

NOMINATED IN 2nd KINGS

Leo F. Rossiter (left), a merchant in Morell, and Walter Dingwell of Maric, were nominated as Conservative candidates for the Second District Kings at a P.C. convention held in Morell Thursday night. Neither candidate was opposed. Mr. Rossiter will seek a return to the district's Council seat. Mr. Dingwell will seek election as assemblyman.

RCMP Officers Crack Down On Discourteous Drivers

Drivers on the provincial highways are being asked to show a little more courtesy and as a result RCMP officers have cracked down somewhat on some of the more minor but irksome violations.

A Hopefield man felt the initial blow in County Magistrate's Court yesterday when he appeared on a charge of failing to dim his headlights to an oncoming vehicle.

The incident took place on September 29th on the Trans-Canada Highway near the intersection to the Malpeque Road. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $5 and costs or five days.

One of the Vernon River men appeared on a second charge, that of operating a vehicle with defective equipment. He was fined $5 and costs or five days.

Similar offences drew residents of Allen Street, in Charlottetown and Nine Mile Creek. Both were fined $5 and costs or five days.

Speeding fines of $10 and costs or 10 days were handed out to residents of Fredericton and Fort Augustus while a similar fine was meted out to a Village Green man when he pleaded guilty to allowing an unlicensed person to operate his vehicle.

The case against a Bristol man charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, was adjourned by Magistrate Gaudet for consideration to October 17th. Evidence for the crown was completed at the last hearing and defence counsel did not wish to introduce any further witnesses.

Several complaints were registered by irate motorists and the local RCMP officers are continuing to crack down on the violators.

Six drivers appeared before Magistrate K.M. Martin on Friday.

Less U.S. Opinion Opposes Red China In U.N. Says Poll

BY CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

While Canada, through its Minister of Foreign Affairs, Mr. Sidney Smith, backs the U.S. in its proposal to keep the explosive issue of Chinese representation in the United Nations off the agenda for this General Assembly, the nation itself is in a strange position.

One-half of the voting public has the wrong impression that Red China now has a seat on the U.N. or doesn't know what the facts are.

Among the other "informed" half, a solid majority are in favour of inclusion of Red China as a member of the United Nations.

Today, 57 per cent of the people who know that Communist China does not have a seat in the U.N. would approve its representation. This general approval among the "informed" is considerably higher than it was four years ago.

But while approval for the inclusion of Red China has increased to a point where 57 per cent of the "informed" want to see it accomplished, there is still a very large area of ignorance in the public mind as to just what the situation is. Today more than half, or 52 per cent, among adults Canadians think that Red China is now a member of the U.N. or don't know what the situation is.

Today's first question put to an accurate cross-section of the voting public was this:

"DO YOU HAPPEN TO KNOW WHETHER COMMUNIST CHINA HAS, OR HAS NOT A SEAT IN THE UNITED NATIONS?"

Has a seat 11%
Has not 48%
Don't know 41%

100%

That segment of the population which knows that Red China has no membership within the U.N.—almost half the adults—were asked a second question:

"DO YOU THINK COMMUNIST CHINA SHOULD OR SHOULD NOT BE GIVEN A SEAT IN THE UNITED NATIONS?"

Should have a seat 57%
Should not 34%

100%

As in previous studies taken by the Gallup Poll, Westerners are the most likely to approve membership of Red China. Almost 7 in 10, in the West, believe this should happen, compared to little more than 4 in 10 in Quebec province. So clear-cut is public opinion in the West that only six citizens in every 100 cannot give an opinion.

View-point in each of the four regions, shows this variation in thinking.

Should Have a Seat Not Know

Maritimes 54% 35% 11%
Quebec 42 44 14
Ontario 60 32 8
The West 68 26 6

In 1954 the Gallup Poll conducted a similar study, although question wording was not identical. At that time, those Canadians who knew that Red China was not represented in the U.N. were asked whether they would approve a membership for this nation. The decisive increase in approval today is reflected in the fact that four years ago more Canadians disapproved than approved. Today the situation is reversed. Here is the 1954 national attitude.

Would approve seat for Red China 37%
Would not approve 51%
No opinion 12%

Total "Informed" 100%

Originally timed to the anniversary of the great Chicago fire Oct. 8, 1871, fire prevention week has been proclaimed by royal proclamation in Canada and by the president of the United States since 1922.

A fire prevention day was first observed in Nova Scotia, Ontario and Saskatchewan and in 1919 a national royal proclamation was issued for the day.

Next week's observance carries with it a grim record from last year when there were 640 deaths by fire throughout Canada and a direct property loss of $134,700,000. Both figures were records.

Waste and loss through forest fires is enormous and Canada has a force of 27,000 fire fighters, professional and volunteers.

Fire fighting officials say that of every 10 fires, nine are the result of carelessness and thoughtless neglect of the simplest precautions.

"Don't give fire a place to start," is the slogan for fire prevention week.

Ch'town Police Crackdown On Dog Owners

Four dog owners were summoned to Police Court in Charlottetown Friday as City Police began a crackdown on owners who have not yet obtained licences for their dogs.

The four had to pay, in addition to the cost of the licences, court costs as well.

Police Chief C. W. MacArthur said that five more dog owners will receive summonses today and five more Monday and this method of collection will be continued until all taxes have been paid.

Kinsmen Ask "Immediate" Flouridation

The Charlottetown Kinsmen Club came out strongly in favor of fluoridation of the City's water supply at a meeting held at the Charlottetown Hotel this week.

A motion passed urged immediate fluoridation and a letter to that effect was sent to the Commission of Sewers and Water Supply.

The Kinsmen also approved plans to sponsor another "Kinsmen Gasorama" which will be held November 1-2. Tickets will be sold to the general public with all proceeds to go towards Kinsmen service work.

Past presidents of the club were honoured at this meeting. Ten past presidents were present. Past president Joe Sheffon chaired the meeting with past president Percy MacDonald acting as co-chairman.

Six Appear At Police Court

A drunk and disorderly, four drunk and incapable and one traffic violator comprised the docket at City Police Court before Magistrate K. M. Martin Friday morning.

A Euston Street man appearing on the drunk and disorderly charge was given a 20-day suspended sentence.

Remands on drunk and incapable charges were given a Sydney Street man and a City man of no fixed address. The former was remanded to October 7th and the latter for one week.

Residents of Upper Queen Street and Newton Cross were fined $10 and costs or five days on drunk and incapable charges.

An Edward Street resident was fined $2 without costs for travelling the wrong way on a one-way street.
