CAMPAIGN IN EAST PRINCE

THE EXAMINER'S advices are that the fight goes bravely on in East Prince—with good prospects for the Opposition candidate. It would not be wonderful if the independent men of East Prince should teach the Government (which has deceived and disappointed them) a lesson. Messrs Lefurgey and McQuarrie addressed good meetings at Cape Traverse and Centreville on Saturday, and were well received. Mr. Fielding's meetings have been thinly attended. Naturally, it has been found difficult to arouse enthusiasm for the Tariff policy of increased expenditures (next year) involving additional taxation and a heavier debt.

THE REASON WHY!

It has been truly remarked that the reason why the country has been deceived, and is being robbed, is the circumstance that that "new Liberalism," a selfish influence, and composed of men who are using the party for themselves, has seized control of the Government. It was against this faction that Alexander Mackenzie fought when, as he said, he stood like a sentinel guarding the treasury from thieves. It was this faction that turned upon Mr. Mackenzie after his defeat, abused him, and finally deposed him. It is this faction that is seeking support now in East Prince. The old Liberals there will do well if they vote it down.

THE FALL MAILS.

A MONTH and nearly a half have elapsed since the mails for this Province were transferred to the Picton route. The Princess began her night and early morning work on the third of November. Since then, though there has been much stormy weather, bringing disaster and death to steamers and vessels off the North American coast, the sturdy little Princess has missed connections with our outgoing morning trains for the country only three or four times, and the mails have, in whole or in part, been despatched on these trains every morning except five or six, when the mails were either late in arriving at Picton or the fog was so dense that it was impossible to make headway. To the eastern part of the Province the satisfaction given has been unmitigated; and the western has had little cause for complaint, especially when it is remembered that the West had the advantage all summer. For the result our thanks are due to the smartness of the clerks in our post office, and, primarily, of course, to Captain McLean and the officers and men of The Princess. The latter, indeed, deserve the greatest credit for having done well and uncomplainingly what must have been for them an unexpected and disagreeable duty. Of course, the carriage of the mails around by Picton is but a temporary expedient, and is not to be justified in coming years even though the success of this season has been more than was anticipated. We hope and expect that the Government will, next summer, make such harbor improvements either at Point du Chene or at the Capes as will enable the Steam Navigation Company to bring mails and passengers from the West right along and land them in P. E. Island every evening.

—The Government of West Australia paid £10,524 last year for advertising.

—The first letters to be sent to England under the new penny postage will be from the Governor-General to the Queen, and from the Postmaster-General of Canada to the Postmaster-General of England. These letters will be mailed at midnight on the 24th.

VALUE OF CHARACTER.

We have been supplied with the cheese and butter market report of Messrs. Andrew Clement & Sons, of Manchester. As to butter, the report is "a brisk market for all grades; Danish is in small supply, and with practically no arrivals from Australia, there has been more trade in Canadian." We quote:

| | |
|---------------------------|--------------|
| Choicest Danish & Swedish | 120s to 124s |
| Finest " " | 114s to 118s |
| Choicest Canadian | 106s to 108s |
| Finest " " | 100s to 104s |
| Fine " " | 80s to 90s |

These quotations show, not only that a good price is paid in England for good butter, but also that there is still, notwithstanding all the progress that has recently been made by Canadian makers, a considerable gap between the prices paid for Danish and Swedish butter and those paid for Canadian. The difference between the choicest of the former and the choicest of the latter is 14s,—equal to 3½ cents to 4 cents per pound. The difference between the finest Danish and the finest Canadian is the same; while the difference between our "fine" and the "choicest" Danish—31s—is equal to 8½ cents per pound.

Now, why can't we get as much for our butter as the Danish and Swedish can? The cause lies, without doubt, partly in the fact that our butter is really not so good as that of Danish and Swedish. For this cause it should be the aim of every farmer and dairyman among us to improve the quality of our cows in order that we may obtain a better quality of milk, to be as careful as possible in feeding the cows and handling the milk so that it may be perfectly clean and free from odor, and to adopt the most approved methods of churning, manipulating, and marketing the butter. The difference in price between the different grades of butter quoted, as shown above, makes all this quite worth our while. We may as well, and almost as easily, make butter for the wealthy connoisseurs of England—to whom price is a very secondary consideration—as for the poorer classes; and we ought, each and all engaged in the dairy business, to try to do so.

Another cause of the difference in price between Danish and Swedish and Canadian butter lies in the fact that the former has an established character in the British market. The rich consumer buys it merely because it is Danish or Swedish and without enquiring whether Canadian or Australian or any other butter is equally good. The Danes and Swedes were in the market before us, and they have made the best use of their opportunities. The struggle to establish a character for our butter will be harder for us than it was for them. But we shall succeed if we only persevere;—and the price list shows that it is worth while to persevere.

ESTEEMED EXCHANGES.

Montreal Gazette: The two-cent Mulock stamps are likely to be memorable in the history of philately. There has been nothing like them executed. They are too big for a stamp and too small for a wall map, and too ugly for anything but a nightmare. If it was necessary for the Postmaster-General to send to the United States for artists to make such things, Canadian taste must be of a low order indeed.

—Wheat is declining in the English markets.

SWEET.—Sweet, sweet, delicious to eat, is old Mother Goose's nice candy; it is fit for the king, it is fit for the queen, for ladies and gentlemen dandy. Try some of it in St Peter's Hall tomorrow afternoon and evening.
