

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

By Thornton W. Burgess

BLACKY FINDS OUT FOR SURE

The well not all folks think alike. And what some love, still more dislike.

—Old Mother Nature.

Hooty the Owl had said he thought it was going to snow. He wasn't mistaken. Presently fine grains of snow came striding through the Green Forest...

would rather have an old nest built by someone else, than go to the trouble of building a nest for themselves. It was late afternoon when the snow began to fall. It fell steadily the rest of the afternoon...

black wings and started out. He flew low above the treetops. He flew low so that those sharp eyes of his wouldn't miss anything below that he could possibly eat.

He flew high. You see, he was playing safe. He flew high enough to feel sure that if those Owls were in the neighborhood, they would not be likely to see him.

Blacky's eyes are sharp. They are very sharp indeed. If they were not, Blacky would have a much harder time than he does getting food, and he has a hard enough time as it is especially in winter.

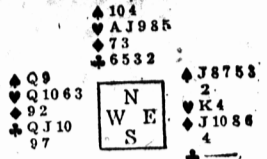

Contract Bridge

By Josephine Cluerton

REDOUBTABLE DEFENSE

West's shrewd defensive maneuver in the following hand proved a little too much for the declarer.

South dealer. Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding: South 2♣, West 2♥, North 2♠, East 2NT. South 3♣, West 3♥, North 3♠, East 3NT.

No one can deny that the six-plus honor-tricks (or 23 high-card points) constitute a strong hand, but South was nevertheless on questionable ground when he started with two diamonds.

West opened the club queen, and East discarded a low spade. South won, and when he counted tricks he saw that two hearts would be required to fulfill the contract.

South's dilemma is obvious. He had to duck dummy at this point, and when he made his second heart lead, how could he possibly tell that East now had the blank king?

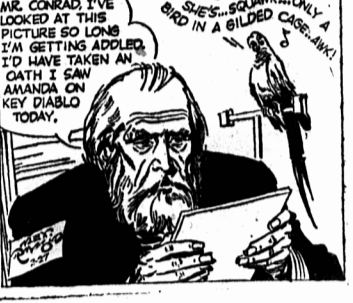

South's dilemma is obvious. He had to duck dummy at this point, and when he made his second heart lead, how could he possibly tell that East now had the blank king?

SOUTHAMPTON, England (CP)—University of Southampton students erected a 60-foot banner on top of the town's 280-foot clock tower. It took workmen nearly two hours to dispose of the banner.

King Of The Royal Mounted

Rip Kirby

By Alex Raymond

EDUCATION WEEK (MARCH 1-7)

RADIO BROADCASTS OVER CFXY—CHARLOTTETOWN

- MONDAY, MARCH 2—1:15 P.M.—Dr. L. W. Shaw, Deputy Minister of Education for P.E.I.
TUESDAY, MARCH 3—1:00 P.M.—Dr. R. G. Lea, Chairman, Charlottetown School Board.
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4—7:00 P.M.—Mr. Kenneth Parker, Supervisor of Ch'town Public Schools.
THURSDAY, MARCH 5—1:00 P.M.—Mrs. Wallace Scantlebury, Secretary-Treasurer of P. E. I. Home and School Association.
FRIDAY, MARCH 6—8:30 P.M.—Dr. Frank MacKinnon, Principal of Prince of Wales College.

Listen in also to a CBC Maritime Broadcast by Mr. Malcolm MacKenzie, Chief Supervisor of Schools for P. E. I.—Wednesday, March 4, CBA (7:15 P.M. and 8:30 P.M. CFXY). Subject: "WHAT IS RIGHT WITH OUR SCHOOLS?"

NOTICE

On November 17, 1952, the Minister of Industry and Natural Resources declared an open season on Beavers. Notice is hereby given that this open season shall expire on Saturday, February 28, 1953.

As from this date it shall be illegal to trap or shoot Beavers within the Province except in such cases where a special permit has been issued to a resident on whose property beavers are causing damage by flooding.

DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRY AND NATURAL RESOURCES

Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, February 18, 1953.

Li'l Abner

By Al Capp

Tilly The Toiler

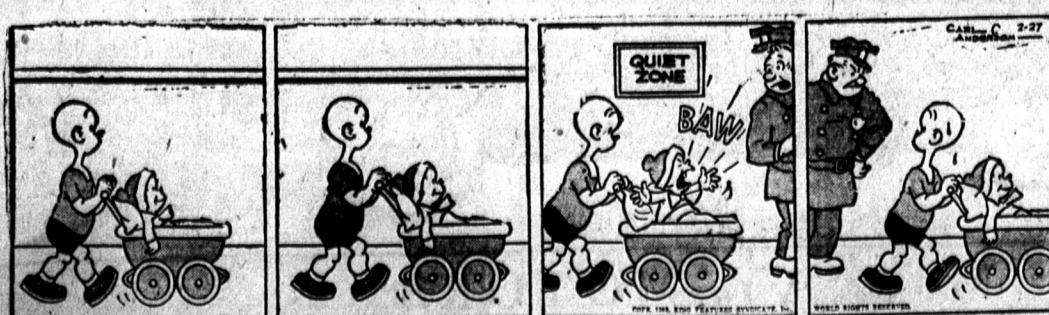

By Bob Gustafson

Dotty Dripple

By Ruford

Henry

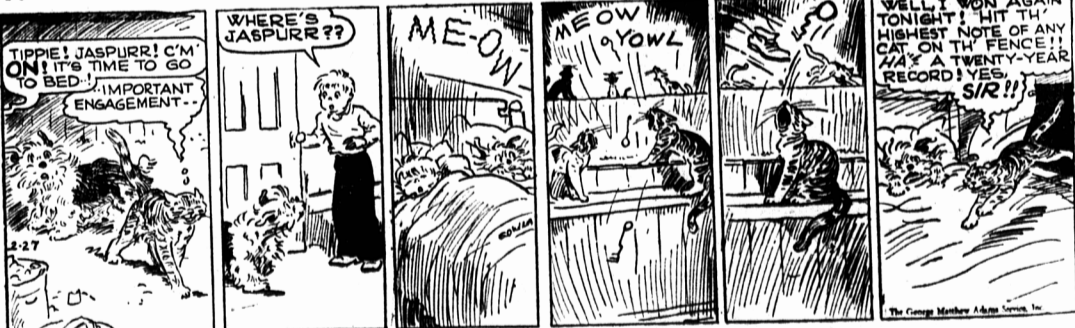

By Carl Anderson

Pogo

By Walt Kelly

Tippy and "Cap" Stubs

By Edwin

Bringing Up Father

By George McManus

PENNY

By Harry Hoenigsen