Dominion Drama Festival "Advanced" In Techniques

SHERBROOKE, Que. (CP)—Two Canadian plays, a 12-year-old boy and a young Australian woman received top awards in the week-long Dominion Drama Festival finals which ended here Saturday.

A trophy and a $1,000 prize for the best presentation was won by the University Alumnae Dramatic Club of Toronto with its performance of "Teach Me How to Cry," written by Patricia Joudry of Toronto.

The festival plaque for the best French presentation was won by La Compagnie de Montreal, which performed Les Insolites, by Montreal playwright Jacques Languiard, before Governor-General Massey and a closing Saturday night audience of more than 1,100.

12-YEAR-OLD BEST ACTOR
The Henry Osborne Challenge Trophy for the best actor went to Hank Vogelsang, 12, of the London Little Theatre for his part in Mrs. McThing, winner of the best English presentation plaque.

The youngest competitor in the festival, and one of the youngest ever to win the best-actor award, Hank was "the man of the future," said adjudicator Francoise Rossy, distinguished French actress.

Rosemarie Copland was awarded the Nella Jeffers Challenge Trophy for the best actress. Daughter of Australian high commissioner Sir Douglas Copland, 21-year-old Miss Copland appeared in the Ottawa Little Theatre, Inc., production of The Importance of Being Earnest. CHARLOTTETOWN IS WINNER

The Little Theatre Guild of Charlottetown won the Martha Allan Challenge Trophy for the best visual presentation. Jean Giddings of Charlottetown also won the Saturday Night plaque for her supporting role in Angel Street.

Robert Trudel of Le Cercle Moderne of St. Boniface, Man., was awarded the Saturday Night plaque as the best supporting actor in his role of an old man in Les Fourberies de Scapin.

The Louis Jovet Trophy for the best director was won by Ian Thorne for Darkness at Noon by the Vancouver Little Theatre Association.

Governor-General Massey presented the Calvert Trophy and prize to Eleanor Beecroft, a member of the Toronto cast. Eight other awards were presented by Mme. Rossy, who adjudicated the eight competing plays. The finals go to Edmonton next year.

Haymes Still Has Troubles

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Haymes is still having his troubles.

This time, he is unable to get permission from Actors Equity to appear in a Miami Beach, Fla., production of The Tender Trap scheduled to open June 2.

Haymes lost equity membership in 1953 for having falsely listed Santa Barbara, Calif., as his birthplace. He was born in Argentina.

Although equity sometimes permits aliens to appear in productions in the United States, particularly if they created a starring role in a show, Harding said the council did not feel Haymes made a sufficient case to justify an exception. Haymes has not previously performed in the comedy.

Haymes' request for membership was turned down because only U. S. citizens may belong to equity. He may be able to rejoin, Harding said, when he gains U. S. citizenship, expected in a few months.
