CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. JAV BECKER

QUIZ

pay attention to the business at hand instead of stewing about what might have been.

At first glance, the situation looked bad. Aside from the club already lost, there were two spade losers. In addition, there was some slight danger of a trump loser, as well as a diamond finesse to worry about.

But a second look showed there was a pretty good chance to make the hand if trumps broke reasonably. West's spade lead was almost sure to be a singleton according to the bidding, and it also seemed probably West had the king of diamonds for his five club bid.

So the spade was taken with the ace and a low club was trumped. A diamond finesse worked, after which the ace of diamonds was cashed and a diamond was ruffed.

Now the ace of hearts was led, and when both opponents followed, I could breathe easier. A trump to the king set the stage for the loser-on-loser play.

The queen of clubs was played and on it I discarded the ten of spades. West, of course, won with the ace, but had to lead back a diamond or a club.

Since dummy's hand and mine were by this time out of both these suits, West's return was ruffed in dummy as I discarded the jack of spades.

When I asked dear partner why he hadn't doubled five clubs (down four) all he said was he thought I'd make five hearts.

You just can't argue with a man when he's right!

DUMP 'HOT' WATER
CANTERRA (Reuters) — An Australian air force bomber flew 400 miles out to sea Thursday and dropped weighted steel canisters of radioactive water into the ocean. The water was used two years ago to wash down an aircraft that flew through radioactive dust.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
I S L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation
