Dollar-Saving Machinery To Disband Shortly

OTTAWA, Aug. 1—(CP)—The big government import control machine, which for three years helped steer Canada over the economic dangers of a dollar crisis, is on its way out.

With the wind knocked out of the crisis and Canada's reserves steadily mounting, three of the top officials in the Trade Department's Emergency Import Control Branch will step out of harness tomorrow, back to jobs in private industry.

J. S. Irvin, 40, of Ottawa, the branch's director, will join the Steel Equipment Company Limited.

W. E. McDermott, 48, of Oakville, Ont., director of the Import Allowment Division, assumes an appointment with the Reo Motor Company.

G. B. Greene, 34, of Westboro, Ont., the Allowment Division's assistant director, becomes Ottawa representative of the Sheridan Equipment Company.

The branch, first created late in 1947 when Canada's dollar reserves hit a low ebb, will continue for some months to come, with tapering administrative control over the flow into Canada of United States capital goods and some consumer items.

Some time next spring, or possibly earlier, the branch will issue its last permit and make its last decontrol, bringing Canada's import policy in relation to U. S. goods back to the fairly free position it held before the 1947 crisis.

W. E. Bull, 47, of Weston, Ont., the Department's commodity chief who helped create the Import Control Branch, will take over its administration.

The control system was inaugurated when Canada's reserves dipped to less than $500,000,000, considered a dangerously-low point.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. VERNON J. CAMPBELL

On Saturday, July 15 in the Prince Edward Island Hospital in Charlottetown, Mrs. Vernon Campbell nee Ethel Beatty, in her 46th year passed away. Mrs. Campbell had been in poor health for some time but her passing away was sudden and came as a shock to her family and friends.

Mrs. Campbell was born in Amherst, N. S., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Beatty. She resided for many years in Moncton where she was married to Vernon J. Campbell. Moving to P. E. I., they resided in Vernon River, Bloomfield and Alberton.

She was always interested in the community or town where she resided and was particularly active in the work of the Presbyterian Church of which she was a member.

The funeral service was held in New London. After a short service at the home of Mr. James Campbell, there was a church service in New London Presbyterian Church. The large attendance as well as the many floral tributes showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held by her wide circle of friends.

The service was conducted by Rev. George B. Cunningham, Alberton, assisted by Rev. D. A. Campbell and Rev. G. H. Stevens. Funeral director Joseph L. Davidson, Kensington. Interment was made in New London Cemetery.

"WOODY HILL" CAMP NORTH RUSTICO

Queens County Guides are now in full swing at camp and the weather man is co-operating splendidly to date. An advance party of Leaders consisting of Miss Suzanne McKinnon, Commandant, Miss Joan Large, Group Comm., Betty King, Group Comm., Ena M. Murphy, Assistant Group Comm. and Mrs. Fred Jenkins, Field Secretary, arrived at the Camp on Tuesday in a deluge of rain but Wednesday dawned fair and hot and the Guides began arriving at 1:30 p.m.

The rest of the staff were Mrs. Edith Robinson, Asst. Group Comm., Miss Helen McInnis, Mrs. Helen MacInnis, nurse in charge, Miss Gladys Hart, Group Commandant, Mr. Joe Coffin, Life saver and swimming instructor. Elizabeth MacLean, Dawn Messer and Kathleen Skinner are junior staff in training. While Mrs. Jenkins registered and received fees, Miss S. MacKinnon supervised the moving of all tents to ensure clean floors for all—quite a task as there were 18 tents. 64 guides registered. Dianne Edwards of Fredericton, N. B. and Donna Young of McAdam, N. B., guests; seven from the Catholic Orphanage, kindly brought by Miss Iphigene Arsenault; one St. Pauls 1st Comm., 11 Basilica 8th Coy; 11 12th Zion Coy; 3 Holy Redeemer; Marshfield 7, Southport 9, Montague 8, Dunstaffnage 2, Souris 3.

Here is the Camp schedule: 6:45 A.M., Rising Whistle, 6:50, P. T., 6:55 Dress; 7:15 Worship; 8 A.M., Breakfast, 8:30 Dishes; 9:00 Patrol and test duties; 10:00 A.M., Court of Honour; 10:15 Swimming and handicraft; 11:30 Duties, tables, P. M., Rest hour, 3:00, Swimming and handicraft, badge work; 5:00 P. M., duties; 5:30, Supper; 6:30, Ball games; 7:30, Guides Own; 8 P. M., Camp Fire; 9:00 P. M., Cocoa, sandwiches, taps, 9:30, to bed.

