MEMBER ISSUES DENIAL

No Conflicting Views On 'Roads To Resources'

John A. Macdonald, M.P. for Kings last night emphatically denied that he and Heath Macquarrie, M.P. for Queens, held conflicting views regarding the institution of the roads-to-resources program.

In a recent press release, Hon. J. George MacKay, the provincial minister of highways, had "unintentionally misinterpreted" earlier statements made by himself, and Mr. Macquarrie, Mr. Macdonald said.

"A re-reading of the two will show that Mr. Macquarrie's remarks referred to the institution of the various projects carried out under the program," he added.

"My reference was to the whole idea and initiative behind the program, both of which must be credited to the Diefenbaker government; which also pays 50 per cent of the costs of the various projects to a maximum of $1,500,000 per year."

By giving this assistance in addition to the $2,500,000 provided yearly under the Atlantic Provinces Adjustment Grant, the federal government enabled the provincial government not only to take advantage of the roads-to-resources program itself, but also to build other roads and supply or extend services previously denied the province, Mr. Macdonald contended.

"It will be interesting to note in this, the local government's first full season of operation under this program, how much paving will be carried out under the roads-to-resources program as compared with the whole program of paving for the province," Mr. Macdonald concluded.

Although the accused told the court that he was employed, and had planned to buy a car, he said he ran from the police because he was afraid of being arrested for vagrancy.

He pleaded not guilty to the intoxication charge while admitting to evidence that he had been drinking beer and whiskey in the morning and beer again, during the afternoon of the day of his arrest.

Const. Elmer Matheson who was accompanied by Const. Keith Champion in making the arrest, testified that the accused had a strong smell of alcohol on his breath when apprehended.

In asking for the maximum penalty Chief of Police Peter J. Germain said that the accused had given the police a great deal of trouble during the last few years, and within the past two weeks he has received complaints about the accused in regard to drunkenness, chasing a person with a knife, and molesting a woman by prowling around her home.

Sentence on the conviction for intoxication last night was adjourned until Wednesday, July 29.

Two witnesses, Gordon Harris and Fred MacArthur were heard in connection with a charge of Joy riding which has commenced against MacDonald, who is charged with having taken a car from the used car lot of Willard MacDonald Ltd., and later returning it to the same general area just before the police, who were searching for him at the time due to reports that he was driving wildly and dangerously spotted him leaving the parking lot and gave chase.

MacDonald's efforts to cross-examine one of the witnesses was not very helpful to his denial of having even moved the car, when the answers by the witnesses to his questions, indicated that the accused was in the car while it was moving along First Street apparently returning towards the parking lot.

The trial will be continued on Wednesday morning.

Digby Command Officer Named

OTTAWA (CP) — Capt. Frederick Frewer, 39, of Toronto and Halifax, executive assistant to the chairman of the Canadian joint staff, Washington, has been appointed commanding officer of the RCN training establishment Cornwallis, near Digby, N.S.

His appointment, announced Monday by naval headquarters, is effective Aug. 17. He succeeds Capt. Marcel Jette of Montreal and Quebec, whose new posting will be announced later.

Capt. Frewer entered the navy as a cadet in 1937. He took his early training with the Royal Navy and returned to Canada in 1940, serving on several different vessels during the Second World War.

He is a former executive officer of Royal Roads Services College near Victoria and also served as director of tactics and staff duties, naval headquarters.

For a time he was executive officer of HMCS Stadacona, Halifax, and also served as executive officer of the carrier Magnificent. He went to Washington in April, 1957.

ALBERTON HARBOR BEING IMPROVED

The work of dredging the inner bar at Alberton Harbour is entering its third week and although a formation of shale rock is causing some difficulty the job is proceeding as planned.

The huge 110-foot department of public works dredge is shown in operation above where she is "spudded in" at the mouth of the harbour. Cascumpec Island lighthouse can be seen in the background. "The sounding launch 'Merganser'" is shown returning to the harbour following a day of charting in the Cascumpec Bay area.

The Scotia will leave Tormentine at 8.20 each morning and Borden at 9.40 continuing a regular schedule until September.

The oldest of the three CNR ferries is assigned particularly to truck traffic but will fill any vacation places with automobiles on each crossing.

Yesterday's hot weather sent a record to the Island's north shore beaches. Parking facilities at Stanhope were at a premium.

Ferry Service Taxed By Heavy Traffic

The three CNR ferries operating between Tormentine and Borden were taxed to capacity during the weekend officials reported. Though the ferries were loaded each trip, few instances of waiting occurred. Similar conditions were reported by the Northumberland Ferries which operated the Cariboo-Wood Islands run.

A relief in the congestion at Borden was brought about by putting the S.S. Scotia on the run.

Kidnapped Blonde Gay Hart Describes Hoax To Writers

SHORT HILLS, N.J. (AP)—The father and fiancé of the 21-year-old Toronto-born heiress fled her home last night from Chicago, the final destination of an odyssey which had touched off a nationwide hunt.

She admitted her tale of being kidnapped was a hoax and that actually she had gone to Chicago by bus.

Neither Khrushchev nor Nixon is a military professional. Khrushchev was a political general in the Second World War, Nixon a reserve commander in the navy.

In the "my-brother-can-dick-your-brother" arguments they must depend on the evaluations of their respective military professionals. And the enthusiasm of military men for things they create or plans they devise can over-reach actual attainment.

