

NHL Hockey by Chris McCarron

Don Cherry really tore into Ulf Samuelsson on coach's corner on Feb. 8th. Don pointed out that Ron Sutter, now of St. Louis Blues, and former Flyer captain, was the latest victim of Ulf's vicious, illegal knee checks. Sutter is on the injured list and to recap Ulf has done this to the following players - Neely, Brian Skrudland, Sutter and somebody on the North Stars. Ulf is the lone asshole on the otherwise fine Pittsburgh Penguin hockey club.

It's the moment we've been waiting for Hab killers Gilmour, Clark, and Larosse piledrived the Habs in a 6-4 victory on the 8th. Clark screened Roy to help provide the first goal to make a fool out of Todd Ewen. After Ewen gave Clark some hooks and slashes, Clarke grabbed Ewen's stick and prevented Ewen from making a pass. Montreal fans must be peeved. Guy Larosse, whose father played on the S cup winners with Montreal, scored two goals against the Habs. Whenever a French player plays well for any team, other than the Habs, then the Habs, wish they had this player that is why they traded for the talented Denis Savard, who also scored two goals against Toronto. Gilmour, Larosse and Savard were Molson Cup stars of the game. This game was the best hockey game I have watched this season.

The Leafs' defeated the Red Wings 4-3 on the 7th. Toronto just defeated two of the best teams in the league and what does this tell you? Back to Wendel Clark of course. It was a pretty sight. In Detroit Wendel stormed down the right wing, an with his right arm, shoved away defenceman Niklas Lidstrom, then passed the puck to Zezel who scored. Give Clarke an A for effort and an S for strength.

Hextall shot out Quebec in the 8th for his second shutout of the season. Love that Hextall. I was talking to a guy at the fleamarket he said, "If Toronto trades Clark then that;s when I start rooting for another team". I'm sure that most Leaf fans feel the same way. Don't worry there are no Clark trade rumours. we were just making a point. The Leafs' want Lindros but, I tell you we don't want him if it means Clark has to leave. I wonder how Rick Vaive would play if he was in Toronto again. Why not give Buffalo future considerations. Buffalo isn't playing Vaive anyway.
