

Yankees Win 5th Straight World Series

Score Run In Last Of Ninth To Edge Brooklyn Dodgers 4-3 And Take Series 4-2

NEW YORK, (AP)—Bill (The Kid) Martin's record 12th world series hit in the last of the ninth gave Casey Stengel's proud New York Yankees an unprecedented fifth straight world championship Monday with a 4-3 victory over Brooklyn in the sixth game at Yankee Stadium.

Lashing back after Carl Furillo's two-run homer off Allie Reynolds tied the score in the Dodger ninth, the Yanks stuffed out Brooklyn hopes with a stunning comeback against reliever Clem Labine. Hank Bauer walked on a 3-2 pitch and Yogi Berra fled out deep to Furillo before Mickey Mantle outsped a slow roller off the glove of third baseman Billy Cox. It was scored as a single and Bauer moved to second on it.

Martin, finishing the series with a .500 batting average, looked at a called strike and then slammed a line single to centre that scored Bauer with the winning run of the richest of all series.

Tied Record

With the hit Martin tied the all-time record for most hits in a series, 12, and established a mark for a six-game set. He won for his delicious Yank mates full pay shares of about $8,000 from the record player pool of $694,341.61.

This game, finished under lights because of a dark, threatening clouds, saved its drama for the final moments. Until the ninth it looked to the 62,370 fans like a routine 3-1 triumph for the always-winning Yanks who now have a 16-4 record in series competition.

Martin's hit saved Whitey Ford from going down in the record book, guilty of one of the most momentous blunders since Fred Merkle failed to touch second.

It looked innocent enough at the time when Ford failed to tag up after a long 370-foot fly ball by Berra in the second and was doubled at the plate. But as the game wore on that run loomed large and large.

After Furillo's tying homer, the run was big enough to sprout goat's horns on Ford's brow for the rest of the winter. Fortunately for the chunky southpaw, Martin came to the rescue.

Carl Erskine started Monday's game but was in no way the trim fire-baller who struck out 14 Yanks Friday afternoon. The Yanks ripped into him for three runs and six hits in the first four innings as he tried to come back with only two days rest.

Stengel, only manager ever to win five straight pennants, let alone five series, would have been second guessed if he had lost this game.

For Old Case lifted Ford, who was trudging along with a 3-1 lead after seven full innings. Hank Bauer had just yanked the fans to their feet with a sensational grab, near the right-field wall of Bobby Moran's long pinch-hit fly when Stengel made up his mind to call for Allie Reynolds.

The Chief scraped through the eighth, although Bauer had to back to the wall for one catch and had to run down the foul line to grab another.

In the ninth Gil Hodges went out but Duke Snider, three times a strikeout victim of Ford, walked on a 3-2 pitch. Furillo also worked the count to 3-2 and then hammered a home run into the lower right-field seats about five rows past Bauer's desperately clutching hand.

Undisturbed by these heroics, Reynolds calmly struck out Billy Cox and Labine to break Red Ruffing's series career record with 62 strikeouts.

Martin's hit, gave Reynolds his seventh world series triumph, tying another mark held by ex-Yank Ruffing.

Many New Records

It seemed everybody broke some kind of a record. The clubs got 120 hits, a new high, and 17 home runs to erase another old standard.

Brooklyn, which never has won a series, now has lost seven straight although their series batting mark of .301 was among the best of all time.

It was the seventh straight American League series victory, making the standings read 33-7 in favor of the Americans. The National hasn't won since the St. Louis Cards whipped the Boston Red Sox in 1916.

The six-game hit mark broken by Martin was held jointly by Dave Robertson of the 1917 New York Giants and Monte Irvin of the '51 miracle Giants. But the all-time high for any length series is 12, held jointly by Joe Jackson, Buck Herzog, Sam Rice and Pepper Martin.

When manager Chuck Dressen of the Dodgers visited Stengel's clubhouse after the game to extend congratulations, Old Casey said "You're the best team I've played against in five years."

Stengel explained he had yanked Ford for Reynolds "because I was afraid he'd get caught."

The players have not announced how they split up their money, pending official word from commissioner Ford Frick. The Yanks will share $290,363.48 and the Dodgers $193,575.65. That represents 70 per cent of the entire player pool. The other 30 per cent goes to the second, third and fourth place clubs.

Even if the Yankees have given out 36 generous shares the cut will be over $8,000. If the Dodgers have no more than 32 it will be $6,000 plus or, if they cut in 26, it still will top $5,000.

The record money slice was $6,772.06 in 1948 and the largest losing share was $4,951.06 by the '51 Giants.

Series Notes

NEW YORK, (AP)—You couldn't blame Joe Collins if he said a little prayer of thanks when Brooklyn's Carl Erskine departed for a pinch hitter in the fifth.

When the Yankee first baseman struck out in the fifth inning it was the fifth time in his last six at bats against Erskine that he had fanned. He was a strikeout victim four times Friday.

