Joins Canadian Trade Mission

OTTAWA, Ont., — The Hon. Gordon Churchill, Minister of Trade and Commerce, has announced that Peter Stursberg, Research Officer in the Prime Minister's office, would be attached to the forthcoming Canadian Trade Mission to the United Kingdom as Press Officer. Mr. Stursberg left Nov. 5 for London to discuss press coverage for the mission with all concerned.

Mr. Stursberg is familiar with the various media in Great Britain, having worked with the Daily Herald, in 1938, as an Empire Press Union exchange reporter, and again from 1945 to 1950. He then joined the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation as United Nations correspondent.

BORN IN CHINA

Mr. Stursberg was born in Cheefoo, China, in 1913, the son of a British officer in the Chinese Postal Service, but left that country when ten years old to continue his early education in Victoria, B.C. He was then sent to Bedford School, in England, and returned to Canada to attend McGill University.

Mr. Stursberg spent four years on the staff of the Victoria Daily Times before going to London, and returned in 1939 to work with the Vancouver Province. He later joined the CBC to assist in establishing a news service, and was employed as news editor in Vancouver till January 1943, when he went overseas as a war correspondent for the CBC. He covered the Canadian landings in Sicily and Italy, the Battle of Cassino, the capture of Rome, the invasion of Southern France, the crossing of the Rhine and the liberation of Holland. He is the author of "Journey into Victory", published in 1944.

As a roving correspondent for the London Daily Herald from 1945 to 1950, he travelled in Europe, India, Africa and the British West Indies, followed by six years as United Nations correspondent for the C.B.C. Mr. Stursberg then came to Ottawa as a correspondent for the Toronto Star in the Parliamentary Press Gallery, and was recently invited by the Prime Minister to become Research Officer in his office here.