Handicrafts was a very fascinating period conducted by Mrs. Edith Robinson and Gladys Hart who taught leather work. Mrs. Robinson is a very skillful worker for those unfortunates, Miss Joan Large took the girls for shell work and some pretty earrings and brooches were being made. The first night in camp was as usual, a little hectic but eventually quiet prevailed. One poor guide was quite disgusted next morning when she thought that the rising whistle had gone and was up soon after dawn rousing her tent. The other campers did not appreciate it. Initiation of new campers was held at camp around 20 to 25. It was a lovely little ceremony around the fire. Films on swimming were shown on Thursday evening and Marshfield guides decided to practice life saving at the next swimming period but I am afraid all the poor victims got was a ducking including the Field Secretary. However, we arranged to try our rescues at Marshfield shore on return. The laughs did us all good anyway. P. T. in the early morning with the dew in the grass and the sun just well up soon wakened the sleepy eyed ones and loosened up the limbs. The Flying of the Colours was an impressive ceremony with the guides in horseshoe formation. Parents, I know, will be anxious to know what the Guides eat at camp and it is most important. Mr. J. Carragher is again the cook with a most able assistant who is an expert cake maker, ever chocolate and cream. Breakfast on Friday was porridge and it was good (I should know), tomatoes, boiled eggs. Dinner, fish, mashed potatoes, carrots and peas, apple Charlotte with caramel sauce. Supper-soup, chocolate ice cake and cookies, crackers. Late lunch sandwiches and cocoa. Gladys Hart sure can make good cocoa. There were second helpings for everyone if wanted and plenty of bread and butter. I made no notes of the other meals but can assure parents that the girls are being well fed and eating like elephants.

Morning Worship, Mass was held for Catholics by Father Sharkey in the Chapel, and Miss Gladys Hart conducted a pleasing little service for other denominations. Latrine arrangements are good and are scrubbed daily. I have tried to cover all the interesting points of camp life but to do full justice to it would take many pages but we should have some very healthy looking Guides when camp breaks up.

Truman Asks 4 Billion More For Foreign Aid

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 — (AP)—The Senate today voted $2,726,761,473 for Marshall Plan funds, and President Truman said he will ask for another $4,000,000,000 to arm non-Communist countries.

In its vote, the Senate boosted a recommendation made by its own appropriations committee. Senator Carl Hayden (Dem., Ariz.) proposed a $58,070,000 increase over what the committee had suggested.

The Senate sided with Hayden, 42 to 22.

The Defence Department meanwhile announced that four National Guard divisions, two Guard combat teams and other supporting units are being called up for active duty about Sept. 1.

It also announced that the 1st and 2nd Marine Divisions will be brought up to full strength and two marine reserve air squadrons will be ordered to active duty.

There are 27 National Guard divisions and 20 additional regimental combat teams. The National Guard is roughly equivalent to Canada's reserve army.

Normal strength of a National Guard division is about 18,000 men.

Regimental combat teams number about 5,000 men.

Simultaneously, the Air Force announced it is sending additional B-29 Superfortresses to the Far East.

Meanwhile, the Administration was reported planning to ask another emergency military appropriation—$950,000,000 for navy planes.

In another development, related to the dark international situation, the Administration was reported to have yielded to swelling sentiment in Congress for giving President Truman power to control prices and wages and to ration scarce goods whenever he thinks those steps are needed.

Truman has not asked for such authority. But one Democratic member of Congress told a reporter that the White House staff is working on a supplement to the Administration's pending controls bill.

last a group of girls with Leaders. Mrs. Beth MacRae and Miss Priscilla Gavin with the Field Secretary met at the Hall and proceeded to the shore to do some outdoor guide work. Stalking games were played with a terrific display of enthusiasm and trailing tests were taken by Irma Gaudet, Irma Harper and Marion Keough. While Mrs. Jenkins was taking the trailers, Major Jenkins took the Senior group for compass and map reading which they found most interesting. A teacher for this will be found in Tignish and Mrs. MacRae hoped to interest her husband in this work. Guides taking the compass work were Jean Skerry, Myrtle Keough, Jean Gaudet, Shirley Perry, Aurelia Perry and the two leaders. A grand fire was made and the most successful winners ever roasted by everyone and just eaten before a heavy storm drove us to shelter, but we all voted it a lot of fun even for the storm and our only song was "I Hear Thunder". A First Class Committee will be formed for the next step on Guiding and it is hoped that the former Lieutenant, Miss Claire MacDonald, can be persuaded to return to help the Perry and the two leaders.
