To the Editor of the Daily Examiner:

DEAR SIR—I thoroughly endorse every word you have written in reference to the bungling manner in which the Exhibition at Georgetown was conducted. I believe that the presiding genius, who so very successfully mismanaged the affair, was none other than the great Munroe himself. This would be a great man, in whatever public capacity accident or the charity of friends happen to place him, always distinguishes himself more by his pomposity and arrogance than by ability. With such an individual for Secretary, no wonder the Exhibition was pronounced to be slovenly and badly arranged in the extreme. What could be more shabby than the way in which the King's County Commissioners and Judges were treated? While a car was provided to convey Queen's and Prince County Commissioners free of charge, the Commissioners of King's County had to pay their fare out of their own pockets. Was that fair? We ask the Secretary. When one of the King's County Judges enquired of his Secretaryship as to the probability of the money being refunded, he was snappishly told to look for redress to the Superintendent of the Railway. The inconvenience and the unsuitable arrangements of the Exhibition grounds and buildings were felt by all, save, perhaps, the untouchable Secretary, who had himself caged in a sort of old-fashioned puppet to the left of the entrance, where he languidly cracked nuts and munched his bread and cheese, while looking down, in contempt, upon the honest yeomanry, the big squashes, and the fine arts.

I notice that the Address to His Honor the Governor says: "We trust we may be allowed to express our opinion that a larger grant of the public moneys for the purpose than has heretofore usually been made, might hereafter be made, with advantage to the public." All very fine, Mr. Commissioners. I fail to see how a large amount is needed to run such a machine as the Exhibition of Thursday last. The thing ought to prove nearly self-sustaining when conducted properly. Farmers attending the Exhibition, receive few favors. They have to pay to get a sight of the fruit of their own labors. Last Thursday, for the pleasure of being squeezed and elbowed and jostled about in the Building, alias Drill Shed, one had to pay 15 cents. The tickets of admission were to be had from a distressed-looking young man, who held his office in a new hen coop, under the cave of the shed aforesaid. Great were the difficulties of ticket purchasing, and greater still the difficulty of seeing the sights inside. The display of the fruits of the earth were so mixed up with mechanical industry and the arts, that it was hard to tell "which was which." There was one object, however, which the most unsophisticated visitor could not possibly mistake. This was the veritable Eastern Grader, "carried for himself more than for all the newspapers on P. E. Island," perched near the entrance way—"Quoth the Raven, Nevermore."

As it may be some considerable time before another Provincial Exhibition will be held in the thriving shire Town of King's, and as it will likely be a still longer time before Munroe Pasha will fill again the office of Secretary, would it not be advisable to present the great R. M. with a leather medal. The King's County Commissioners and Judges might head the list. On one side might be printed, "I rated from the Railway Party because the Railway was too crooked and spruce." On the other side, the figure he cut on Exhibition Day would be very characteristic.

Wishing you, Mr. Editor, every success in your fearless and outspoken advocacy of the rights of the people.

I remain,
Yours very truly,
A FARMER.
Kings County, Oct. 2nd, 1877.

The young man Roberge, sentenced to five years in the penitentiary for robbing registered letters in the Ottawa Post Office has been released, after serving three years, on account of good conduct.

The latest Prussian census shows a population of 25,742,405. Of this number 16,636,990 are Protestants, 8,625,840 are Roman Catholics, and 339,780 Jewish. All other sects and creeds, including Greek Catholics, Reformed, Lutherans, Anglicans, Baptists, Methodists, Quakers, and Menonites, number about 125,000. The Free-thinkers are estimated at 17,000.

Fifteen thousand dollars in gold were paid for a watch chain and locket to a jeweler in Manchester, England. They contain 340 diamonds, and in the centre of the hook is a stone of eleven karats. There are twenty links to the chain, all of which are studded with diamonds, and the locket contains the monogram of the owner.

The boiler of a locomotive of a freight train on the Nashville Railway exploded Wednesday night at Rocky Hill, killing Charles Wilson, the engineer, Thomas McCrea, the fireman, and wounding slightly eight others, also killing McCormick, a brakeman. A number of race horses were on the train: Bergamot was injured, Tazerc killed, Satinet injured, and the Gardens Morgan filly killed.

Miscellaneous News.

