

HAPPENINGS

Andrew Jenkins, Women's Editor; Phone 4-5508

The Casque and Fortune Cove Ladies Aid of the O'Leary Community Hospital met at the home of Mrs. Jennie Thomas last week.

Mrs. Kenneth Larver, president when members answered a roll call with answers for an auction sale.

It was decided to send two members from this district to the variety concert in the O'Leary High School auditorium March 11.

Entertainment was provided by Mrs. Rustin MacNeill and Mrs. Heber Gable. Refreshments were served by a committee assisted by the hostess.

Mrs. Claude Nicholson, Montague is visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Johnston and their new baby son in Toronto, Ont.

Mrs. Winnifred Bell, Montague is enjoying an extended holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Steve Whitehead, Hampton, N.B.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Barrow, Snow Lake, Manitoba, who are visiting in Charlottetown for the Brier, are guests of her sister Mrs. Ruth MacNeill, Brighon Road, M. Rev. who has been curating for 54 years, has played a total of 57 games this season.

During their month long holiday, they are visiting in Charlottetown in Clyde River and in Milton where Mr. Wise was a born.

Mrs. Gordon Nicholson, Compton, is attending a social week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Duncan, Riverglady, N.B.

Wesley Coull has returned to his home at St. John's after visiting friends and relatives in New Glasgow, N.S.

Mrs. Claude Nicholson, Montague, is visiting her son-in-law Mr. Frank Green, Montague. Three tables of auction were in play and prizes were won by Mrs. Carl Stewart. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Douglas MacLaren, Montague, entertained recently in aid of the Protestant Church, Montague, Monday evening.

Donald D. MacLeod and Murdoch MacLeod, Quince, Mass., are holidaying at their summer home in the company of Carl Stewart. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Byron Sharpe was less than pleased to see the members of the Women's Union of the Protestant Church, Montague, Monday evening.

A flower show will be sponsored by United Church Women, Alberton, in August. Arrangements have already begun with the appointment of a committee to be in charge of it.

The church is awaiting the suggested allocation for the United budget and accepted and Mrs. Wendell Weeks. The Easter tea, Arrangements will be under the direction of Mrs. Wendell Weeks, Mrs. Reginald Travers, Mrs. Lemont Hat and Shirley MacArthur.

Mrs. Byron Sharpe had from 1 to 4 of the "Praise Ye the Lord" was led by Mrs. Wesley H. Weeks.

The study, which had to do with the love of God, was led by Mrs. Wendell Weeks. The study was presented and two new members were welcomed.

Refreshments were served by Fred Leard, Mrs. Underhill Cousin and Mrs. Victor Campbell.

It's darning blithely the field of chance. While making labor a brave romance. It's going onward, despite defeat. And fighting stanchly, but keeping sweet.

It's being clean, and it's playing fair. It's laughing lightly at Dime's sneer. It's looking up at the stars above. And drinking deeply of life and love.

It's struggling on with a will to win. But taking loss with a cheerful grin. It's sharing sorrow, and work, and mirth. And making better this good old world.

It's serving, striving through strain and stress. It's doing our noblest — that's Success!

U.N.I. — Monday — Diary — Good — Night! —

QUEENBOROUGH, England (CP)—Mildred Richard Sharpe, mayor of this Kent town, resigned part of his borough's former gallia at Sobey's in London when he paid £200 for a water ball at a ceremonial on nine inches long. The car was presented for honoring in 1957 when Queenborough was a major port.

A special meeting of the Wake-up Montague School District number three will be held in the Montague Regional High School auditorium on Tuesday, March 10, at 8 p.m. to reconsider and vote upon the proposal of selling the Memorial School building to the school board of the local surrounding same as may be specified in the minutes brought before the meeting.

home of his sister, Mrs. Arnold Henderson and Mr. Henderson, this village.

Edison Wright, Central Bedouin returned home from Prince County Hospital where he underwent treatment several weeks. He is much improved in health.

Miss Fernie Bowers, who has completed her training as a nurse's assistant at a Charlotown, was a recent guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Hammond Bowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecile Rice of Cardigan, who has been visiting relatives in Toronto, returned home to attend the funeral at Montague on Monday of her mother, Mrs. Frank Coyne.

Charlie Macdonald, Cardigan, left Charlottetown by train on Monday for Montreal, where he expects to spend the next few weeks.

Angus McCormack of Newport is a patient in the King's County Memorial Hospital, Montague.

Miss Ethel Allen of Cardigan left Charlottetown by air on Monday for Montreal. Miss Allen accompanied by her brother Fred of Georgetown who is entering the Royal Victoria Hospital for treatment.