Collins set a series record. His hit, if it could be dignified by that name since it dribbled to the left of the mound, ran the total bases for both teams to 181. The old record of 180 was set by the Pirates and Senators in 1925. Later hits boosted the total number of bases to 200.

Johnny Mize's farewell to baseball, to be says, was a grounder to first baseman Gil Hodges as pinch hitter for Joe Collins in the eighth. Mize insists that this is his last year in baseball. But admirers of Old John point out he has said the same thing before.

Duke Snider just escaped joining Joe Collins and Mickey Mantle as four-time strikeout victims in one game. Snider was fanned three times Monday by Whitey Ford before coaxing a walk out of Allie Reynolds in the ninth.

Furillo's dramatic ninth inning homer set a series record of 17. The old mark of 16 homers was set last year by the Brooklyn and Yanks.

Whatever Casey Stengel said to Ford in the fifth produced the right thing. At the time the Dodgers had two on and two out with the count one ball and no strikes on Gilliam. After Stengel's conference with Ford Gilliam fanned on three straight pitches.

Allie Reynolds set a series strikeout record of 62 by fanning Billy Cox and Clem Labine in the ninth after Carl Furillo's homer. Reynolds also tied Red Ruffing's series mark of seven victories for a pitcher. Ruffing, incidentally, had set the old strikeout mark of 61.

Rizzuto's infield hit in the eighth was the 116th for both teams, establishing a series record for six games. The old mark of 115 was made by the Yankees and Giants in the 1936 series. Later his boosted the total to 120.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Earl Sande, "the handy guy", returned to the saddle for the first time since 1932 Monday at Belmont Park and finished third aboard Honest Bread as the crowd gave him a tremendous ovation.

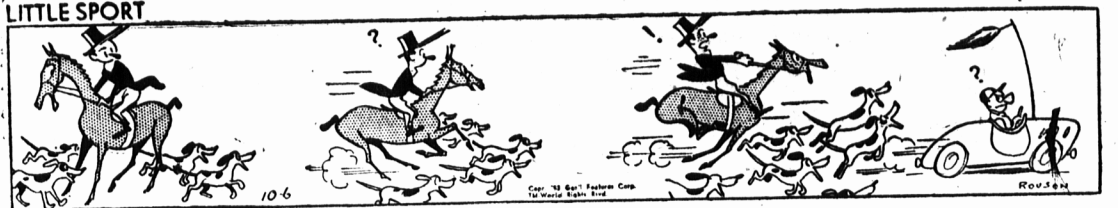

The idol of the roaring twenties, who has won most of the important stakes races in this country including three Kentucky Derbies, will be 55 years old Nov. 13.

Sande, who trained horses with much success after his retirement in 1932 only to run into bad luck in recent years, said he is riding again "because I need the money."

Horseshoe Club

The doubles champions in the "B" Group was decided last night at the Brighton Horseshoe Club when two old timers, Andy Martin and Ron MacDougall, defeated the favorites, Alan Lund and Junior Smith, three games out of five to take the prize donated by Dowling's Sport Lodge.

Earlier in the week Dalziel and Murley defeated Doyle and Phillips to win the championship of the "A" Group. It is expected that these two winners will play each other at a later date.

The executive of the Horseshoe Club are asked to meet at 7 o'clock this evening. Nels Whitlock, Andy Martin, Jim Davey, Reg MacLellan.

FIRST SERIES RUN—Joe Collins scores the first run for the Yankees in the first inning of the opening game of the 1953 World Series. Collins scored on Hank Bauer's triple. Berra (with bats) is the next batter. Plate umpire Bill Grieve stands behind Dodger catcher Roy Campanella.

PLAY BALL—Junior Gilliam, first Dodger to bat against Allie Reynolds in the opening game of the 1953 World Series, lets the first pitch go by for a ball. Catching is the Yankees' Yogi Berra and the umpire is Bill Grieve.

Montreal Royals Lead Little World Series 3-0

MONTREAL, (CP)—Montreal Royals took a stranglehold on the little world series title Monday night, dumping Kansas City Blues 5-3 to take a 3-0 lead in games in the best-of-seven series.

Kansas City 010 011 000—3 8 3
 Montreal 010 110 008—5 5 0

Wiesler, Wright (7) and Robertson; Lasorda and Yelen.

Montreal leads best-of-seven little world series final 3-0.

Only 5,413 fans watched the contest in chilly weather. Little Tommy Lasorda (15-8) voted the International League's best left-hander, handcuffed the Blues on eight hits as he travelled the route, fanning five and walking three.

Lefty Bob Wiesler (8-7) allowed Montreal only five hits in the six innings he toiled but was charged with the loss. Mel Wright worked the last two innings without yielding a hit.

First baseman Rocky Nelson, recently sold to Cleveland Indians of the American League, led the winners at the plate. He had two singles and drove in three runs. The Blues catcher, Jim Robertson, had a perfect three-for-three night while Bob Cerv hit his 25th home run of the season.

Stampeders In 9-8 Win Over Roughriders

REGINA, (CP)—Calgary Stampeders, trailing in the Western Interprovincial Football Union held off a final-quarter thrust to defeat Saskatchewan Roughriders 9-8 Monday night.

