Two More Polls Report In Kings Co.

MONTAGUE — Two polls in Kings, unreported Monday night because of telephone difficulties caused by the severe snowstorm, reported yesterday.

Murray Harbor East gave no votes to NDP candidate Dunphy, 98 to Progressive Conservative Mrs. Margaret Macdonald and 134 to Liberal candidate Mullally.

Murray Harbor West gave two votes to Dunphy, 130 to Mrs. Macdonald and 140 to Mullally.

The totals now for polls reporting are: Dunphy 59; Mrs. Macdonald 3,855; Mullally 4,278.

There are still four polls unreported in Kings, although it is possible the returning officer has received the report. It was not possible to get in touch with him yesterday because of disrupted telephone service.

DOWN TRADITION

Until recently Paris adhered to the medieval tradition that no building should be higher than the principal church. Now skyscrapers are rising.

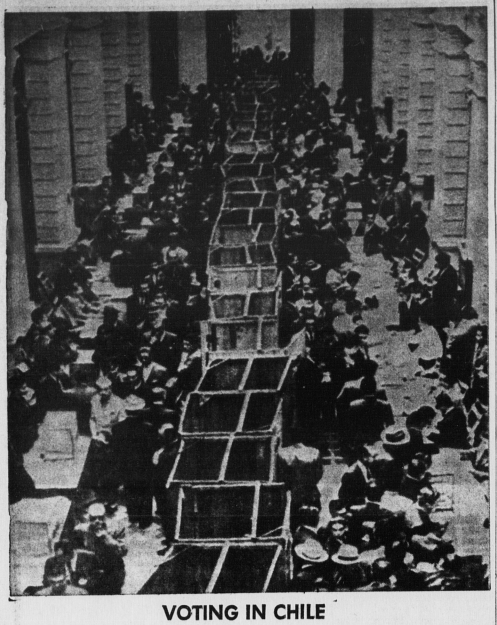
BAN BOXING

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Boxing has been abandoned as a sport at St. Michael's School for boys where a 19-year-old army private was killed last weekend in an amateur bout. The Rev. Joseph T. Conboy, moderator of athletics at the school in nearby Hoban Heights, said: "We can't consider boxing as a sport after that tragedy."



VOTING IN CHILE

An irregular line of voting booths dominated the scene in Supreme Court building in Santiago as Chileans voted in Sunday's municipal elections. The left-leaning Christian Democratic Party showed the most strength of any single party in the election. (AP Wirephoto).

Premier Shaw Notes Farmers Favor Dief

By DON MacLEOD
Guardian-Patriot Staff Writer

Premier Walter R. Shaw said yesterday he was disappointed with the results of Monday's federal election, "particularly in Prince Edward Island."

Provincial Liberal leader A.W. Matheson declined comment, pointing out that he had not made any public statements during the past campaign.

"I had anticipated," said Premier Shaw, "that this province, treated more generously by the Diefenbaker government than at any time in its history, would return four Conservatives. However, these are the fortunes of political competition.

HOPES FOR SUPPORT

"I congratulate all members from the province who have been elected and I sincerely hope, and as a matter of fact I would expect, that we shall receive in future the same fine support from Ottawa that has been ours in the past five years."

Commenting on the national election picture, the premier said "I am frankly rather amazed, in view of the way candidates operated during the campaign, that Prime Minister Diefenbaker has come back with such a large group.

"He started the campaign weakened by defections from his own ranks. He had the powerful interests of the large population centers against him. He had the press of these centers conducting a daily attack against him, and there were other interests as well that were evident during the campaign.

"In the light of these powerful interests, his fight and the results are indeed very outstanding and indicate a strong general support for the Conservative cause across Canada.

FARMERS WITH DIEF

"A very significant feature of the campaign is the fact that the farm people of Canada have stood behind the Prime Minister. This is indeed a compliment to the agricultural policies of the Diefenbaker administration.

"The issue, of course, is not yet clarified; but whatever party assumes control, it is to be hoped that the obstruction and hostility which characterized the last session of Parliament may not again be evident, but that the elected representatives of the people of all parties shall co-operate sincerely in promoting the best interests of the Canadian people."

ENJOYED TORONTO

MacLELLAN FUNERAL — The funeral for Joseph Allan MacLellan took place Tuesday morning from his late residence, Dundee, to St. Andrew's Church where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. George MacCormack, PP, who also conducted the service at the grave. Pallbearers were John L. Laybolt, Roy Walker, Gordon MacEwen, James Conohan, Alex McAdam and Allan Doyle. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Storm Closes High School

MONTAGUE — The regional high school here was closed yesterday because of blocked highways in the wake of Monday's snowstorm. However, with roads opened during the day, it is expected classes will resume today.

A number of rural schools were closed also yesterday, in some cases because teachers were unable to reach schools from homes several miles away.

Plows opened paved highways in the area early in the day and travelling conditions were good generally, although there were a few narrow cuttings.

Secondary roads were opened also but snow mixed with mud made travelling difficult in places, although traffic was moving without too much interruption.

Many rural districts were without mail however.

Plows cleared roads to some polls Monday night to permit returning officers and election workers to reach their homes as roads were becoming blocked by the heavy drifting. At some polling centres, however, election workers abandoned their cars and walked home, in some cases several miles.