NEVER USED IN COMBAT

The two men tossed words about their missiles at each other. But except for the primitive, short range weapons used in the Second World War, neither Khrushchev nor Nixon has ever used a missile in combat.

Several reporters were aboard the plane which brought Gay back to Newark Airport. They said she chattered amiably but Hart ruled out any discussion of the marriage.

"I'll bet you're all mad at me," she told reporters. "I'm awfully sorry for dragging you all out there. I'll bet your wives hate me for keeping you away so long."

Joseph Weldon, the Newark police director, questioned Miss Hart for 10 minutes on the plane before she departed. Then he announced nothing criminal had occurred and he was through with the case.

Miss Hart was grim as she

Military Superiority Feeling Is Seen Behind Sharp Words

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Back of the sharp exchanges between Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Vice-President Richard Nixon and the calmer, but deadly serious diplomatic discussions in Geneva is the belief held by each nation that it is dealing from military superiority.

There can be pitfalls in following this philosophy. One of them could be wrong. Or worse, both could be almost right. Mutual destruction of both nations could be the result.

When Khrushchev says Russian rockets are better than American weapons and Nixon says the United States has good ones too, each is relying on what his military scientists and strategists tell him.

This may explain, in part, Khrushchev's loud demand for removal of U.S. bases in Europe. The importance of accuracy in guidance lessens as the range shortens; it is easier to aim an intermediate range ballistic missile than to hope to hit a target at 5,500 miles with an intercontinental ballistic missile.

MISCOCUCHE

Roger DesRoches, Lloyd Gaudet and Eddie Gaudet of Miscouche left on Sunday for Sea Cadet camp at Sydney, where they will spend several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arsenault of Summerside, and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Topper of Toronto were recent visitors to Miscouche at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D.H. Gallant.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McKinnon of U.S.A. recently visited in Miscouche at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Poirier.

Congratulations are extended to Roger Gallant and Donnie Perry of Miscouche on being the first place winners in the junior class of the Soap Box Derby which was held at the lobster carnival in Summerside.

Brian and Wayne Gallant of Summerside were recent visitors to Miscouche at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Steele.

Peter Steele left for Northern Quebec on Tuesday after having spent several weeks visiting at the home of his parents.

SUGGEST $8,000,000

The royal commission recommended to the federal government that Newfoundland receive $8,000,000 a year minus regular transition grants, from 1957 to 1962 and $8,000,000 a year thereafter.

A.M. Duffy, who gave up his Conservative seat July 20 over the issue to become a member of the newly formed Newfoundland Party, said Term 29 was "a device to provide a protection in the financial uncertainties that union (with Canada) would bring about."

"This device has been removed and replaced by a Newfoundland Grants Bill." Newfoundland's right had been "highly handily removed."

James Higgins, who resigned from the Conservative Party the same day to become leader of the Newfoundland Party, said he held "no brief with the present administration. I am not a blind following the federal government's first full season of operation under this program, how much paving will be carried out under the roads-to-resources program as compared with the whole program of paving for the province," Mr. Macdonald concluded.

CENTRAL BEDEQUE MAN TRAINS DOGS

Weeks of patient training has provided intelligent obedience by two collie dogs owned by Eidon Gallant of Central Bedeque. The dogs are almost identical in size and color, and in the performance of many commands act with simultaneous precision. With Mr. Gallant holding a short stick of wood, the dogs are seen above standing on their hind legs in a delicate balance with one paw while facing each other. In one of the many fascinating tricks they have been taught by their owner.

Joy Riding Case Commences In Summerside Police Court

SUMMERSIDE — Pleading not guilty to a charge of intoxication, George Leonard MacDonald, 27, of Summerside, last evening in Summerside Police court, saw a parade of witnesses for the crown.

MacDonald was taken into custody by police following an extended chase on foot through Summerside which began from the parking lot of Willard MacDonald Ltd., on First Street, and ended with his capture on Cedar Street, on the evening of July 25th.

Although the accused told the court that he was employed, and had planned to buy a car, he said he ran from the police because he was afraid of being arrested for vagrancy.

He pleaded not guilty to the intoxication charge while admitting to evidence that he had been drinking beer and whiskey in the morning and beer again, during the afternoon of the day of his arrest.

Const. Elmer Matheson who was accompanied by Const. Keith Champion in making the arrest, testified that the accused had a strong smell of alcohol on his breath when apprehended.

Judge Denies Release Plea

MONTREAL (CP)—Mr. Justice Jean St. Germain of the Quebec Superior Court has refused an application for the release of five brothers, awaiting trial for murder, on a writ of habeas corpus.

The five, Claude, Rene, Jean-Guy, Normand and Raymond Dubois, are charged with Robert Miron in the shooting of Gilles Petit during a scuffle outside a tavern May 27. Petit was a bystander killed by a stray bullet.

Counsel for the Dubois brothers contended in the petition for the writ that nothing brought out at their preliminary hearing justified holding the five on the charge.

Justice St. Germain ruled the court which ordered the brothers held had primary jurisdiction over the case and it was not within the province of the superior court to reverse the decision.

He said authorities and precedents cited by counsel in the petition might apply in other provinces but not in Quebec where the rule of habeas corpus is interpreted differently.
