Candle Lighting And Capping Ceremony Held Last Evening

In a beautiful candle lighting and capping ceremony, 13 student nurses were accepted into the school of Nursing of the Prince Edward Island Hospital last night. The ceremony took place in the School of Nursing at 8 p.m. Rev. Harold Mitton, president of the Charlottetown Ministerial Association gave the invocation and pronounced the benediction. Following brief remarks by Dr. J. W. MacKenzie, chairman of the medical staff, the address to the student nurses was delivered by Miss Mona Wilson, P.H.N. The caps were pinned on the nurses by Mrs. Lois Macdonald, Hospital Superintendent. After the capping each nurse received a Gideon Bible from a member of the Gideon Society. Parents of nurses receiving their caps joined with their daughters in light refreshments served by the student nurses. Miss Nancy Lea and Miss Eleanor Haywood presided over the tea cups. The nurses capped last night have completed four and a half months of probationary training and have shown by their attention to duty that they are qualified to continue in the training program. The instructor of nurses for the school is Miss Janet Ives, R.N.

Russian Author 'Betrayed' By U.K. Reporter, Is Claim

MOSCOW (AP) - Nobel Prize winner Boris Pasternak has said that a British newspaper man betrayed him by publishing the Russian author's new poem called 'The Nobel Prize'. Pasternak made the charge in a talk with Western correspondents who called on him after the poem was printed in the London Daily Mail Wednesday. Pasternak said Anthony Brown of the Daily Mail visited him at his country home 15 miles from Moscow. During their interview, Pasternak said, he asked the reporter to give his new poem to a friend in Paris. In the new poem, which Brown said Pasternak wrote in pencil, the author said that he is lost like an animal in an enclosure and is being accused of wickedness. PASTERNAK MADE THE CHARGE IN A TALK WITH WESTERN CORRESPONDENTS WHO CALLED ON HIM AFTER THE POEM WAS PRINTED IN THE LONDON DAILY MAIL WEDNESDAY. Pasternak said Anthony Brown of the Daily Mail visited him at his country home 15 miles from Moscow. During their interview, Pasternak said, he asked the reporter to give his new poem to a friend in Paris. Following is an English translation of the poem as it is being circulated in London: I am lost like a beast in an enclosure, somewhere are people, freedom, no light. Behind me is the noise of pursuit. And there is no way out. Dark forest by the shore of the lake. Stump of fallen fir tree, Here I am cut off from everything. Whatever shall be is the same to me. But what wicked thing have I done. I, the murderer and villain? I, who force the whole world to cry. Over the beauty of my land. But, in any case, I am near my grave. When I believe the time will come. When the spirit of good will conquer Wickedness and infamy.

Kingston Legion Branch Meets

Twenty members attended the monthly meeting of the Kingston branch, Canadian Legion held in the Legion home at New Haven. President Hector Currie acted as chairman for the meeting. Lloyd MacPhail and Earnest MacNeill new applicants for membership were welcomed at this meeting and introduced to members present by Mr. Currie. Correspondence was read and dealt with including a letter from Pius Smith, zone secretary, advising the branch of the next zone rally to be held at Mt. Stewart on March 4th. It was noted at this time by Andy MacEachern that all members should attend these meetings as interesting topics pertaining to branch business are discussed at these meetings. A thank you card was received from Wesley MacEachern for treats received during his illness. It was moved by Foster MacKinnon and seconded by James MacKenzie that the ways and means committee be authorized to purchase tables, chairs and cards for the Legion home in preparation for holding of card parties in the near future. A new membership committee was appointed at this meeting consisting of A. C. MacEachern, chairman, Earl Carrier and Foster MacKinnon.

