PUTNAM'S EMULSION
IS THE BEST TAKE NO OTHER.

BELKAISER, 18197,

Grandson of George Wilkes, 222,

Is a seal brown horse, three years old, about 15½ hands and 1000 pounds in weight, bred by the well-known horseman, Dr. J. W. Day, New York.

His sire is Kaiser, 2900, record 2 23¼ in a race foaled in 1882, sire of 3 in list, by George Wilkes 2,22, sire of 79 in 2,30 list, of 83 sons foaled of 807, and 51 daughters dams of 65. George Wilkes stands at the head of over 1200 performers in 2,30 list, and made only nine seasons in the stud.

The first dam is by Bellwood, 371, by Woodford Mambrino 2,21¼ (sire of dam of Kremlin 2,07¾) out of Belle, dam of Belmont, sire of Nutwood, sire of 100 from 2,09¼ to 2,30. Second dam by Greyhound 2,31, by the sire of Ethan Allan 2,25¼, sire of Daniel Lambert, sire of 36. Greyhound's dam produced two with records of 2,24¼ and 2,25. D'etator, 113, sire of the dam of Belkaiser's sire; he is also sire of the dam of Nancy Hanks 2,04, the world's champion trotter. The other champions are Kremlin 2,07¼, champion trotter; Martha Wilkes, champion race record 2,08¼; Moquette 2,10, champion four year old stallion, and Silicon 2,10¼, champion two-year-old race record.

The crosses close up in Belkaiser's pedigree combine the leading blood lines in the pedigrees of these champions of the turf. Belkaiser's is the Wilkes-Mambrino cross—Wilkes, sire of 79; Onward, 64; Alcantara, 51; Aloyon, 31 (sire of Martha Wilkes 2,08); Guy Wilkes, sire of 29, including Sable Wilkes 2,18, sire of Freedom 2,29¼, first yearling trotter in 2,30 list; Jay Bird, sire of 25, including Allerton 2,09¼, and Eagle Bird 2,21, sire of Monbars 2,11¼ (3 years). Eagle Bird was foaled in 1882, when his sire was only four years old. Another is Simmons (foaled in 1879), sire of Greenleaf 2,10¼, New York Central 2,13¼, Simmonco 2,13¼, Coraloid 2,14¼, and 25 others.

A premium of $150 will be given to the owner of the first trotter by Belkaiser credited with an official record in table of 2,30 trotters, provided horse is living and in places at the low figure of $22, to be settled by note if not paid at time of first service.
Usual return privilege season of 1894 if mare proves not in foal. Catalogue giving full particulars of pedigree, etc., furnished on application. Breeders will do well to call at stables of Mr. J. D. McLeod, near new Masonic Temple, where horse can be seen in charge of George Williams. dy 21 wy 4w—may 23

