

WHAT SHE DID WITH HIM.

Ruth Starling smiled through the tears that sparkled on her dimpled cheeks like dew-drops on the heart of a rose.

'I love Charley dearly, and I know he loves me; but his people are rich and proud, and would never consent to his marrying a poor seamstress. When his sister, Mrs. Howe—she's only his half-sister, you know—found it out she was angry enough, you may be sure. She waited until Charley left town, and then told me she didn't want me any longer, with lots of other things a good deal more disagreeable to her. I heard of your Aunt Polly's death, and thought that I would come and stay with you a few weeks. All the families are out of town now that would be likely to give me employment.'

Mary Delevan's kind heart was touched by the timid, depreciating look in the soft, dark eyes that were lifted to hers.

'I'm so glad you've come, dear. I've been very lonely since aunt died. I don't mean to let you go away very soon, either. You know I always said that you should live with me when I was married. Only, I am not married yet.'

Ruth looked a little curiously at the face on whose sweet serenity there was now a touch of sadness.

'And what about that handsome young lawyer, Brockley, who was so attentive to you the last time I was here? It is not fair for you to keep me in ignorance when I have told you everything.'

'There is nothing to tell,' said Mary, with a smile and a sigh. 'Mr. Brockley was poor. Aunt Polly did not believe in love you know. She thought people ought not to marry unless they 'bettered their condition,' as she called it. Aunt was old and infirm and I could not leave her. My lover—if I can call him such—got tired of waiting, I suppose. At all events, he went away, and has married since, I have heard. Let us change the subject.'

The subject was pretty effectually changed by the entrance of Kitty, Mary's little housemaid, with a letter, whose contents threw her young mistress into a maze of perplexity an astonishment. They were as follow:

'Dear Madam:—You are hereby notified that you have been duly appointed executrix of the estates of Hester Cady, deceased, and guardian of her grand-nephew and heir.'

'You can have all necessary papers and information by calling at the office of North, Harding & Co., Counsellors-at-Law, 20 State st., S—'

'Can it be intended for me?' was Mary's wondering exclamation as she picked up the envelope, on which was written in a round, clerk hand: 'Miss Mary A. Delevan.'

'Such a queer letter!' she added in response to the wide open eyes of her companion, and tossing it into her lap.

'Goodness me!' exclaimed Ruth, as she made herself mistress of its contents. 'And who is Hester Cady?'

'She's an old friend of Aunt Polly's, I believe. I never saw her but once; why she should make me executrix, and guardian to a boy, is more than I know!'

'If it was only a girl, now; you can do most anything with girls,' smiled Ruth, in serene consciousness that girls were a higher order of beings. 'What will you do with him?'

'I've half a mind not to do anything with him!' responded Mary, in the same aggrieved tone and manner.

A Good Thing.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German Physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in Medicine. It quickly cures Coughs, Colds and all lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but has stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Beware of medicines of similar names, lately introduced. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 75 cents. Sample bottle, 10 cents.

A TRAGEDIAN'S SORE THROAT.—Edwin Booth, like most of his professional brethren, suffers frequently from severe inflammation of the throat, which prevents him occasionally from appearing on the stage. This theatrical sore throat is sometimes so serious that it actually drives an actor into private life. Booth, however, promptly stops the first symptom with Giles' Liniment Iodine Ammonia. Giles' Pills cure Chills and Fever. Sold by W. R. Watson. Send for pamphlet. Dr. Giles, 120 West Broadway, N. Y. Trial size 25 cents.

CLARK'S DIAMOND DUST POLISH.—Unrivalled for cleaning Gold, Silver and Nickel ware. Enquire for it.

SEMINARY FOR YOUNG LADIES.

VISITOR:

The Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia

PRINCIPAL:

The Rev. John Padfield.

THIS SCHOOL offers, at very moderate cost, the advantages of a comfortable and pleasant home together with a thorough and refined education.

The course of instruction is the same as that of the best Schools in England and is founded upon the University Examinations for Women. Eight young ladies from this School passed the Local Examination of the University of King's College in June last. This is the only School in Canada that has passed pupils at a University Examination.

The number of pupils is limited, rendering the School select, and while it possesses all the educational advantages of a large public school, each pupil is enabled to receive that individual care and oversight which is so important, and which cannot be given in a large establishment.

Mr. and Mrs. Padfield are assisted by a staff of four resident governesses, besides visiting masters.

Parisienne French is taught conversationally. There are two resident French Governesses.

References given to parents of pupils. For further particulars address the Principal.
