Scallop Import Limit Planned

NEW BEDFORD Mass. (AP) Massachusetts' two U.S. sealers will be asked for help in limiting imports of Canadian scallops into the United States, says Mayor Edward Harrington.

Harrington says Canadian scallops are selling for 31 cents a pound compared with 45 cents for New Bedford scallops. These figures compare with a 1963 average price of 67 cents for New Bedford scallops.

The mayor says the New Bedford scallop industry is "dying a slow death" from the competition of Canadian imports. He notes that the port's scallop fleet has dropped to 33 from 41 vessels nine years ago and that revenue has declined to an estimated $5,000,000 this year from $9,000,000 in 1959.

FRENCH PIONEERED The first colonist family in Quebec was that of Louis Hébert, who arrived in 1517.
