Police Commissioner Roosevelt, of New York, has won a national reputation for himself by enforcing the law against the selling of alcoholic beverages on Sundays. For over thirty years there has been in New York a statute forbidding the opening of saloons on the first day of the week, and for over thirty years it has been disregarded. When Mr. Roosevelt's accession to office he ordered the police to enforce the law there was a mingled outburst of indignation and scorn, and the liquor sellers openly showed their defiance. They paid dearly for their course, the courts as well as the police of New York having passed under the reform influence. Now "dry Sundays" are expected in Gotham, except for people who lay in a stock of liquor on Saturday night, and club men. The ability of the latter to purchase all the liquor they want at their favorite resorts has been pointed out as an "injustice to the poor man." Mr. Roosevelt apparently agrees with this idea, for he is now credited with an intention to stop Sunday liquor selling in the clubs. The task is likely to be a hard one, but the Commissioner's record is good, and there are those who think he will win.

THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Athletic. The famous Pictou athlete, F. P. Meikle, gave an exhibition with the 24 lb. shot at the sports at Pictou on Saturday, putting it 33 feet, breaking the world's record by some inches.

The St. John Globe, under the heading "Another fake record," says: "J. W. Humphrey, the fast Moncton sprinter, ran Friday at Truro. He won both the 100 and 220 yards dashes, Brandy being second in each. The public is told that the 100 yards was covered in 10 seconds even, breaking the maritime record. The M. P. A. A. executive, which has kindly allowed anything and everything in the shape of a record, even when made by beating pistols and by the assistance of gales of wind, will probably permit this to stand, ridiculous as it is. Some day, when an American or English sprinter with a reliable 10.25 seconds record visits these provinces, the 100 yards even 10.10 men will be surprised at the ease with which he will defeat them." And the Halifax Herald says that there is very little probability that the M. P. A. A. will recognize this record. It may be stated for certainty that they will not. It is strange that Humphrey should be so far ahead in the 100 yards and so far behind the record in the 220. How surprising it is that those "second men" are frequently beaten in 11 seconds when the time is accurately kept and all the conditions are good average. Ten seconds are rare indeed, when the pistol is accurately timed, the distance exactly measured, the small fractions minutely noted and the wind not strong behind the sprinter's back.

Cricket. When but fifteen years of age W. G. Grace, English cricket champion, made thirty-two runs against an All-England eleven. The following year—1864—he was asked to play for the All-England eleven against eighteen of Lynddown. W. G. Grace's first visit to Lord's cricket ground, St. John's Wood, London, was in the same season, during which he scored 1,073 runs, and so established a lasting reputation. In 1866, when only eighteen years of age, Mr. Grace was at the head of the first-class batting averages, and this position he also occupied in eleven of the next fourteen years. In 1871 Mr. Grace made a Canadian tour and in 1873 spent his honeymoon in a trip to Australia, in both of which he distinguished himself as a brilliant cricketer. From 1871 to 1889 Grace scored, in 342 completed innings, 16,873 runs; from 1881 to 1890, he obtained 8,902 runs in 221 completed innings; this was left for the present year to form forth the most wonderful record of a surprisingly brilliant career. To make 1,000 runs in a season is considered an exceptionally good performance. What, then, can be said of the cricketer who, in one month—May—scored 1,016 runs in five innings? Dr. Grace swears six feet two and a half inches high, and weighs over sixteen stone—224 lb.

The international intercollegiate game was resumed at Philadelphia on Saturday before 6,000 people. The standing wicket of the previous day were soon taken and the score stood 284 to 138, but as the latter lacked 26 runs they followed for a second innings. When stumps were drawn the University of Pennsylvania had 233 runs for the loss of eight wickets.

The Wheel. R. H. Beal, the bicyclist who left Chicago at 8 o'clock last Sunday morning, arrived in New York at 3.35 a. m. on Saturday last, three hours and 25 minutes ahead of the best previous record for the cycling run between these two cities.

The second annual exhibition of cycles and cycle accessories and sundries will be held under the auspices of the National Board of Trade of Cycle Manufacturers at Madison Garden, New York city, from January 18 to 25, 1896. Spaces will be allotted October 9, and applications must be received prior to October 4.

The Turf. Provider, Charlottetown, will start in the Fredericton races to-day.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

The Richmond Street Box Drain Ordered Closed. All the members were present at the meeting of the Board of Health held last night. Mayor Dawson, President of the Board, presided.

The following letter from Dr. Richard Johnson, the Health Officer, who was present, was read: W. E. Dawson, Esq., Mayor, Chairman Board of Health.

Sir,—In compliance with the request of your Board, as contained in a resolution passed at its meeting held August 28th last, that I should visit the several houses situated on that part of Richmond Street known as the Cut Street, with the object of making investigation regarding drainage, and of reporting thereon to your Board, I beg to report as follows:—

1. On Friday, August 30th last, I inspected each of the houses and yards in the district mentioned, and ascertained that there are no underground drains from any of them connecting with the street drain, excepting those from the premises of Mr. Campbell, as mentioned in my report of August 28th last.

2. On Tuesday last, in company with the Sanitary Officer and City Surveyor, I made a general inspection of the course and condition of the street drains connecting with those on the Cut Street at its junction with Rochford Street. On this occasion I again witnessed the flushing of the drain on the north side of the Cut Street, and observed the washing out of some seaweed and a considerable quantity of black mud.

3. By a paper dated Sept. 4, 1895, I reported to the Board of Health regarding several drains in the city, among which were the sewer from the jail emptying on the shore at the foot of the Cut Street, also the drain known as the Davison drain emptying on the shore at the foot of West Street, I beg to refer your Board to that report and to the diagrams affixed thereto, for fuller information regarding these drains. At the time of my examination as now reported upon, nothing offensive was seen to pass from either of them, and I am informed by the Sanitary Officer that the jail sewer is not now used (as it formerly was) in connection with the water closet, but only to convey kitchen and other slops.

4. After what I deem to be a sufficiently full enquiry into the matter, I have to recommend as being, under the circumstances, the best practicable method of immediately abating the nuisance, and of improving the sanitary condition of this district, that your Board shall order as follows:—

(a) That the drain on the north side of the Cut Street be solidly filled in with fresh earth throughout its entire extent. (b) That the drain on the west side of Rochford Street be extended across the Cut Street so as to properly connect with the drain on the south side of the latter street. (c) That the jail drain be extended to the end of the breastwork on the south side of the Cut Street, and that the drain be thoroughly flushed fortnightly during hot weather, the best time for each flushing being at the commencement of the flux of the tide. (d) That Mr. Campbell be allowed to lay an iron pipe drain across the Cut Street so as to properly connect the drain from his gangway with the jail drain subject to the same conditions and limitations as above referred to. The diagram affixed hereto is intended to show what will be the course of the drains if the recommendations now made be carried into effect. Respectfully submitted, RICHARD JOHNSON, Health Officer.
