Men's Association Of Montague Play Hosts To Charlottetown Group

On Wednesday evening last, the Men's Association of Montague were at home to the Men's Association of Trinity Church, Charlottetown, with 45 members of the Charlottetown group making the trip.

Over one hundred sat down to dinner in the new quarters which were specially decorated for the occasion. On the wall was a large sign, reading, "Welcome, Charlottetown," and the ladies of the church served what the visitors acclaimed an outstanding dinner.

The new hall, known as the A. D. MacKenzie Hall in honor of the popular pastor who encouraged its building, is a direct result of a meeting held on December 9, 1949. At that time Rev. MacKenzie, D.D., pastor of Trinity United Church, Montague, held an open meeting in the church which 35 men of the congregation attended.

Mr. John MacNair, Charlottetown, addressed the meeting on the desirability of a Men's Association, emphasizing the wonderful help they could be to the church, and what a wonderful help the church could be to the men. At the conclusion of the address it was decided on motion to organize a Men's Association.

At that time there were no facilities within the church to hold supper meetings and entertainment, so the Association decided they would go to work and build an annex to the church which would not only fill their needs but would also be a credit to the United Church and to the up and coming Town of Montague.

Headed by their dynamic pastor they went to work with a will, with the result that the annex was completed late last fall.

The new hall in which the Association hold their supper meetings is also used for concerts, entertainments, etc. Basket ball and badminton are also played there. Adjoining the hall is a spacious kitchen, also the choir room and pastor's vestry.

At the conclusion of the Wednesday supper meeting the very efficient and popular president of the Montague group, Mr. Lorne Wigginton, welcomed the Charlottetown delegation and short addresses were heard from Messrs. John A. MacNair, Fulton Pierce and Percy W. Turner of Charlottetown, and Dr. A. D. MacKenzie of Montague. This was followed by a rousing sing-song led by Mr. Milton Barkhouse with Frank Johnston at the piano. Songs chosen were very timely and included "My Wild Irish Rose", "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and "Over in Killarney."

Master Donald MacKenzie then appeared on the stage dressed in full Irish costume and in his beautiful soprano voice sang two Irish melodies. Accompanist was Mr. Frank Johnston. Curtains then opened displaying the setting for the one act comedy, "She Married Well", which was enacted to the constant enjoyment of the large audience. Cast of the play included Mrs. Cyrus Shaw, Mrs. MacLean, Miss Jenkins, Dr. L. A. Johnston, Archie Hickey and Johnnie White.

To raise money for the building fund some forty-five beautiful cakes, baked by the ladies of the church were put up for auction and a large sum was realized. The auctioneers who did a splendid job were Messrs. Archie Llewellyn and Wigginton.

CLIPSTONE, Nottinghamshire, England—(CP)—The Coal Board sent a bill to a local cemetery for 11 pence (about 14 cents). By the time the postage and other charges had been met the board lost money on the deal.

He then went on to speak about music, saying it was one of the means of expression and in the earlier ages imitated the sounds of nature. But soon instruments were found to duplicate these sounds.

and music was an all around in the youngsters who would profit the most through possessing it. Dr. Inman concluded by thanking all the contestants, who so willingly participated, parents, and all who in any way helped make this amateur cavalcade such a success, also the feed company, which made it possible.

While awaiting the judge's decision a lively sing-song was enjoyed by both young and old, with Miss Peggy Beck as piano accompanist, and Mrs. Ralph Beck leading the singing. Mr. E. Jessome then awarded the prizes to the winners. "The King" brought a very enjoyable evening to a close.

home as the service station to go to for repairs. The only real homes you ever see are those made by a man and woman working together, shoulder to shoulder, and putting their backs and their hearts into the job.

TRANQUILITY ESSENTIAL It takes peace to make a home. It must be a place of serenity and quiet, a snug harbor in which the members of a family may drop anchor after the storms of the day. Its tranquility must be so impregnable that the worries of life beat up against it, but break away from its door.

The house that is filled with bickering and strife and quarrelling, where the husband and wife are at each other's throats and the children fight like cats and dogs, where the daily spat is as much a part of the breakfast regime as the coffee and where nobody can make even the most innocent remark without starting something is not a home. It is a madhouse.

It takes cheerfulness to make a home. There must be laughter and gaiety and music and dancing in it. Its inmates must turn a smiling face on life, no matter how it buffets them. They must have learned how to make the best of the things they have and not grouse over their disappointments. They must have learned how to tell a funny story instead of a tale of woe.

There are houses which you dread to enter because the air is always filled with gloom and where all that you hear are lamentations and postmortems over dead and gone sorrows, and you turn from them thankfully to enter the homes that are really homes, where the atmosphere is so surcharged with sunshine that you go away feeling that God is in His Heaven and all's right with the world.

It is a big job making a home. And the finest there is. Only a few men and women know how to do it.
