SUMMERSIDE — A protest meeting regarding town taxes was held last evening at the A rooms on Water Street at which 275 Hillcrest Park residents and other interested parties were present with Mayor J. E. Morrison and the council Thursday evening.

The meeting which was not open to the press, followed a meeting between a delegation from Hillcrest and the town council the previous evening and arrangements have been made for another meeting with Mayor J. E. Morrison and the council Thursday evening.

At last night's meeting, termed "enthusiastic" by a spokesman, it was learned that much discussion centered on a boycott, but the nature of the boycott or any other information concerning it was not released.

However reports were circulating in Summerside on Monday that many Hillcrest residents were prepared to support their protest, if necessary, by a boycott of business houses in town.

At the protest meeting, Mayor Wycott said that he was not in favour of a boycott of business houses in town.

Felipe Alou Rejects Pact

SANTO DOMINGO (AP)—Felipe Alou, oldest and best of the three Alou brothers on the San Francisco Giants, announced today that he had rejected his contract assigned to the National League baseball club.

Alou did not divulge the terms in the contract but admitted it contained a sizeable increase over his $18,000 per year ago.

"I think I had a good season in 1962," said the 27-year-old outfielder, "and I think I deserve more than they offered."

Alou did not say what he was demanding but it is believed to be $30,000, which would represent a $12,000 raise.

Alou, a 6-foot, 165-lb., right-handed batter, hit .318 in 1962, hit 25 home runs and drove in 100 runs. He is selected by opponents as the alternate right fielder on the National League All-Star team.

Felipe's two younger brothers, Mitty and Jesus, also are members of the Giants. All are outfielders.

Doctor Hakki Arat, resident doctor at the Charlottetown Hospital, coached the debaters.

Another project carried out by the board last year included the establishing of a tourist information bureau and a handicraft centre for the entire area.

Mr. Parkes also reported that he attended a meeting of the D.P.I. Public Utilities Commission on the application for the CNR for a Highway right-of-way.

900 Dutch Families Settled In Maritimes In Last 12 Yrs.

On board the Ryndam this week when she sailed from Halifax was Rev. E. VanDenBrock, resident priest to Dutch Roman Catholics in the Maritime Provinces for the past five years. He is going back to Holland for a few weeks holiday and will return to the Maritimes in March.

Residents in Charlottetown, P.E.I., he is sailing to New York, as Roman Catholic priest on board the Ryndam, and then across the Atlantic to Holland, his home town of Tilburg. In the Maritimes he ministers to 475 Catholic families of Dutch origin who have settled here since 1861. They represent some 2,700 people in every occupation and walk of life.

The new vice-president is three times the size of the previous year's. This year's entries will likely be in the range of 100 to 150. Mr. MacLeod said the purpose of the revived fair would be to "bring together the top livestock and farm exhibits from all three Maritime Provinces for a final play-off in this championship show."

The fair directors plan to rotate the show among the Maritime Provinces each year. "The idea of going to outlying parts of the province," Mr. MacLeod said, "is that one year in three, each province will have the fair, alternating with the other two."

Final Decision on Show Up to Stockbreeders

A definite decision on whether or not the Maritime Winter Fair Championship Show will be held in Charlottetown this year is expected to be made at the annual meeting of the Maritime Stockbreeders Association next month.

Directors of the show met in Charlottetown yesterday with the executive of the P.E.I. Exhibition Association to discuss the possibility of holding the Maritime Winter Fair Championship Show at the exhibition grounds later this year.

"We were agreeably impressed with the buildings here," said George MacLeod, Black River, N.B., who was president of the Maritime Winter Fair before it was discontinued. "There is a lot of beautiful and comfortable," he went on, "and adequate barns for the show we contemplate."

"The only drawback is that the buildings were designed for a show of this size. Our use of them would mean a change in policy regarding date; the show would have to be held earlier in the season than in former years, likely in late September."

"There would also be a change in the method of selecting livestock for shows," he said. "In the past, the fair had open entries. In future, entries will likely be selected by a committee."

Mr. MacLeod said the purpose of the revived fair would be to "bring together the top livestock and farm exhibits from all three Maritime Provinces for a final play-off in this championship show."

NATIONAL VICE-PRESIDENT Leo P. Michaels, who is in Ottawa at present where he is sitting in on a national executive meeting, will be home this weekend, Mr. Webster explained.

The New Democratic Party have not definitely decided on the question of choosing a provincial leader, but it is thought that it should be done at the earliest opportunity.

DEBATE IS

The bill to establish the board was "political window-dressing." Duties of the board were defined in a "nebulous way." No funds were allotted to it and it was given no specific projects.

JOHN CLEAR (L-Coast-Capitano) said the board should give the province a lead in economic trends through frequent and detailed reports.

This would enable the government to be more effective in stimulating economic growth. Mr. Clear said that the energy policies were sinking into a morass of subsidies and misplanned expenditure.

Too much emphasis is placed on assistance to the coal and atomic energy industries and not enough on assistance to the oil and gas industry and hydro power projects, he said.

Coal conventions should be given priority to demand for coal continues to decline.

Raymond Langlois (SC-Metropolitan) said the board could further develop our mines, rivers and forests. "Canada had an unlimited natural wealth, but was being exploited by foreign investors."

Dan Chipman and Nellie Stewart.
