Chinese Bomb

Testing Site Is Pinned

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson has pinpointed the site of China's nuclear test explosion as "near a lake called Lop Nor in the Takla Makan desert of the remote Central Asian province of Sinkiang."

He said the site had been known to American intelligence for several years and added: "In recent weeks the rapid pace of work there gave us a clear signal that the long and bitter efforts of this regime were leading at last to a nuclear test."

China exploded its first nuclear test last Friday.

The president made his statement in a radio-televised address on the international situation.

His description places the test site in China's westernmost and least developed province near the border of the Soviet Union.
