Children To Join Queen Before End Of Tour

Plans Call For Reunion At Tobruk May 1

By MILTON MARMOR
LONDON, (CP) — Buckingham Palace announced Sunday that Prince Charles, 5, and Princess Anne, 3, will join their parents at Tobruk, Libya, May 1 for the final stages of the earth-circling royal tour. It will be the children's first trip from Britain.

Charles and Anne will sail April 15 aboard the new royal yacht Britannia from Portsmouth. After Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh arrive, the Royal Family will sail for Malta for a visit May 3.

Miss Katherine Peebles, Prince Charles' governess, and Miss Helen Lightbody, Anne's nurse, will accompany them on the voyage to North Africa. The heir to the throne and his sister have not been told yet about their forthcoming cruise.

Their parents Sunday were on Tasmania, Australia's island state, about half way through the tour which began Nov. 23 from London. They are due back home May 15.

No Change In Plans

Buckingham Palace made it emphatically clear Sunday the Royal Family will visit Gibraltar as planned May 10-11. The Spaniards are still irked over the loss of the famed rock fortress to Britain by treaty 241 years ago, and high Spanish officials said in Madrid Saturday they believed Elizabeth would fly directly home to London, probably from Adan on the Arabian peninsula.

But the British brushed aside this suggestion.

"The royal tour will go through as planned," a Buckingham Palace spokesman said. "There is no suggestion of any change."

Palace sources said Charles and Anne will remain aboard the 4,700-ton Britannia when their parents visit Tobruk, Malta, and Gibraltar. The royal yacht has a well-equipped playground for the children on its top deck to keep them happy and busy.

Cave-in Costly At Windsor Plant

A cave-in underground in a Windsor, Ont., salt mine Friday caused this chemical warehouse to sink deep into the ground. Water bubbling up from the old salt workings created a lake and the flood for a time threatened much of the chlorine-manufacturing section of the big $6,000,000 Canadian Industries Limited plant. ### 38th Anniversary Of Battle of Verdun

VERDUN, France, (AP) — Veterans observed the 38th anniversary of the beginning of the First World War battle of Verdun at special religious services here Sunday. The battle went down in history because a German victory at Verdun might have won the war for them. But Marshal Pétain's famous order—"they shall not pass"—was obeyed to the letter by the French defenders.

Seek Ex-Convict In Slaying Of Canadian Nurse

NEW YORK, (CP) — A 49-year-old Canadian-born nurse was found stabbed to death on the bed of her west-side hotel room Saturday in what police said looked "very much like a crime of passion."

A 13-state alarm was transmitted for an ex-convict wanted for questioning in connection with the slaying of Norma Rennie, a native of Guelph, Ont.

Miss Rennie's body was discovered by a hotel maid who investigated a "do not disturb" sign which had been hanging on the hotel room door for several days.

The body was lying almost nude with two stab wounds in the left side of the chest.

The alarm named the man sought as Anthony Kacinski, 49, who had registered in the same hotel a week ago and lived in a room adjoining the nurse's.

Deputy chief inspector James Leggett, who termed the murder a "crime of passion," said there were no signs of a struggle in the room. None of the woman's valuables appeared to have been taken. Police found expensive jewelry, a camera and $70 in cash.

Inspector Leggett said Miss Rennie's mother, Mrs. B. S. Rennie of Guelph, was reached by telephone and had given police some "information." He then left for the presidential palace where he will be the nation's guest during his stay in India.

He told newspaper men one objective of his world tour is "an effort to bring about more sanity in international relations and peace and good will to all men."

Pressing greetings from the Canadian people and government, he said "We in our part of the world fully realize the importance of India in world affairs."

Two hours after leaving the airport.

Windsor, Ont., (CP) — The sinkings of earth-stopped Sunday in a huge cavern at the $6,000,000 Canadian Industries Limited chemical plant and plans went forward to repair the damage where a sudden settling of the ground Friday left some buildings almost buried and others tilted at crazy angles.

Officials of the OIL and of the adjacent Canadian Salt Company plant Sunday night pondered means of filling the hole, which also swallowed up part of a railway spur.

Company spokesmen said the sinking has apparently halted, except in a few places where buildings have been undermined.

Philip F. Morand, works manager for Canadian Salt, said the company will be back in full production today. A new office building hastily evacuated Friday when cracks appeared in the walls, will be reoccupied at once, he said.

The company flushed salt from the ground by brine pump and suction.

Police said Croghan and his wife were quarreling when the wife appeared with a .22 calibre rifle and shot his father through the head. They say the boy was apparently trying to protect his mother.

Police have not yet laid charges and the boy has not been taken into custody.

Says More Pulpit Thunder Needed

TORONTO, (CP) — The United Church of Canada has too much preaching of the "you-can-master-life" variety, according to one of its most prominent clergymen.

Dr. J. R. Mutchmor, secretary of the board of evangelism and social service of the United Church has called on ministers to preach more and stronger sermons on sin, denunciation of drunkenness, highway "murders," gambling and sexual promiscuity.

"Canada needs badly more pulpit thunder," he said in a report prepared for delivery today to the annual meeting of his board.

"There should be more sermons on God's judgment, more preaching on social righteousness," he said.

"The United Church and the country it serves needs today more preachers who will fearlessly attack civic corruption, financial greed, totalitarian government, and the irresponsible use of power by management, labor and farm federations."

Officials said they believed the break was engineered at one of the vessel's ports of call. She stopped at Havana and Philadelphia.

Queen Opens Parliament Of Tasmania Today

HOBART, Tasmania, (Reuters) — Queen Elizabeth opens the Tasmanian Parliament here today before returning to the Australian mainland Tuesday for the next stage of her Commonwealth tour.

