FEDERATION MEETING

Officials' Major Role Is Stressed By Speaker

SUMMERSIDE BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

"You as elected officials have a major role to play in our development plan for Prince Edward Island," said Thomas J. Flood, general manager of Industrial Enterprises Inc., addressing the luncheon meeting of the Federation of P.E.I. Mayors and municipalities here yesterday on the first day of its two-day annual meeting.

"The leadership and foresight you display can mean much to your individual communities and to the entire province," Mr. Flood continued. "Co-operation and co-ordination must be our keynote in every sector of life. Our resources may be less than some other provinces in many respects, but our basic resource is people. In that respect I know, even though I have been here only a short time, that our human resources are second to none.

"Those human resources may need a spark to get going. You as elected officials are the ones to provide the spark that will carry a sound program through to success. And that success I wish you most sincerely."

OPENING REMARKS

The meeting began yesterday morning with registration at 10, call to order and opening remarks by the president, Mayor Bruce H. Yeo of Montague, at 10.30, followed by a welcome to the town by Mayor George Key of Summerside.

MR. FLOOD

The treasurer's report at 11 was followed by the appointment of the nominating and resolutions committees. Appointed were: to the Nominating Committee, Mayor MacLean of Georgetown, chairman, Mayor Cox, Charlottetown, and Mayor Bell, Borden; to the Resolutions Committee, Mayor Key, Summerside, chairman, Mayor Leard, Alberton, J.A. Brophy, Summerside town manager, John Butler, city of Charlottetown comptroller, Councillor Alhol Robertson of Montague.

After this the resolutions proposed by municipalities were presented to the meeting secretary, John Cameron of Summerside, and the meeting broke off for lunch hour.

Mr. Flood spoke at the 12.30 luncheon, and was introduced by Mayor MacLean of Georgetown and thanked by Mayor Leard of Alberton.

TOUR OF TOWN

In the afternoon the visitors were taken on a tour of the town, including visits to Summerside Manor, the hospital for special care of the elderly, local schools and parks. There was an afternoon informal tea for the ladies.

Following the reading of the minutes from the semi-annual meeting of September 22, 1965, at the afternoon business session, it was suggested by Mayor Key that some ground rules be agreed upon by the meeting for negotiations between the municipalities and business firms concerning industrial development.

Mayor Key said he thought there should be a gentlemen's agreement between the municipalities on such matters as tax concessions to new industry, so that outside business firms could not approach the province with the idea of involving the municipalities in a sort of auction of tax concessions, with the town bidding the greatest concessions the winner.

CHAIRMAN

Mayor Cox then made the motion that the mayors of each municipality be appointed as a committee to study matters relating to New Industry, and to make representations to Industrial Enterprises Inc. The motion was seconded by Mayor Gilbert Bell of Borden and passed unanimously. A motion made by Mayor Key and seconded by Mayor Howard MacLean of Georgetown, that Mayor Cox be chairman pro-tem of this committee until its next meeting

WANTS PARKING SPACE

MONTREAL (CP) — The Gazette says the 1967 Montreal world's fair needs thousands more parking places within a reasonable distance of the exhibition site. It quotes an informed source as saying an Expo survey indicates that more than 200,000 persons a day will visit Expo on peak summer days, between 80 and 90 percent will come by car, and Expo's two-parking lots will have a capacity of only 24,000 cars.

Purebred Show Set For Today

Purebred dogs of various breeds will be on display at the exhibition grounds at the second sanction show sponsored by the Abegweit Kennel Club of Charlottetown. The show will get underway this afternoon and animals from the Island and from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia will be entered.

Gerald G. McCarthy of Saint John, N.B., a judge qualified on all breeds, will judge all the dogs entered. Ribbons will be awarded for the best of each breed, the best of each group to which the respective breeds are assigned, and for the best dog in the show, along with the best Canadian-bred puppy. The judging will commence promptly at 1.30 p.m. and continue until the "best in show" has been determined. The public is welcome to attend for a nominal charge, but children will be admitted only if accompanied by an adult. No dogs not entered in the show will be allowed entrance to the Coliseum.

PLAN CHAMPIONSHIP SHOW

This is the second sanction show sponsored by the local club. The first show was held on July 9 last, with Mayor Walter Cox presenting the ribbons and prizes. Under Canadian Kennel Club rules, a dog club must have the experience of two of these no-point sanction shows before qualifying to hold a regular dog show in which the points awarded count towards championships. The Abegweit Kennel Club plans its first championship dog show on an all breeds basis for early June, 1967, when it hopes to join the regular circuit of Maritime dog shows in which dogs from Ontario, Quebec and the United States regularly are entered, travelling from city to city with their owners or handlers.

