The WEEK at S. D. U.

Just a month ago, when we were preparing ourselves for another college year, there was the usual speculation about the campus concerning the new year and its possibilities. As of now, most of the speculation has vanished. Campus societies have been reorganized without any great fanfare, football has become acknowledged as the major sport, and we settled down to the pleasant experiences of college life. With a minimum of confusion, St. Dunstan's settled snugly into the routine. About the middle of this week our opinion that S.D.U. was pretty much the same as ever was confirmed in the most convincing manner possible. Thursday morning the Director of Studies posted the mid-term examination periods. Examinations in all subjects will begin Thursday morning, November 2, and terminate the next day at four o'clock.

During the past week both the Dramatic Society and Glee Club held organizational meetings. Each has recently appointed a committee to assist the chief officers. Appointed to the Dramatic Society were: Mark McQuaid, Jack Weir, and John Fisher. The Glee Club committee is: Rene Tremblay, Allan MacDonald, and Roy Grant.

The Dramatic Society lost no time in swinging into action. President Cody Myers announced early in the week that a Drama Festival, open to college years only, would be held on November 15. This presentation will be followed by a festival for High School, and a three-act play. Already the Junior class, which won top honors in last year's competition, is making detailed preparations in defence of their championship. Director of the Junior class entry is David Kennedy who is sparing no energy in his effort to uncover the best talent.

This is the time of year at St. Dunstan's when football is one of the main conversational topics. With first team looked upon as standing a good chance of winning the N.B.-P.E.I. championship, and second team already one game up in its annual intermediate series with Prince of Wales College, there is really plenty to talk about.

A week ago today the senior Saints suffered an unexpected reversal when they were handed a 6-0 setback by Mt. Allison at Sackville. There was little comparison between the Saints that day and the team which trimmed U.N.B. the previous week. It was most heartening for those of us who were disappointed at the loss to learn that the fellows were not the least bit dispirited by the defeat, which they determined to use to spur them on in their future contests.

On Tuesday afternoon the football picture was considerably brightened when John Eldon Green's intermediate ruggers won the first game in defence of their intermediate championship by an 8-0 score over P.W.C. The point getters for the Saints were Arnold Murphy with a try and a converted penalty kick to his credit, and Cliff Bernard who scored a try. All but three members of this year's second team are products of the intramural league, and if the value of such a "farm system" was not fully recognized before, it must be now.

During the week, rink manager James Larkin announced the members of this year's rink committee. They are: John J. Dunphy, Maxwell Callaghan, Edward McCabe, Joseph Rossiter, Aquinas Ryan, Ralph McQuaid, Leonard Shea, Frederick Driscoll, Peter Dunphy and John Power. The fact is readily appreciated at the college that looking after the rink is one of the most important student jobs on the campus, because the rink is one of our most valued mediums of recreation and relaxation. It is for that reason that we take the opportunity of acquainting our friends with this valued building and to express publicly the appreciation of the students for it.

Wednesday morning Wilbert McInnis, President of St. Dunstan's branch of International Student's Service, accompanied by faculty adviser Rev. J.P.E. O'Hanley, left to attend a three day convention of I.S.S. of Canada. It was with righteous pride that St. Dunstan's bid Godspeed to this delegation, for we are certain that not a university in Canada can boast a better record in I.S.S. than that of S.D.U.

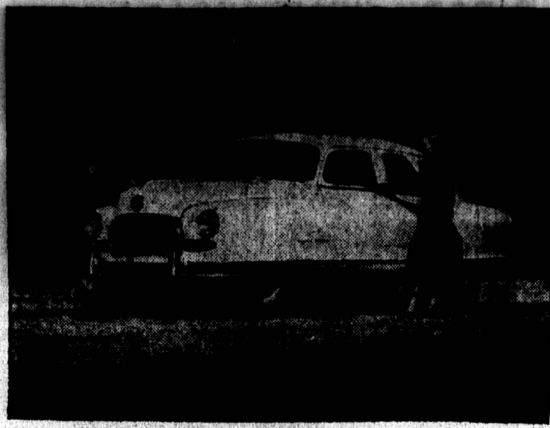

Last week you will remember that we reported the possibility of canteen manager, St. Clair "Smoker" Gallant having his business enlarged and modernized. It was no sooner said than done. For much of the early part of the week a crew of experienced wall washers, paper hangers, plasterers, painters, and general handy men, under the supervision of Student Union President, Charles Gorman, were busy converting a large room directly across from the old canteen into a more accommodating place of business. The genial proprietor held a grand opening on Wednesday evening, and was the happy recipient of many complimentary remarks.

Now with the end of this week's news, we leave you with this wish—From S.D.U. to all of you, health and happiness.

Makes National Debut

TORONTO, Oct. 20 — The new 1951 Nash Canadian Statesman makes its official debut throughout Canada today, it was announced here by Mr. V. J. Gillis, Canadian Regional Manager of Nash Motors of Canada, Limited.

Hailed as a new leader in automotive luxury, this 1951 Canadian Statesman introduces many completely new features for the comfort, convenience and safety of Canadian motorists.

The famous Nash Airflyte design, already acclaimed as a great step forward in car manufacture, has been yet further improved. With the great strength and rigidity of all-welded construction, the Canadian Statesman can take the bumping and shock of the roughest kind of road and deliver a smoother, rattle-free ride.