Daniel McLean, M. D.
PRESIDENT CALIFORNIA MEDICAL COLLEGE

Dr. McLean, who has been an instrumental in advancing the California Medical College to a position eminent in usefulness and influence, making it the peer in prestige, if not in number of students and wealth, of other medical schools here, is, as might be expected from his work, a man both of professional ability and business energy, and a very good executive. It is relatively not difficult for one of ordinary attainments to make successful any undertaking that starts under the conditions of a fair field and no favor. The California Medical College had opposed to it considerable prejudice, however. Being an eclectic school, this was very sensibly experienced. It was not subject, therefore, to the ordinary suspicions that buoy up the majority of undertakings. When we consider that he had this strong sentiment to contend against, the difficulty of his work is apparent, and when we view the odds against him and his co-workers, the present position of the College is proof of ability in no ordinary degree. The California Medical College now ranks well in popular esteem. Its students are from our best people, and so thorough is the curriculum that when they graduate they are well enabled to take up the practice of medicine.
In giving Dr. McLean credit for the work done, we do not lose sight of his co-workers. Dr. McLean as President, however, had the larger responsibility. He was the executive, the more prominent figure. He bore much of the burden, and is, therefore, entitled, in equal degree, to most of the credit. Dr. McLean is co-day in the mercenary of life. He draws from a rich store of experience in his profession. An eclectic physician always, he never worked in a narrow groove.
In his practice he sought and used the best aid to combat disease, no matter what their origin. The eclectic physician, as our readers doubtless know, is not bound by any formula in his treatment. He acts as his best judgment dictates, and as the condition of his patient requires. He has full and free scope therefore. It was this liberty that appealed to him in the first place, in his young days, and considering that life and death hinged on the action of the physician, he selected the eclectic school as the safest for guidance in such grave questions. He has always since been a warm advocate of this school and through it he has attained his present eminence.
Dr. McLean's practice has been a general one, but the drift has been in the direction of gynecology. To this, therefore, he has given very close study. His experience in it covers many years, and he has the reputation of being very successful. As a consequence, his practice is very large, particularly in gynecology and diseases of women and children. Dr. McLean is a man of fine presence. There is a candor in his generality and a straightforwardness in his manner that inspires confidence. He has a bright, cheerful way, that has an admirable effect on patients. His personality encourages and has decided influence for the good in the battle against any malady.
Although in his prime to-day, the white is abundant in his hair, but this is an inheritance, for the turn comes very early in all of his family. Dr. McLean comes of good Scottish stock. His people for long gener-tions were settled in Argyle and were members of the historic McLeods clan, which, on many a hotly contested field, gave a good account of itself. Early in the century his father and mother came across the Atlantic, and like so many more Scotch people, whose descendants now hold eminent prince in the New World, settled on Prince Edward Island. He was born there and attended the usual district schools.
Afterwards he attended the Normal School of Charlottetown, and it is evidence of his brightness and diligence that he graduated there when only sixteen years of age.
Following this he began teaching, and he was highly successful, not alone as a teacher, but as a superintendent of the school. He was also a member of the Normal School of Charlottetown, and it is evidence of his brightness and diligence that he graduated there when only sixteen years of age.

Items From King's County.

The farmers have about finished putting in their crops, and everywhere good prospects of a bountiful harvest are apparent.
Less potatoes have been planted than usual —some big farmers having only an acre or so. Fodder corn and turnips take a larger area than usual.

The schooner Carmenta sailed from Cardigan on Wednesday morning with her third cargo this season for St. Pierre. Among the cattle shipped, a very fine two-year-old ox weighing 1225 pounds, attracted a great deal of attention. This animal was bred and fed by F. G. Boyer, Esq., Georgetown Royalty, and shows the advantage of having high-class stock. It pays every time to breed to the best.

The King's County Exhibition Association have fitted up the track at Georgetown this spring, and horsemen pronounce it in fine condition. Many local horses are training on it for the races on July 6th.
The association, by opening a class for driving horses to wagoes, will afford an opportunity for farmers and others having good horses to show them; and no doubt many horse-buyers will be on hand to pick up the best. Making the entrance fee five per cent of the purse, except on winners, is also a new departure in the right direction, as it will encourage more horses to start in each race.

Politics are quiet in King's County excepting the little breeze raised by the Grit Convention at Georgetown last week. It is said that everything did not go off as satisfactorily as the leaders wanted.
The attempt to take all the delegates for Ottawa from Souris was promptly challenged by Mr. Scrimgeour, and his declining to be nominated as a delegate or alternative, or to speak at the meeting was a sore surprise to the Commissioner of Public Works and his Souris friends. Mr. Scrimgeour has been badly used by the Peters' Government, and it is an open secret that he does not approve of many of their acts. The attempt of the Leader of the Government to oust Mr. Scrimgeour out of the Cardigan District in order to get a more subservient follower is not hidden; and the plotting and persuasion to get a Conservative Catholic to oppose Mr. Shaw in the third district of King's, because it is supposed that his business relations with Mr. Peters will make him "like clay in the potter's hands" is arousing and awakening the people to the danger of continuing the Government in power. It is said the election is to take place in September.

When it does come on, Shaw and Macdonald, supported by the people of the third district, will effectively condemn the party that so manipulated the contract for the new steamer, that the Cardigan contractor was forced to give it up.

The roads in the vicinity of Three Rivers are in fairly good condition, but the weather must get the credit for it. It is a pity the road machine could not be sent to fix up the highway leading to Georgetown.
It is so rough, that some ladies, going to church, lost their false teeth, the benefit of the parson's sermon.