Per Capita Liquor Sales On Island Shows Increase

Per capita consumption of liquor by Prince Edward Island's citizens reached an all-time high in the fiscal year ending March 31, 1958, according to a report of the Island Temperance Commission tabled in the Legislature Thursday. The report showed that per capita consumption jumped from $30 per resident in 1957 to $32 the next year, for an increase in sales of more than $200,000 over the previous year. Total sales reported are $3,206,754.81, an increase of $201,764.52 over 1957. There were over twice as many tourist permits purchased as compared to individual permits, the figures being 24,527 and 11,836 respectively. The health tax on the three million, two hundred thousand dollar gross sales figure amounted to $291,486.80 and the net profit for the year was $954,138.56. The report shows salaries at $67,329.16; duty at $374,306.80, total administrative costs, including salaries, as $98,962.51. Sales of permits brought in $30,160.75, bank interest amounted to $771.90 and $1,450.15 was realized from the sale of cartons. Sales from individual stores were as follows: Ch'town No. 1 $416,349.62 Ch'town No. 2 $1,288,817.46 Alberton $185,092.58 Cardigan $210,419.33 Borden $201,013.03 Souris $219,632.11 Summerside $685,470.66 In the 10-year period from March 31st, 1948 to March 31st, 1958, the total sales of alcoholic beverages jumped from $1,847,053.31 to $3,206,754.81. Whether these figures reflect the general well-being of the province's economy or the drinking habits of the individual is a matter of conjecture.

Burma Crisis Has Entered New Phase

RANGOON, Burma (Reuters) - Burma's political crisis entered a new phase Friday when caretaker Premier Gen. Ne Win announced his resignation. Ne Win, who took over Oct. 29 from U Nu, told parliament his resignation means the Chamber of Deputies must choose a new government. He said he would agree to re-election himself only if the constitution is changed to permit non-members of parliament to hold ministerial office for more than six consecutive months. Ne Win, former army chief of staff, was in office under the six-month limit himself and his term normally would have expired in April. But he spoke out against an April election, saying the Burmese Army is deployed for a major attack on Burma's 8,000 Communist insurgents and can not be withdrawn to supervise a general election.

Smallpox Is No Cause For Worry, Says

OTTAWA (CP) - Health Minister Monteith said Friday he sees no cause for worry about the possibility of smallpox spreading to Canada from Europe or Asia where it is on the increase. The speed of modern transportation made it easier for diseases to spread from one country to another. But he said every visitor to Canada is required to certify that he has received immunization before he is permitted to land. The protection afforded by that requirement plus the fact that immunization is fairly general in Canada makes it unlikely that the disease will spread here, he said. No case had been reported since 1946. Mr. Monteith was commenting on a statement Wednesday by the Nova Scotia health department that Smallpox could spread to Canada.

Malta To Get New Governor

LONDON (Reuters) - A new governor has been named for the crown colony of Malta, currently in the grip of a constitutional crisis. Colonial Minister Lord Perth announced Friday that Admiral Sir Guy Grantham, 59, will succeed Maj.-Gen. Robert Laycock, who plans to retire shortly. The change of office is expected to take place within six months. Britain recently suspended Malta's constitution following the resignation last April of the government of Labor Prime Minister Dom Mintoff. Grantham, who joined the Royal Navy in 1918, now is commander-in-chief at the Royal Naval Dockyards at Portsmouth and NATO commander-in-chief for the English Channel and southern North Sea area.

NEW CAMPUS EDITOR WOLFVILLE, N.S., (CP) - Philip Roberts of Magog, Que., Friday was voted editor of the Acadia University campus newspaper Acadia Athenaeum replacing Donald Angus of Bridgetown, N.S., suspended for a controversial article he allowed to be published Jan. 30.

Mrs. Crawford Jay, Charlottetown, Mrs. Harry Swan, York and Mrs. L. E. Jay, Mt. Stewart are sisters. Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald make their home with their son Roland.

Whithersoever Thou Goest

McMurdo Sound in far Antarctica is about the most remote, the most dismal spot where men live today. Here almost one hundred Navy men inhabit a land of screaming winds, swirling snow, and temperatures forty below zero. Weeks pass in the winter without a glimpse of the sun. In the little settlement there is a Quonset hut built and furnished as a Christian church, a lovely example of the way faith follows men wherever they go, even to the ends of the earth. In this lonely land of rugged hardships, these men need the warm comfort and strong courage of Christian faith and it is another evidence that God has always been ready to go wherever men and women need Him. For many years, Christian men and women have travelled for one reason or another to the remote islands, jungles, seas, and deserts, wiped with the Word of God supplied by The British and Foreign Bible Society. To this date millions of copies of the Scriptures have been translated and distributed in almost twelve hundred dialects and languages. We help in this great mission as we contribute to the Society and we in Prince Edward Island also assist when we make a purchase at the Bible House, the profits of which are used to maintain and enlarge the work.
