

MAPUS

MAPUS held their regular monthly meeting Monday, Jan. 20, at 5:30 p.m. despite the fog and little announcement.

Committee reports on workshops, badminton, and MAPUS-Student Union committee meetings were discussed.

MAPUS and Student Union committees have met several times to discuss priorities and iron out items affecting MAPUS over the Student Union Constitutional amendments.

Vivian Dykerman, Student Council rep. Jackie Schofield, and Olive Bryanton attended two recent Student Council meetings to present Constitutional amendment items affecting MAPUS and a proposed budget.

A questionnaire is presently being organized by MAPUS for the part-time student to find out the needs for night courses of degree-seeking individuals.

Elections will be coming up the second Wednesday in March. We are looking for people to run for the executive positions, SU rep. and, for the first time, a Senate representative.

The best learning experience of your life is being involved with your student association. So, get a nomination sheet available in the MAPUS Lounge or call Olive at 566-3388 days, 675-3357 evenings or Vivian at 894-4604.

Major things are coming up, our constitution is going to be revised and a Part-Time student fee structure is being organized.

All Part-Time students and mature full-time students, are eligible to vote or be nominated.

This is a very important election as we now have for the first time a seat in the Senate.

Baha'i

The current afflictions in today's society seems to have caused mankind to respond in one of two fashions, one is aggression; the other apathy. Aggression here is meant to be understood in the context of the battle that is waged when a desire or belief is not met, and apathy as fleeing away or hiding from the problem. These two responses are related to stress. They serve as an outlet for anxiety an anxiety which has a multitude of causes, which at the same time may be seen as a form of oppression. Perhaps one cause of this anxiety is that mankind, with all of its knowledge and potential appears to be stagnant and oppressed.

The Baha'i Faith, although acknowledging these afflictions and problems sees these tests and trials as necessary in order for mankind to develop. As a human being goes through stages in life, mankind goes through stages. Each of these stages brings us to a new one, stronger and more prepared.

The Baha'i Faith recognizes this principle of progression is also true of the Prophets of God. The Prophets, although differing in name, time, and location have each revealed a new message depending upon the capacity of the people in Their time. Baha's believes that Baha'u'llah is the latest Messenger whose message is nothing short of the organic unity of humanity. With this progression also comes the belief that Each Prophet served as importantly as the Others. Baha's believe that this progression will continue and that the next Messenger will reveal Himself in 1000 years.

World Religion Day at U.P.E.I. by Ritchie Rolfe

On Jan. 20, World Religion Day was commemorated at UPEI. Four world religions were represented by the following people: Dr. Al. (prof. economics) spoke on Islam, Dr. Maddan (prof. physics) on Hinduism, Sister Alma MacLellan (chaplain at UPEI) on Christianity, and Nadim Missaghian (3rd yr. student) on the Baha'i Faith.

Robert Donnelly, a former professor at UPEI, chaired the event. He opened by giving a brief history of World Religion Day and its purpose as a means whereby the various religions of the world may look more at the similarities they share rather than the differences. He took excerpts from a speech given by the Prime Minister of Sri Lanka, R. Premadasa, who was a key-note speaker at last years World Religion Day celebration there. Sri Lanka officially recognizes the 3rd Sunday in January as World Religion Day.

The program consisted of each speaker giving a 10 minute account of their respective Faiths which was then followed by a question period in which the audience was allowed to direct questions to the speakers. Mr. Donnelly then closed the event with a prayer for mankind. This was organized by the Association for Baha'i Studies at UPEI.