One thousand excursionists arrived at Montreal on Thursday from Vermont. The mail bag and a large number of registered letters from Toronto are reported missing at Montreal.

Twenty-one shots were fired in a Cincinnati street fight, and only three men were wounded.

The Paris Exposition of 1878 is to cost $3,000,000. The original calculation was about $7,000,000.

A Montreal physician by lifting depressed parts of the skull of an idiotic child, is restoring its faculties. The case is one of great interest.

The skeleton of a woman lately sold to satisfy a claim against the estate of a country physician, had inscribed upon it: "Miss Ida Montague, aged 22 years. Died of grief, May 25, 1856. Her death-bed request: 'Honor your sanctum with my bones.'"

Mrs. Custer has written a very pretty letter to Hood's Texan Brigade, acknowledging their resolutions honoring her husband's memory. She says:—"It seems to prove the higher and better nature of men when soldiers can admire the gallantry and heroism of each other, even when differing in sentiment and belief."

Deadwood gamblers are remarkably superstitious. One says he is always lucky when wearing a certain shirt. He won $10,000 in one day while wearing it. Others read their luck in dreams, in the weather or in the number of men they meet in walking a certain distance. When luck is against them they change their clothing.

A Methodist church in Cleveland is built, steppe and all. The people gathered to dedicate it. The Bishop announced that there was a debt of $8,000 on the building. Subscriptions were taken up, and beginning with three of $500 each, grew to $4,000 altogether. There they stopped. The Bishop dismissed the congregation, remarking that the church would be dedicated when the debt was paid, not before.

Two important cases are to be tried in the Supreme Judicial Court, at Alfred, next week. They are the suit of James B. Black, of Saco, vs. the York Manufacturing Company of that city to recover for damage caused his ice crop in Saco river. Black alleges that the Company allowed certain poisonous, gaseous substances to run into the river, ruining the ice. Damages are laid at $50,000. Also the suit of Maria L. Fair vs. the City of Biddeford, Plaintiff, fair on the icy sidewalk and claims $15,000 for injuries. Some nice law points are involved in each case.

The Rev. J. W. Cox, well known as the author of "The Mythology of the Aryan Nations," a history of Greece, and other works, has just become a baronet in succession to his uncle, Sir Edmund Cox of England, Kingsley, Canada, who has just died at the age of 80.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Two freight trains on the Toledo, Wabash and Western Railway collided near Decatur yesterday, when two engines and fifteen cars were reduced to ashes. A tramp stealing a ride was burned. The loss is estimated at $150,000.

Died.

At Montague, on Thursday morning, the 27th day of Sept., Martin Lambert, of Houlton, County Wexford, Ireland, who emigrated to this Island over 40 or 50 years ago, Requiescant in pace. Other papers please copy.

OBITUARY.—This day—our many readers will freely lament the early death of Mrs. Chas. McPhee, of San Francisco, California. Death brings terror to many, but is a consolation to know that he is deprived of his horrors in the above melancholy case.

No longer ago than last April, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. McPhee departed from this Island, a hopeful, young and newly married couple, with every appearance calculated to ensure prosperity in this life; and nothing could be more distressing to a large circle of relatives and friends than to hear that Mary Eliza Macdonald, eldest daughter of W. A. Macdonald, Esq., of Panmure Island, had ended her earthly career, of typhoid fever, on the 9th inst., after an illness of fourteen days.

When taking leave of the Island we cordially extended our heartiest desire that their life might be one of prolonged happiness; but it would seem that our anticipations were to be denied. From an unexpected disease the pure soul of one of our fair daughters winged its airy flight, to that celestial mansion "where no sorrows dwell." Earth never nourished one more deserving of the "home of the blessed" than the highly esteemed subject of our hastily written remarks. We feel sorely aggrieved when the melancholy duty of recording this sad event falls us. We could have wished it otherwise; and the only consolation we can extend is our unfeigned sorrow for the deep and distressing affliction of her husband, parents, relatives and friends.

She was only 18 years and 11 months old, and for many enduring qualities of heart, her brilliancy of mind, the rare and happy style she possessed of winning the long remembrance of all with whom she became acquainted, won for her the undying love of every member of this community.

She was buried on the 15th inst., and the Priest who conducted the funeral obsequies delivered a feeling and eloquent address, concerning the worth and piety of the deceased.—May she rest in peace.—Advertiser.
