Holstein Group Shown Extension Work Need

By NEIL MATHESON
The importance of good extension work, even for such a successful organization as the National Holstein-Friesian Association, was emphasized by Bruce Trenholm, Grand Pre, N.S., at Island Holstein breeders at their field day Saturday at the Experimental Farm.

Mr. Trenholm didn't say so, but the Holstein breed association is by far the largest and most powerful organization of its kind in Canada.

The breeders received a warm welcome to the Experimental Farm by George Ayers, who is now acting superintendent in the absence of R.C. Parent. A tour of the farm was the first item on the program with a look at the hay drying facilities and a visit to the dairy barns among the featured events.

S.C. Wright, deputy minister of agriculture, extended greetings on behalf of the department. The minister, Andrew B. MacRae was attending the Shorthorn field day at Belmont Lot 16. Some 35 miles away. Harold C. Hertz, livestock officer, Canada Department of Agriculture, brought greetings from his department and discussed the value of good livestock breeding and husbandry.

150 ATTEND
Ira Lewis, York presided in his capacity as provincial president. There were an estimated 150 people in attendance. Basket lunches were eaten at noon with the facilities of Birch Court made available to the visitors.

David MacLean, Farm Credit Corporation, and Allison Pratt, Freetown, conducted a sports program for the young folk. The emphasis which the Holstein breed organization puts on extension is indicated by the fact it has published breed booklets this year in five languages: "we have just finished a book in Japanese." Mr. Trenholm told this paper. And they also have books in Italian, Spanish and French as well as the ones in English.

Mr. Trenholm explained that the foreign language publications are made available because some of the biggest markets for Canadian Holsteins are in some of those countries.

IN OTHER COUNTRIES
Some of the biggest herds of Canadian Holsteins, for example are not in Canada at all. "They have herds in Italy and in Mexico, for example, that are bigger than anything we have in this country. And they are built from Canadian cattle." Mr. Trenholm told the Guardian in an interview.

COIN DISPLAY
A 'busman's holiday' will be taken by members of the P.E.I. Numismatic Association when the coin collectors meet Tuesday evening at Confederation Centre to view the special exhibition of old money on display there.

NO DOGS LICENSES
No more dog licenses will be sold at the Police Station in the evenings. It was learned Saturday. The licenses for the year ending June 30, 1966, are now due, but they can only be purchased during normal business hours or on Saturday morning.

COUPLE ESCAPES
Eugene Dunn of Newton, Mass., and Helen Martell of Boston, Mass., narrowly escaped the burning, live wires of an electric pole in Waltham, Mass., early Saturday morning. The pole was hit by a truck several minutes before it fell in front of Mr. Dunn's car. The two are formerly from Newton Cross and Georgetown, P.E.I.

LEARN OF DEATH
Mr. and Mrs. Able Block of 11 Spring Park Road have received word of the death Saturday of their son-in-law, Abe Seligman, at New York University Hospital, New York, in his 58th year. He is survived by his wife, the former Sylvia Block, and four children, Wendy, Beryl, Jacklyn and Mare.

animals Mr. Trenholm predicted. Several classes of cattle were judged — they included adult cows and calves — and Mrs. Wilfred (Willena) Stewart, Dunstaffnage, was the only one to get the placings correct in both classes, though a number of breeders did have correct placings in one of the classes.

A feature of the field day was the bag pipe music furnished by Sylvia Trenholm, daughter of Bruce Trenholm, during the afternoon.

Victoria Youth Tops Englewood Graduates

CRAPAUD — John Visser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melis Visser, Victoria, received the Governor General's medal for general proficiency, the trustees prize for the highest aggregate and subject prizes in English, French, mathematics, history, and the sciences, at the fourth annual commencement exercises held at Englewood Regional High School.

Mr. Visser has been accepted as a student at Calvin College, Grand Rapids, Michigan, where he will pursue his studies toward the ministry of the Christian Reformed Church.

The closing exercises were presided over by Rev. Bryer R. Jones, chairman of the board of school trustees.

The address to the graduates was delivered by Heath Macquarrie, M.P.

The principal of the school, Mr. Desmond Connolly, paid tribute to the outstanding contribution made to the school by the late W. Elmer Inman who was chairman of the board up until the time of his death last November.

The valedictory was given by Errol Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Taylor, Nine Mile Creek.

erment was not aware of his remarks beforehand. But his comments carry a special impact, particularly abroad.

Jenkins said he regards Prince Philip's speech as "particularly ill - advised at the present time."

The Sunday Telegraph commented "the prince's outspokenness on public affairs does not imperil the delicate Rhodesian negotiations. Unfortunately, it does imperil the dignity of the Crown."

The Conservative Sunday Telegraph maintained Prince Philip's advice to Africans not to hurry the Rhodesian problem to a possibly dangerous decision was "sensible." The Observer cautioned Prince Philip in an editorial titled "watch it, sire," which said the prince's remarks made "excellent political sense," but added:

"The duke has done a lot to stir up public thinking on scientific and technological matters, on industrial relations and nature conservation, on the importance of Latin America and the misdeeds of the press. It would be a great loss if he got himself into political hot water by playing a columnist's role and thus provoking hostility to his legitimate one."

Homemaking Aspects Topic Of WI Session

Delegates to the 52nd annual convention of P.E.I. Women's Institutes Wednesday and Thursday at Prince of Wales College will get expert advice on decorative aspects of homemaking.

The advice will come during workshop sessions Thursday, when delegates will hear talks by John D. Miller, "color in the home"; Mrs. G. MacNaughton, "window treatment"; Mrs. Ray Hennessey, "rug, hooking"; and Jerry Veinot, "floral arrangements".

Other highlights of the conference will be an address on "education for a changing rural society" by Dr. W.A. Jenkins, principal, Nova Scotia Agricultural College; and a talk on "community services in mental health" by Urban McQuaid, director, P.E.I. division of the Canadian Mental Health Association.

Social events include lunch at Southport School Hall, a get-acquainted hour, and tea at Government House.

President of the P.E.I. Women's Institutes is Mrs. L.G. Ramsay, Indian River.

About 90 per cent of South Africa's Negroes between the ages of 7 and 20 are literate.