Constable Lynn of the R.C.M.P. visited the three departments of Cardigan School recently and instructed the pupils of "Safety On The Highway" both as pedestrians and bicyclists. Emphasis was placed on the fact that traffic rules apply to children as well as adults.

The regular meeting of Cardigan Women's Institute was held in the school on Tuesday evening. In keeping with "Education Week" roll call was answered by a Study Unit.

Following reading of correspondence the School Committee reported several small items, such as Blackboard Erasers, were needed, and it was decided to purchase these articles.

A discussion on Centennial Year Celebrations ended with the Institute offering to assist in the planning and carrying out of Children's Events.

H. BENNETT CARR Insurance Consulting District Supervisor Phone 4-8171 4-5413 Charlottetown, P.E.I.

DR. CHASE'S PARADOL For fast relief from menstrual pain you can count on help from the active ingredients in DR. CHASE'S PARADOL

BEDEQUE Mr. and Mrs. Horace Sobey, Scarborough, are spending the winter with members of their family in Ontario.

Garth Bradshaw left some time ago for Medicine Hat, Alberta, to take RCMP training. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Bradshaw, Scarborough. Previous to his departure for the West he was employed in a bank in Sussex, N.B.

Robert Carruthers, Kensington, was a recent visitor at the May We Accommodate? When you are in Halifax the modern comfortable centrally located STERLING HOTEL is the place to stay!

Here are out a few of the Sterling's features: 1000 sq. ft. Queen Room 3 Free Parking for 60 Cars Family and Group Plans Commercial Rates

The bride and groom were a huge maulage, draped sheath dress and a matching straw hat, trimmed with organza. Her shoulder corsage was yellow roses.

Attending the groom was Flying Officer Hugh Reid of Moose Jaw. The ushers were Flying Officers George Court and Gordon Crose of Moose Jaw and Penhold, Alberta, respectively.

The bride and groom left the Chapel under an arch of flowers, formed by the guard of honour.

A reception was held in the Officers' Mess following the wedding. The Mess was decorated with spring flowers, accented by yellow carnations.

The bride's table was centered by a three-tiered wedding cake topped by a satin bell resting on a heart edged with a red and white ribbon.

White papers and white baby mums with red carnations.

Complimented her ensemble. The groom's mother wore a dusty pink lace sheath dress with jacket. Her hat was of white pleated organza. A corsage of pink roses in a cluster of white shatterer carnations complemented her ensemble.

The groom's mother wore a huge maulage, draped sheath dress and a matching straw hat, trimmed with organza. Her shoulder corsage was yellow roses.

Attending the groom was Flying Officer Hugh Reid of Moose Jaw. The ushers were Flying Officers George Court and Gordon Crose of Moose Jaw and Penhold, Alberta, respectively.

The bride and groom left the Chapel under an arch of flowers, formed by the guard of honour.

A reception was held in the Officers' Mess following the wedding. The Mess was decorated with spring flowers, accented by yellow carnations.

The bride's table was centered by a three-tiered wedding cake topped by a satin bell resting on a heart edged with a red and white ribbon.

White papers and white baby mums with red carnations.

Complimented her ensemble. The groom's mother wore a dusty pink lace sheath dress with jacket. Her hat was of white pleated organza. A corsage of pink roses in a cluster of white shatterer carnations complemented her ensemble.

The groom's mother wore a huge maulage, draped sheath dress and a matching straw hat, trimmed with organza. Her shoulder corsage was yellow roses.

Attending the groom was Flying Officer Hugh Reid of Moose Jaw. The ushers were Flying Officers George Court and Gordon Crose of Moose Jaw and Penhold, Alberta, respectively.

The bride and groom left the Chapel under an arch of flowers, formed by the guard of honour.

A reception was held in the Officers' Mess following the wedding. The Mess was decorated with spring flowers, accented by yellow carnations.

The bride's table was centered by a three-tiered wedding cake topped by a satin bell resting on a heart edged with a red and white ribbon.

White papers and white baby mums with red carnations.

Complimented her ensemble. The groom's mother wore a dusty pink lace sheath dress with jacket. Her hat was of white pleated organza. A corsage of pink roses in a cluster of white shatterer carnations complemented her ensemble.

The groom's mother wore a huge maulage, draped sheath dress and a matching straw hat, trimmed with organza. Her shoulder corsage was yellow roses.

Attending the groom was Flying Officer Hugh Reid of Moose Jaw. The ushers were Flying Officers George Court and Gordon Crose of Moose Jaw and Penhold, Alberta, respectively.

The bride and groom left the Chapel under an arch of flowers, formed by the guard of honour.

A reception was held in the Officers' Mess following the wedding. The Mess was decorated with spring flowers, accented by yellow carnations.

The bride's table was centered by a three-tiered wedding cake topped by a satin bell resting on a heart edged with a red and white ribbon.

