College Times Features Social Events, Sport

The latest issue of the College Times is a bright and optimistic number carrying a front page write-up of Social Highlights which features, in pictures, the King and Queen of the Campus, Ian MacLean and Dorothy Miller and the Prince and Princess, Alan MacKenzie and Janet Wood.

Sporting events are referred to especially the wins of the Boy's Basketball team and the Hockey Team which subdued Saskatchewan High School boys.

Satisfaction is expressed at the honour bestowed on the Council President Doug Cudmore by the Rotary Club of Charlottetown in choosing him to represent that organization at the "Adventure in Citizenship" assembly to be held in Ottawa.

The usual round-up of poetry, and other features plus a smattering of advertisements tend to make the issue quite interesting.

Electrical Hazards Sought In Survey Of City Wiring

Electricity can be and is a hidden and silent killer that is ever present in many Canadian homes. It is often the cause that takes a tragic toll of the lives of women and children, yet householders continue to give casual attention to the hazards that lie behind the proper use and installation of electrical equipment in the home.

For this and other reasons the Electrical Inspectors Department, under Mr. W. H. Poole, in conjunction with the Maritime Electric Company are conducting a survey of between four and five hundred homes and business establishments in the Charlottetown area. So far to date almost thirty per cent of the places visited it has been found that much of the electrical installations are far below standard requirements.

Many of them were wired five or more years ago, at a time when appliances included only a few items and in most cases did not require anywhere a great deal of power to operate. Consequently the original wiring is not of sufficient carrying capacity to handle the many and varied appliances of today.

Electric wire are like water-pipes, a half inch pipe will carry so much water and a wire is no different. Like the pipe it has a limit to its capacity. But a large number of Canadians are trying to cram a greatly increased amount of power through wiring that is 20, 30 or 40 years old.

In a nationwide survey it was found that a large percentage of all Canadian homes have skimpy wiring and the present team of surveyors is discovering many instances of this in the Charlottetown area. There is a difference, but not a great deal, between skimpiness and danger. The danger begins when the impatient householders, becoming cranky with the electrical system, seeks heavier fuses instead of the services of an electrician.

Mr. Poole said that a large number of the present fire hazards could be prevented, if the householders instead of trying to be the amateur electrician, shifting and adding to the permanent installations, would call on the services of a qualified tradesman. By doing this he would eventually save on time, worry and expense. Also if fuses frequently burn out don't try jangling pennies or tin foil under the old fuse, as this may easily cause the wiring to burn out between walls or floors. A fuse in an electrical system has the same function as a safety valve on a boiler, and is generally placed in a position where it is unlikely to cause damage.

Tuneful And Colourful "Mikado" Being Presented

"THE MIKADO", Gilbert and Sullivan's famous and much-loved musical comedy and stage show is playing on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings of this week at Prince of Wales College at 8.15. These performances are being given by the Prince of Wales Chorus under the capable and experienced direction of Miss E. Lillian MacKenzie. The first night will be attended by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Prowse, Premier and Mrs. A. W. Matheson, and Mayor J.D. and Mrs. Stewart, and the members of the Legislative Assembly and their wives.

"THE MIKADO" is one of the most colourful and delightful shows ever written; certainly it leads all musical comedies in melody and drama, and it has been tops in the entertainment field every year since it was written in 1885. One of the unique features of it is its world-wide popularity, for it is done in every country and every language, and its lively plot, uproarious wit, and human drama are loved by men, women and children everywhere.

The Prince of Wales College Chorus, a competent ensemble of 65 voices, will be supported by several excellent soloists and character actors who have given much study to the antics of the Emperor of Japan and his court. Malabar's, the famous costumers, have sent three trunksloads of colorful and authentic Japanese costumes which should make the show a spectacle long to be remembered. Bridget Doyle Carte, daughter of the original producer of Gilbert and Sullivan, has provided the stage directions and musical scores. An orchestra, and two pianos played by Mrs. G.E. Full and Mr. W.K. Rogers, will provide the accompaniment and play the brilliant and lively music. The Prince of Wales College stage has been doubled in length and specially arranged under the capable direction of Mr. R.G. White to accommodate the production, and magnificent oriental scenery and properties have been painted by Miss Eleanor Lowe.

Much talent, time, and work have gone into this production which has seen a splendid training for its participants. It is hoped that packed houses will support the show every night. For "The Mikado" is done in Charlottetown only once in a generation, and this is a real opportunity for all our citizens adults and children alike, to see the spectacle, enjoy the wit, and set their hearts to the gay and warming music, of this famous masterpiece.

Assures Doctors No Attempt To By-pass Interests

TORONTO (CP)—Health Minister Martin said Saturday the government has no intention of taking any action that would disregard doctors' "legitimate interests" or calculated to destroy the "essential traditions of medicine."

Mr. Martin was referring to national health insurance and said it will continue to be his policy to keep members of the medical profession informed of any new developments.

The minister made the statements in officially opening CMA House, the new national headquarters of the Canadian Medical Association.

He said the CMA has steadfastly adhered to the objectives that inspired its organization in 1867—the advancement of medical knowledge, promotion of health and prevention of disease and the maintenance of the integrity and honor of the medical profession.

HAS 10,500 MEMBERS
From a membership of 167, the CMA has grown into an organization of 10,500 members.

The first president, Dr. (later Sir) Charles F. Pupper, became prime minister of Canada. The present president, Dr. T. C. Routley, is also president of the British Medical Association.

Mr. Martin said no other profession than medicine has so timely attended the daily lives of Canadians. In the course of a year, some 6,000,000 persons reported physicians care, involving 24,000,000 doctors' calls or visits to clinics.

The statements were included in a text of a speech issued to the press before delivery.

Says Arms For Israel Will Stop War By Arabs

TEL AVIV (AP) — Premier David Ben-Gurion declared Sunday night that early delivery of arms to Israel alone would prevent an attack by the Arab states "within the next few months."

"Although I am not yet prepared to say that there is no longer hope of obtaining defence arms in time to prevent war," Ben-Gurion told the Histadrut trade union convention here, "we must not rely too much on our own defence on the assumption that we must rely on our own capacity alone."

If war is added, the aggressors would be "the Egyptian dictator (Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser), together with his allies, Syria and Saudi Arabia, and perhaps not they alone."

He added, the aggressors would be "the Egyptian dictator (Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser), together with his allies, Syria and Saudi Arabia, and perhaps not they alone."

He referred to the "marked shortage" of engineers in Quebec and other parts of Canada, and a "serious" emigration of engineers from Canada.
