Nasser Offer 'Meaningless'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) An Israeli delegate Thursday described as meaningless an offer by President Nasser of the United Arab Republic to carry out all UN resolutions on Palestine if Israel would do likewise.

Minister Yosef Tekoah, Israel's acting permanent representative, told a reporter, "what he says has no more meaning than their talk of peace while continuing to wage war against Israel."

Nasser made the offer in an interview in Cairo.

In speaking of the U.A.R., Tekoah used the name of Egypt, which joined with Syria in 1958 to form the United Republic.

"The implementation of United Nations resolutions by Egypt would require recognition of Israel's territorial integrity," he said.

"It would require immediate cessation of all hostile acts of war, whether on land or on sea or in the Suez Canal, and of incitement and propaganda against Israel, and the conclusion of a peace treaty. . ."

"It is not clear whether Nasser is proposing now that . . . Jordan should give up the territory of Palestine annexed by her and agree to the establishment of an independent Arab state within it."