CITY HALL RECEPTION

Visiting Brier wives were welcomed at City Hall Wednesday morning by Mayor A. W. and Mrs. Gaudet. Shown left to right are Mrs. Gaudet, His Honor, Mrs. Arthur Ross.

IDA BAILEY ALLEN

Everything's Ducky For Smart Shoppers

"GOOD news! Plenty of ducks are available," announced the Chief, setting his shopping bag on the test-kitchen table.

"With turkey reasonable in price, broiler-fryers at budget-wise cost, and now more ducks than ever available, homemakers are the most fortunate meal-planners in the world!"

"Ducks are available nationwide in frozen form. I am now going to show these two ducklings I bought in the supermarket and, with your permission, Madame, will cook them in the Spanish style, as we enjoyed them when I was in Spain."

"TOMORROW'S DINNER" Sardine Salades Duck Spanish Garbanzo Beans

Stewed Celery Mixed Pickles Canned Peas in Raspberry Gelatin Without Half Scoops of Ice Cream

Measurements level: 2 (4 lbs.) frozen ducklings 2 tsp. seasoned salt 1/2 c. table mustard 1 1/2 tsp. chili powder 6 drops Tabasco 1 c. canned seasoned tomato sauce 1 (1 lb.) can garbanzo beans Spanish Sausage (follows)

These ducklings, prepared for cooking as directed on wrapping. Dust inside and out with seasoned salt.

Place ducklings on rack in roasting pan. Roast 45 min. in oven, 300 degrees F. Remove from oven.

Spread surface of ducklings with mixture of mustard, chili powder, Tabasco and tomato

Spread surface of ducklings with mixture of mustard, chili powder, Tabasco and tomato

Spread surface of ducklings with mixture of mustard, chili powder, Tabasco and tomato

Spread surface of ducklings with mixture of mustard, chili powder, Tabasco and tomato

Spread surface of ducklings with mixture of mustard, chili powder, Tabasco and tomato

Spread surface of ducklings with mixture of mustard, chili powder, Tabasco and tomato

Spread surface of ducklings with mixture of mustard, chili powder, Tabasco and tomato

Spread surface of ducklings with mixture of mustard, chili powder, Tabasco and tomato

Spread surface of ducklings with mixture of mustard, chili powder, Tabasco and tomato

Spread surface of ducklings with mixture of mustard, chili powder, Tabasco and tomato

Spread surface of ducklings with mixture of mustard, chili powder, Tabasco and tomato

Spread surface of ducklings with mixture of mustard, chili powder, Tabasco and tomato

Spread surface of ducklings with mixture of mustard, chili powder, Tabasco and tomato

Spread surface of ducklings with mixture of mustard, chili powder, Tabasco and tomato

Spread surface of ducklings with mixture of mustard, chili powder, Tabasco and tomato

MARY HAWORTH

Problem In Perspective Is Of Little Account

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I've never written to a columnist before, but I have an opinion for the unhappy couple who wants to transfer to another college because she didn't get a bid from any of six sororities on campus.

I don't think transfer is the answer. What assurance has she that the same disappointment won't develop elsewhere? Also she is of an age to learn that you don't settle problems by running from them.

I too went to a small college, co-educational, with considerably less than 1000 students, and I think more so six sororities, though I've forgotten the exact number. I wasn't pleased either.

I SUSPECT my painful sympathy of those years had something to do with it. However, my disappointment didn't last long. I soon recovered and formed many fine friendships outside the organized cliques of sorority girls.

Looking back, it is my considered judgment that it would be better off. I believe (and this isn't sour grapes) that most if not all sorority girls are a selfish fish grown too interested only in their own small worlds.

So many are there for the social whirl, in pursuit of a husband, eventually, rather than for an education.

Long after being snubbed by the social sororities I was pleased by a scholastic fraternity (men and women), a much more rewarding association, I feel.

May I say in conclusion: It takes only one blackball to keep you out of sorority. And show me the person worth knowing who is liked by everybody! Sincerely, K.D.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I

DEAR CORRESPONDENTS: Thanks for helping WJ and her daughter see their setback in aid of the Protestant Church, Montague, Monday evening.

M.H. through her column, could help or personal interview. Write her in care of the Guardian.

"I have no complaints," she managed. If we always get weeks of good, I shan't grumble.

"This week," Mack echoed, "if I got to school, we'd be up our fat arse." We'd grinned happily. "I got to risk it, and I have no complaints."

"What of this week?" We put the question to some of the members of the family, first all to it's head.

"This week, Ellen? Now it wasn't a bad one," James remarked. "The farming went along smoothly. We had no losses."

"No, and with your stock coming, isn't that satisfying?" "I have no complaints," the younger farmer smiled. "We

"He was a great fellow to do one a turn," James commented. "Couldn't get a better," the visitor said.