Later today she will hold an investiture and attend a citizens' ball at the City Hall.

The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh attended a Sunday morning service in St. David's Cathedral here and were welcomed by Bishop G. F. Cranwick of Tasmania in his address. The Duke read the lesson of the service.

After the ceremony, the royal couple drove to a parade of ex-servicemen and women where the Queen placed a wreath on a war memorial. She wore a white silk dress with green and gray designs, a green half-length coat and matching hat.

The Duke, replying for the Queen to a speech, told the ex-service groups they had helped write "a story of valor and endurance which you can look back on as second to none."

Cape Renamed For Queen
On Saturday, Tasmania welcomed the royal couple by renaming one of the island's landmarks in honor of the Queen.

Cape Pillar, which commands the approach to the harbor of the Tasmanian capital of Hobart, will henceforth be known as Cape Queen Elizabeth, the state government announced as the royal party's Gothic cleared the cape on its arrival.

Boy Kills Father At North Bay

NORTH BAY, Ont., (CP) — Police said a 15-year-old boy shot and killed his father early Sunday during a family quarrel at their home here.

The father, Russell Croghan, 40, a Canadian Pacific Railway conductor, died within minutes of the shooting.

Police said Croghan and his wife were quarreling when the wife appeared with a .22 calibre rifle and shot his father through the head. They say the boy was apparently trying to protect his mother.

Police have not yet laid charges and the boy has not been taken into custody.

Central Sales Policy For Potato Marketing Adopted

Potato movement in the Province, which assumed record proportions ever since last October, has substantially declined during the past week, stated Donald A. MacDonald, manager of the P. E. I. Potato Marketing Board, in announcing on Saturday the adoption of a central sales policy by the Board.

Market levels have been very weak in Central Canada during the past few days and it may take some time for them to recover. Mr. MacDonald states. This weakened condition has been caused by the heavy movement from the Maritimes and also by the decline in levels in the State of Maine where a very large surplus still exists which will be difficult to market during the balance of the season at any price. For some time producers in the U. S. A. hoped that their Government would take action to remove some surplus supplies in an effort to strengthen their market conditions for the balance of the season. However, a week ago Agriculture Secretary Benson definitely stated that any worthwhile marketing assistance would not be available this year. As a result, prices in Maine are now at the lowest level for the last twenty years.

Another factor which has become very evident during the past

M.P.'S Salary Boost Starts Controversy In Britain

By Fraser Wighton

LONDON, (Reuters) — A touchy proposal that members of Parliament vote themselves a 50-per-cent boost in pay, plus a pension on retirement from the House of Commons, has stirred up a storm in Parliament, in the press, and in Britain generally.

The recommendation, made last week by an all-party committee of inquiry, would raise members' salaries to £1500 a year from £1,000. Pensions would range from £350 to £500 a year.

Many feel a proposal for a smaller increase would have met with more sympathy.

They point out that Britain is facing wage-increase demands from more than 5,000,000 persons—about a quarter of her total working population—and predict a further wave of such demands will follow any big increase in M.P.'s salaries.

To industrial workers—some of whom are striking to press demands for increases of less than four shillings more a week—a proposed pay raise of 50 per cent is breath-taking.

But others argue that the pay raise is not only justified, but overdue. They point out that many M.P.'s are left only about one quarter

P.E.I. Girl Tops Judging Competition

I. girl, was the top girl in the All-Canadian Junior Judging Competition held in connection with the selection of the All-Canadian Holstein, with a score of 144 points out of a possible 150. In her club she was second with her calf and for showmanship.

Fog Horn At Saint John Burned
SAINT JOHN, N.B., (CP) — The fog horn at the mouth of Saint John harbor was destroyed by a fire of unknown origin Sunday.

Transport department officials say new machinery will be installed as soon as possible. Ships have been warned that the horn is not working.

More than half of the members in the 625-seat House submitted their family budgets to the committee of inquiry. It was discovered some—whose sole income was their parliamentary salaries—had sold or mortgaged their homes and savings. Others had accumulated debts, and still others were so hard up that they had to refuse invitations to functions. A number could not afford to eat in the House of Commons dining room.

More of the Opposition Labor party M.P.'s, including the largest number of trade union members of Parliament, are supporting the higher salary plan. They apparently think their own trade union supporters will agree with it as conforming to one of their own cardinal rules—"the rate for the job."

Opponents of the pension plan claim it will threaten parliamentary tradition by encouraging careerists to enter the House of Commons and cling to their seats for the sake of a pension, long after their usefulness to the country has ended.

William Gaudet Picked Up At Baffin Island

GOOSE BAY, Labrador, (CP) — The RCAF search and rescue crew here fought strong headwinds and icing conditions during week-end on three mercy missions to remote northern communities, the air force reported Sunday night.

The first call for help reached the crew Friday from Baffin Island, where a 13-year-old Eskimo boy was critically ill with a bowel ailment. A communications blackout imposed in connection with exercise Loup Garou, the joint army RCAF war games, delayed the message for two days, however, and the boy was dead when the rescue plane arrived at the tiny community some 800 miles north of here.

The crew, headed by Flt.-Lt. Bob Turtle of North Battleford, Sask., had just returned to its base when a second call came from Baffin Island that a man was suffering from a case of appendicitis and had to be flown to hospital. The men fought severe head winds and picked up William Gaudet, 22, of Charlottetown. He was resting comfortably in hospital Sunday.

Sunday morning, the mercy flyers were called on to go to the rescue of a transport department worker suffering from a kidney ailment on Resolution Island, on the eastern end of Hudson Strait. They were expected back with the patient Sunday night.
