets always look best when they are quite alone. Certain flowers are graceful, others are cheerful; some are bold and effective, like the jack in the pulpit; some are delicate, like the lily of the valley. It stands to reason that these must be arranged so their characteristics are not hidden. It is possible to produce a pretty group of buttercups and daisies, whose gold and white effect is always charming; but the addition of a single pink blossom spoils all! To keep flowers looking well the water should be changed daily and old blossoms thrown away. Then the groups should be carefully adjusted with relation to each other, so no two tall specimens should appear together. A little sunlight may do no harm, but cut flowers exposed to the full rays of a powerful sun wilt at once, and a pretty arrangement is soon spoiled.

Early morning is the proper time to pick flowers. They should be immediately sprayed with a rubber sprinkler, which, by the way, is invaluable to one who is gathering fresh blossoms. We are apt to treat flowers carelessly—a handful of them picked in the heat of the day without a good sprinkling is soon in the same condition as a fish out of water.

The Little Chicks.

As a precaution against lice on the little chicks, grease the mother slightly with fresh lard on the keel bone and under the wings, but do not mix coal oil with it. It is unnecessary and sometimes injures the chicks' eyes, as sulphur will also. Use no grease of any kind on the hen while sitting. Use sulphur, or what is better, get a dime's worth of insect powder of your druggist and make a sifter by taking an empty baking powder can and punching the lid full of small nail holes. Sift the nest well and the hen, in feathers of the back and fluff; or what is still better where it is at hand, a few stems of tobacco in the bottom of the nest is a perfect protection. Of course fresh ones must be provided when resetting hens, as they will finally lose their strength. Sometimes they are taken when very dry and pounded up fine, which makes it convenient for use. A handful is then sprinkled into the straw as we make up the nest.

The egg tester is quite a convenience, I find. For example, you set four hens at one time. When they have passed the eighth day test them, and quite frequently all the fertile eggs can be put under three hens and the fourth one receive fresh eggs. Those tested out as not fertile can be cooked and fed to little chicks, mixed with bread crumbs.—Ohio Farmer.

The Corinth Ship Canal.

According to the recent report of the British Acting Consul at Patras the Corinth ship canal is up to the present but little used. Between the opening of the canal in November and the end of February the only vessels passing through have been a few ships of war, some yachts, and about 200 small Greek sailing craft, although the canal is open to vessels of all nationalities not over 65 feet 7½ inches wide, and drawing not more than 23 feet 8½ inches of water. The tolls charged are as follows: Mail and passenger steamers, either going to or coming from the Adriatic Sea, pay 15 cents per register ton and 20 cents for each passenger carried, both in gold.—Scientific American.

Paper Yarn.

Paper yarn is now being substituted for other cheap stock in carpets, and is said to be superior to the shoddy and mungo, both in cost and strength. Of course the paper is used only in the body and on the under side of the texture and not on the upper surface. It is said that fifty five per cent. of a carpet may be made of paper without a customer suspecting it.—Leavenworth Times.

HE'S WORKING NOW.

Chester Looms was Crippled with Kidney Disease—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured him—They were Never Known to Fail.

NEWCOMB MILLS, June 18.—Chester Looms, a well known farmer living near here, has for years been afflicted with kidney disease, so badly that he could not sit in a buggy to drive to town. As he is 69 years old he despaired of a cure. He tried Dodd's Kidney Pills and they cured him. He has not done any farm work for years, but he helped to put in this spring's crops, and anyone who goes to see him to-day will find him betwee the plough-handles instead of laid out on a bed or an easy chair as he used to be. .....

New York is just now finding out under oath that her police officers "protect" bawdy houses for money as a regular thing. Inspectors Williams and McLaughlin are implicated among many others.

When the system is all run down, and no hope of obtaining nourishment by the ordinary food supply, then take "Miller's Emulsion, the great flesh and blood maker, "the kind that cures" colds, coughs, bronchitis and all diseases of throat and lungs. BABY'S WEIGHT.

IS YOUR LITTLE ONE LOSING OR GAINING FLESH?

If the baby is healthy and well fed, it should increase very steadily in weight. Too often the hot, oppressive summer weather retards growth and development; this is always the case when the baby is improperly nourished.

If the little one cannot be sustained fully and regularly on a bountiful supply of healthy milk from its mother's breast, it should receive a daily diet of pure Lactated Food.

When the little one is kept on Lactated Food there is a perceptible daily growth, and a guarantee that no summer troubles will endanger health of life. The manufacturers of Lactated food have on file hundred of letters from thankful mothers, testifying to the fact that the great Food is a preventive of dysentery, diarhhœa and cholera infantum.

This summer we here of hundreds of mothers using Lactated Food who never used it before.

A grand work is being done; the babes who are fed on the Food are progressing famously; they are increasing in weight, and rest and sleep well. Are you using Lactated Food, dear mother, for your weak and sickly infant? Give it a trial for one week, the results will surprise you.

MADRID, June 22.—Despatches received from Mindano, one of the largest of the Phillipine Islands, report that a battle was fought June 9th between Spanish troops and Mussulmen inhabitants. The Spanish were victorious. One hundred Mussulmen were killed. The Spanish had only a few wounded. The fighting continues.

A lady will sometimes spend hours selecting dress goods. She is not desirous of giving trouble at all. But there are conflicting claims. There are considerations of durability, of texture, of draping Priestley's dress fabrics have reached a niche in the popular esteem when conflict ceases to vex. It is enough to get Priestley's black dress goods to feel confident that you have the best. They wear better than any other make. .....

LONDON, June 22.—A despatch to the Times, from Tien Tsin, China, to-day, says that Japanese troops have been landed in Korea, and that this is causing strained relations between China and Japan. It is added that telegraphic communications with Korea have been interrupted.

The ladies of Charlottetown are asking for Priestley's dress materials for they are learning that no other black dress fabrics will give the same satisfaction. They drape with a softness and grace that gives perfect delight to a lady of taste and being made of silk and wool so artfully interwoven a garment of Priestley's dress goods has an air of refinement about it as long as there is anything left of it. .....