"And good with horses. Do you mind that little mare he used to race down on the river? He had several good ones from that same dam. This was a brown one, nicely plump, and not much size to her. But nothing could touch her for speed!"

"And night and high stars, we had... And our thoughts strayed from the conversation for the moment to reflect on the thing that he do make for success. Was it to be reckoned in dollars? Were there no contributing factors?"

"What of our week?" We put the question to some of the members of the family, first all to it's head.

"This week, Ellen? Now it wasn't a bad one," James remarked. "The farming went along smoothly. We had no losses."

"No, and with your stock coming, isn't that satisfying?" "I have no complaints," the younger farmer smiled. "We

"He was a great fellow to do one a turn," James commented. "Couldn't get a better," the visitor said.

"And good with horses. Do you mind that little mare he used to race down on the river? He had several good ones from that same dam. This was a brown one, nicely plump, and not much size to her. But nothing could touch her for speed!"

"And night and high stars, we had... And our thoughts strayed from the conversation for the moment to reflect on the thing that he do make for success. Was it to be reckoned in dollars? Were there no contributing factors?"

"What of our week?" We put the question to some of the members of the family, first all to it's head.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Success Is Judged By Various Methods

"He wasn't much of a success, was he?" a visitor remarked, looking at James this evening, when a name came up in their chatting.

"Yes, James agreed, "not as far as money was concerned. But he was a pretty fine fellow. He had a fairly hard day's work, reared a big family, and did the best he could for them."

"He did that," the company nodded. "There never was a better father."

"There was a silence. We picked up the stitches, which go to fashion the thumb in the mitt we were knitting. Ted them. The sawdust stirred, eating sparks from the stout stick of wood which he had put on it.

"He was a great fellow to do one a turn," James commented. "Couldn't get a better," the visitor said.

"And good with horses. Do you mind that little mare he used to race down on the river? He had several good ones from that same dam. This was a brown one, nicely plump, and not much size to her. But nothing could touch her for speed!"

"And night and high stars, we had... And our thoughts strayed from the conversation for the moment to reflect on the thing that he do make for success. Was it to be reckoned in dollars? Were there no contributing factors?"

"What of our week?" We put the question to some of the members of the family, first all to it's head.

"This week, Ellen? Now it wasn't a bad one," James remarked. "The farming went along smoothly. We had no losses."

"No, and with your stock coming, isn't that satisfying?" "I have no complaints," the younger farmer smiled. "We

"He was a great fellow to do one a turn," James commented. "Couldn't get a better," the visitor said.

"And good with horses. Do you mind that little mare he used to race down on the river? He had several good ones from that same dam. This was a brown one, nicely plump, and not much size to her. But nothing could touch her for speed!"

"And night and high stars, we had... And our thoughts strayed from the conversation for the moment to reflect on the thing that he do make for success. Was it to be reckoned in dollars? Were there no contributing factors?"

"What of our week?" We put the question to some of the members of the family, first all to it's head.

"This week, Ellen? Now it wasn't a bad one," James remarked. "The farming went along smoothly. We had no losses."

"No, and with your stock coming, isn't that satisfying?" "I have no complaints," the younger farmer smiled. "We

"He was a great fellow to do one a turn," James commented. "Couldn't get a better," the visitor said.

"And good with horses. Do you mind that little mare he used to race down on the river? He had several good ones from that same dam. This was a brown one, nicely plump, and not much size to her. But nothing could touch her for speed!"

"And night and high stars, we had... And our thoughts strayed from the conversation for the moment to reflect on the thing that he do make for success. Was it to be reckoned in dollars? Were there no contributing factors?"

"What of our week?" We put the question to some of the members of the family, first all to it's head.

"This week, Ellen? Now it wasn't a bad one," James remarked. "The farming went along smoothly. We had no losses."

"No, and with your stock coming, isn't that satisfying?" "I have no complaints," the younger farmer smiled. "We

"He was a great fellow to do one a turn," James commented. "Couldn't get a better," the visitor said.

"And good with horses. Do you mind that little mare he used to race down on the river? He had several good ones from that same dam. This was a brown one, nicely plump, and not much size to her. But nothing could touch her for speed!"

"And night and high stars, we had... And our thoughts strayed from the conversation for the moment to reflect on the thing that he do make for success. Was it to be reckoned in dollars? Were there no contributing factors?"

LOSES BEATLE

Denise Olan, 4, of Toronto, lost her Beatle cut this week when she got her first salon haircut. Denise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Olan, looked cheerful all the prospect lefts, became someone who bore while it was going on cheer full all the prospect

25% REDUCTION Inquire about the possibility of joining one of the "Winter-Spring Vacation in Europe" Group — on Eastbound sailings: March 18.