Mr. M. Bolden, of Glenfanning has gone for a trip to the United States.
Mr. Oswald S. Gordon, of Roseneath, goes to the World's Fair on Saturday.
He expects to be away one month. Mr. Gordon lost his fine four-year-old horse not long ago from inflammation, and had several more sick during the past month, but they are now doing well again. He has some promising young stock from such celebrated sires as Hernando, Preceptor, Parkside, etc., and is one of the go-ahead young farmers of King's County.

It is reported that a newspaper man from Charlottetown is tramping around the Georgetown electoral district looking for a nomination at the next election. It would be better for candidates from Charlottetown to wait until they are invited by the people to act as their representative.
Underhand canvassing is not done without some sinister motive.

Pisquid Notes.

The farmers of this place have nearly finished the annual and laborious work of consigning to the tender's care of mother earth the fruitful germs of another season's harvest.

The chief topic of conversation around here is the World's Fair, and of course, as the nearest approach to the reality, THE EXAMINER, with its breezy correspondence on the subject, is eagerly sought after.

Mr. J. A. McDonald and R. A.
Cavanaugh, who will remain here permanently, intend to take a trip to Chicago immediately after cropping. Their many friends will wish them an enjoyable time in the city of the world's wonders.

Our ever-efficient (?) supervisor was around here some days since, but one would think he was out on a pleasure trip as he overlooked an important structure on the Pisquid East Road, known as the Big Hollow Bridge, which, like the Grit convention, is so rotten that it is liable to collapse at any moment. Such conduct on the part of our public officials cannot be too severely censured.

Crappad Notes.

Mrs. F. W. Kettle, Miss Grace Howatt, and Miss Addie Howatt arrived here on Saturday evening from St. Augustine, Florida, to spend the summer with their friends.

Mrs. Kettle and Miss Grace Howatt are daughters of George Howatt, Esq., formerly of Crappad, and Miss Addie Howatt of Crappad, who spent the winter in Florida, returned with them. They all speak in glowing terms of the south, and claim that the climate in the winter cannot be surpassed in the world.

The country here is looking beautiful, the recent rains having improved the appearance of the crops very much. What we want on this island is a first-class hotel, and no doubt we would have a large number of visitors from all parts.

The directors of the Co-operative Creamery at Crappad are in want of a man to make the butter. If a suitable man could be obtained everything would be O. K.
Com

THIS WONDERFUL STORY

Was Told Mr. Frank H. Colley, Local Editor of Age, Belfast, Me.

"For 15 years I have been a sufferer from Salt Rheum of head, with its attendant itching and burning. Crusts about the size of a quarter of a dollar 1-8 inch thick would form over my whole scalp, crack and bleed. I also had a general Salt Rheum on my body from which I suffered torture. My food distressed me badly and a severe palpitation of the heart added to my suffering, and unfitted me for labor.

LUCIUS H. DUNCAN,
Chairman of the Board of Selectmen of the Town of Northport, Me.; member of Maine Legislature for 1888-9.

Physicians said I had CHRONIC ECZEMA, a BAD HEART TROUBLE, and DYSP-PNEA in a severe form. I used many remedies, but received no permanent relief. After taking 2 bottles of SKODA'S DISCOVERY, with LITTLE TABLETS, and using SKODA'S SOAP and OINTMENT, I find myself perfectly cured. Skilled physicians have examined my heart and pronounce it normal in all its functions."

1893 SWIFT!

"WHAT the 'SWIFT' is the best wheel I have seen in ENGLAND, and that it is second to none in AMERICA, an unprejudiced wheel man will say after a fair test of this Machine's powers.

Here are a few plain reasons why the SWIFT, made by the Coventry Machinists' Company, Coventry, England, the oldest Cycle Manufacturers in the world, is the acme of all that is great and good in a strictly high-grade wheel—

BECAUSE it is simple and strong—correct proportions accurate.
BECAUSE it is light and
strong—correct proportions not weight give strength.
BECAUSE it is roller forged chain reduces friction to a minimum.
BECAUSE it is not possible to make a better wheel.

Many more equally strong reasons can be given why the "SWIFT" is the wheel. I will send a sample wheel bearing a few days. Hold your orders until you have seen it. Now is the time to buy the "SWIFT".