Saskatoon's Former Mayor Speaks At Annual Meeting

SUMMERSIDE — Sydney Buckwald, former mayor of Saskatoon and member of the National Conference, Centennial Committee, told the Federation of Prince Edward Island Municipalities at their ninth annual meeting yesterday that the year 1967 was being observed as a giant nation-wide birthday party.

"If we weren't celebrating the centennial," he commented, "we would have to invent one" because of its tremendous unifying force in the nation, and he stated that this was the real purpose of the centennial celebrations.

He said that lessons could be learned from history when the nation was being formed when men of different backgrounds and political forces got together to overcome regional differences and unite under one nation.

He said that this example of "burying the hatchet" should have been caught up by our present political leaders.

The Canadian Centennial Commission, he said, reported over 2,000 centennial projects underway for 1967. Among them were a centennial train with 15 cars going across Canada so that Canadians could become "personally involved" in their heritage. The train would leave Vancouver January 9, 1967, and be on the Island in Charlottetown and Summerside near the last week of October.

MOTOR CARAVAN

Besides this there is a motor caravan, Mr. Buckwald told the two-day meet, youth travel program with 10,000 Canadians participating, centennial voyage canoe project, travelling historic route through Canada by canoe, centennial athletic program, community improvement.

He singled out the church program, set up by the inter-faith council. There were 24 religious faiths involved in this part of the "birthday party" he said, giving spiritual values to the celebrations.

He listed about 21 projects of nation-wide interest.

In conclusion, Mr. Buckwald stated that his hope is that Canadians in the centennial year will "feel the call of greatness".

He was introduced by Mayor Cox of Charlottetown and thanked by Mayor Gilbert Bell of Borden. The dinner-address was chaired by Summerside Mayor George Key, Jr.

ger will be submitted to the monopolies commission for investigation.

Under the 1965 Monopolies Act, any newspaper merger involving a proprietor whose newspapers average more than 500,000 copies a day must be approved by the board. The board cannot act without a monopolies investigation which should be completed in three months "unless there are special reasons for delay."

Thomson, Toronto-born son of a barber of Scottish descent, started his career as a press magnate by purchasing the shares of a shaky weekly newspaper in Timmins, Ont., in 1934.

Today he owns more than 100 newspapers, more than 100 magazines and several radio and television stations in Britain, North America, Africa and the Caribbean.

DOES NOT EDIT PAPERS

"Everyone thinks he can edit a newspaper," he once said. "Only a fool would try to edit 100." But Thomson, who was never in a newspaper office before he was 40, does not edit newspapers—he owns them.

He once estimated his income at around $20,000,000 a year before taxes.

Stocky, with a cheerful round face and thick spectacles, he has described his favorite reading as balance sheets. London newspapers have described him as "a genial and ebullient teddy bear" and "the Henry Ford of Journalism."

After making a spectacular rise to the ownership of a newspaper empire in Canada, Thomson moved to Britain in 1953, buying an interest in the famous Edinburgh newspaper, The Scotsman.

Three years later he became chairman of Scottish Television. When the commercial TV boom hit Britain he described his holding as a "licence to print your own money."

The big break into British publishing came in July, 1959, when he paid £11,250,000 for the giant British Kemsley group, including his greatest pride up to now—The Sunday Times.

For the last 10 years he has been in charge of the CNR's day-to-day operations. During that period the company's staff was cut to just under 90,000 from 125,000 through modernization and normal attrition.

Mr. Gordon was born at Old Meldrum, Scotland, in 1901 and his family moved to Toronto in 1914.

After selling newspapers and working in a box factory at $1 a day, he rose fast in the Bank of Nova Scotia and took a correspondence course in economics.

Labor Sees Threat From New Plants

HALIFAX (CP) Labor will be "strangled" within 20 years in provinces where it has become the practice to bargain with outside industrial concerns for new industries, the president of the New Brunswick Federation of Labor said here.

John F. MacMillan said in an interview that tempting new industries to low-wage areas like the Maritimes could only worsen these areas.

Earlier in a speech before the 11th annual convention of the Nova Scotia Federation of Labor, Mr. MacMillan called for a unification of the four Atlantic federations.

"We can no longer operate as separate entities."

He said there was an immediate need for highly-qualified technical research office for organized labor in the Atlantic area either sponsored completely by the four federations or jointly with the Canadian Labor Congress. It was necessary for statistical material to be available to all federation members and their affiliates.

Mr. MacMillan urged a re-assessment of the value of labor federations, with a view to providing better services to members.
