Flag Committee Members Named

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson and Opposition Leader Diefenbaker should take a vow of silence on the flag issue, they were told in the Commons by T.C. Douglas, New Democratic leader.

Mr. Pearson agreed to the suggestion, although before it went into effect he took a couple of verbal jabs at Mr. Diefenbaker which were loudly applauded by his followers.

Mr. Diefenbaker kept silent in the Commons on the subject but told reporters later that Mr. Douglas should first apply a moratorium on talk to himself.

Then, noting Mr. Pearson's acceptance of the moratorium idea, he punned that the prime minister "has turned the flag committee into the mortuary for Liberal hopes."

MEMBERS NAMED

Meanwhile, all members of the committee were named.

Liberals—Herman M. Batten, chairman of Commons committee, Humber - St. George's, Nfld.; Jean-Eudes Dube, Restigouche-Madawaska, N.B.; Leo Cadieux, Terrebonne, Que.; Joe Macaluso, Hamilton West and John R. Matheson, Leeds, Ont.; Mrs. Margaret Konantz, Winnipeg South, Man.; and Grant Deachman, Vancouver Quadra, B.C.

Conservatives — Hugh John Flemming, Victoria - Carleton, N.B.; Theogene Ricard, St. Hyacinthe-Bagot, Que.; J. Waldo Monteith, Perth, Ont.; Reynold Rapp, Hamboldt - Melfort - Tisdale, Sask.; and David Pugh, Okanagan - Boundary, B.C.

From the three smaller parties—Reid Scott (NDP—Toronto Danforth) and Quebecers Marcel Lessard (SC—Lac St. Jean) and Raymond Langlois (Creditiste—Megantic).

Halifax Is Given Outline Of $35 Million Development

By FRANK SULLIVAN

HALIFAX (CP) — A British investment company has presented its revised outline to the city for the first and second phases of the $35,000,000 Cornwallis Centre development.

Basically the plan calls for two apartment towers, 22 storeys each, and a commercial development involving a three-level foyer topped by a 22-storey office building.

If city council accepts the proposal by Provinces and Central Properties Ltd., of Woking, England, excavation could begin before the end of this year for the two apartment towers, said Derrick J. Osborn, managing director of the firm.

Cornwallis Centre is unique in Canada in that it was born as a result of the city's slum-clearing efforts over about 19 acres of the downtown area sloping toward Halifax harbor.

99-YEAR LEASE

The British investors would hold a 99-year lease on the land valued at $3,000,000.

Mr. Osborn told a press conference that Cornwallis Centre "will further promote and engender development" in the downtown area and "we know it is going to be built."

The British investors became interested in the project when the city made it known more than two years ago it was interested in developing the former section on an enormous scale.

Tuesday was deadline of an eight-week extension of the date by which company sketch plans were to be submitted to the city. Aldermen gave Provinces and Central until Oct. 15 to complete financial arrangements and other details.

Start of the commercial development, phase two, would likely begin in June, 1965, with completion scheduled for June, 1967. It would provide about 600,000 square feet of retail space.

Provinces and Central was formed specifically to carry through the Cornwallis Centre proposal, Mr. Osborn said.

NAMED CONTRACTOR

E. G. M. Cape Company of Montreal has been named as prime contractor.

Cornwallis Centre with its apartment towers, shopping malls, restaurants, entertainment facilities, underground parking and landscaped grounds has been considered by Provincial and Central as a long - term investment, Mr. Osborn said.

To the city's already apartment - building boom it adds 408 units—204 in each tower. About 60 per cent of the units would be two-bedroom, about 40 per cent one-bedroom.

Students Reject Split In Union

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Union of Students have voted 25-1 to reject a Laval University resolution that the union dissolve itself and reform into parallel French and English operations.

This action is expected to induce the withdrawal of Laval, last of the French - language Quebec universities in the union.

The university's student council voted Friday night to withdraw if its resolution was defeated.

The resolution also proposed that the CUS recognize the Quebec Union Generale des Etudiants du Quebec (Quebec General Union of Students) as representational of students in that province and establish in the parallel unions "an office of Canadian affairs to assure the practical collaboration necessary among all the students of Canada."

Banks Fails To Appear

MONTREAL (CP) — Hal Banks stayed in hiding Tuesday.

He wasn't on hand as his appeal of a five-year sentence for conspiracy to beat up a rival union leader was dismissed.

At the same time, a bench warrant was issued for the deposed leader of the Seafarers International Union (Intl.) because he failed to appear on his trial on another charge.

When the 56-year-old Banks did not appear for his appeals case, the Crown took steps to grab his $25,000 bail which had been put up by Charles B. Goldfarb of Birmingham, Mich., who described himself as a "friend."

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	3 ♥	3 ♥	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	6 ♠

The bidding — Opening lead — king of hearts.

Long shots sometimes pay off, as any horse player will tell you, and this is just as true at the bridge table as at the race track.

South became declarer at six spades on the bidding shown. This was certainly not a good slam to be in, but South had a chance to make the contract and muffled it in the play.

West led the king of hearts. Declarer took it with the ace and decided that he could not make the hand unless he could establish the clubs by finding the suit divided 3-3.

In line with this, he cashed the ace of spades and then continued with the A-K of clubs, planning to ruff the next round of clubs in the hope of establishing the suit. But West ruffed the king of clubs, cashed the queen of hearts, and then led a diamond to defeat the slam two tricks.

Actually, South's method of play was entirely sound except that he should first have cashed two rounds of trumps instead of one. No harm could come from drawing the opponents' last trump.

When he then cashed the A-K of clubs and learned of the 5-3 break, he would still have had another chance to fall back on. In the actual case, this slim chance would have materialized. A low diamond from dummy at trick six would have done the job.

East's play on this trick would not matter. If he took the ace to prevent the singleton jack from winning, South would make the rest of the tricks regardless of which suit East chose to return. Declarer's two heart losers would go off on the K-Q of diamonds.

If East elected to play low on the three of diamonds, the jack would win and South would then make the contract by giving up a heart trick, since the third heart could be ruffed in dummy.

South started off on the right foot, but he later stumbled in the play.

South Viet Nam Forces Officers To Get Shakeup

By NICHOLAS TURNER

SAIGON (Reuters) — The rulers of South Viet Nam have agreed on a major shake-up of commands in the armed forces, including removal of Maj-Gen. Duong Van Duc who led troops into the capital for Sunday's abortive attempt to overthrow the Khanh government.

Political informants said Premier Nguyen Khanh also was working on a major cabinet reshuffle. Deputy Premier Nguyen Khanh Oanh was expected to be removed from office.

Khanh was reported to have asked Oanh Monday what authority he had had to call a cabinet meeting at the premiers office Sunday when it was occupied by rebel forces.

Khanh was not in Saigon at the time and the cabinet ministers did not obey Oanh's summons.

DUC MEETS KHANH

Duc, who was replaced as commander of the 4th Corps, covering the vital Mekong Delta area, by Brig. Nguyen Van Thieu, former chief of staff, met Khanh at military headquarters Tuesday.

The contents of the conversation were not immediately known, but reports indicated Duc had apparently been caught up unknowingly in Sunday's coup attempt.

HUNT GUNMAN-KIDNAPPER

LONDON (Reuters) — Police throughout northern England are hunting a gunman who kidnapped two teen-age girls and held one hostage in a truck while he sent the other to rob a bank. When the first girl got in the bank, at Cross Hills, Yorkshire, she told a clerk what had happened and he telephoned the police. Ann Caton, 18, and her friend, Dale Kinder, 17, who was held hostage, gave police a full description of the man.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