The win was the third in 11 starts for the Stampeders who now are two points behind the third-place Roughriders.

Quarterback Frankie Albert, formerly with San Francisco 49ers, heaved a touchdown pass to Oakland import Al Endriss across the goal line in the second quarter for the Stamp's winning margin.

Glen Christian converted and later booted a field goal from 32 yards out.

Calgary's lead was threatened in the final quarter when halfback Bobby Marlow from Alabama bulldozed over for a Roughrider touchdown and Dr. Wardien, a Montana boy, converted.

Stengel Declares He Has No Intention Of Retiring

NEW YORK, (AP)—Casey Stengel, first major league manager ever to win five straight world series, told admiring friends Monday he has no intention of retiring, and praised his 1953 New York Yankees by saying "this club can do it easy."

Yankee reeve melted in the lavishly appointed dressing rooms. There was yelling and shouting, the flash of photographers' bulbs, and general hilarity.

Stengel was the center of one group. Billy Martin, his spectacular young second baseman whose single in the ninth won the game, was the center of another.

"I couldn't believe I did it," said Martin jubilantly. "It was a fast ball I hit. It was the biggest thrill of my life."

"This fella, this Martin, has become a helluva ball player," said Stengel.

Stengel said that he took Whitey Ford out of the same in the eighth, and sent in Allie Reynolds because "I thought maybe he'd get caught if I left him in. They had big hitters coming up."

Manager Chuck Dressen of Brooklyn Dodgers and Walter J. O'Malley, president of the Dodgers, were quick to offer their congratulations.

"You've got the best team I've played against in all these five years," said Stengel, grasping Dressen by the arm. "Your club can do everything—and mine can too."

"Next year," said Dressen quietly.

Yankees, who normally leave ball games, even world series games, as sedately as bankers filing out of a board meeting, were whooping it up as they came up the tunnel from their dugout and ran into a mass of photographers and newspapermen.

Martin took a terrific pounding on the back from his teammates before he got into the Yankee rooms.

Martin's screaming single, his 12th hit of the series, broke the record for a six-game series, and tied the record for a seven-game series.

Roberts Big Four Scoring Leader

TORONTO, (CP)—Gene (Choo Choo) Roberts, high-scoring halfback since he came to Canada three years ago from New York Giants, is the Big Four scoring leader at the half-way mark of the 14-game schedule.

The 195-pound native of Bonner Springs, Kas., who joined Ottawa Rough Riders last year after a season with Montreal Alouettes, picked up 10 points in Roberts' 31-6 victory over Hamilton Tigercats Saturday to take a three-point lead over team-mate Avatus Stone.

Statistics compiled by The Canadian Press show Roberts with 45 points on three touchdowns, three field goals, 20 converts and one single. Stone, who jumped Chicago Cardinals for Riders this year and lasted last week with 42 points, didn't play last Saturday due to an injured knee.

Stone, with seven touchdowns, and seven singles, holds a three-point edge over Ray Poo of Montreal Alouettes, former kicker star with New York Giants. Chuck Hunsinger, also of the Alouettes, is fourth with 30 points.

Special Trains Take Passengers From Queen Mary

MONCTON, N. B., Oct. 5—The first of five special Canadian National boat trains passed through Moncton tonight bound from Halifax to New York, with the initial group of 1834 passengers who disembarked at Halifax from the liner "Queen Mary."

Sixty sleeping cars, ten diners, and five baggage cars were assembled in Halifax over the weekend to accommodate passengers from the second ship diverted there within the last few days because of the dock tie-up at New York. More than 850 persons left Halifax last Friday in three C.N.R. specials after disembarking from the liner "Britannic."

To handle today's operation in Halifax a special C.N.R. corps of 114 men including red caps, baggage master and porters were assigned to the more than 4,000 pieces of luggage that had to be checked and transferred to the five boat specials.

Prominent among the passengers who arrived in the "Queen Mary" were movie star Linda Darnell; Sir Alan C. Tod, O.B.E., T.D., D.L., chairman of the Royal Insurance Co. Ltd., Mrs. Tod, Clarence Winchester, editor of the Royal Philatelic Collection, and Viscountess Cosette de Mulde.

The first of the C.N.R. specials left the dockside five hours after the docking of the huge liner and proceeded to New York over the "Gull" route via Saint John, N.B. The second left an hour later over the same route and the remaining three were scheduled to leave at three, four thirty and six p.m. respectively, all bound for New York via Montreal.

Canadians To Be Kept Busy In Korea

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Canadian troops will be kept fully occupied in Korea this winter, the new commanding officer of the 1st Commonwealth Division said Monday.

Maj-Gen. Horatius Murray, who has been making a flying inspection of Canadian military units prior to taking over command of the division in Korea, said his most important task will be keeping his men busy.

"The men must be fully occupied at work or at play—and they will be," the 50-year-old career soldier said in an interview.

Gen. Murray, who is succeeding Maj-Gen. M. Alston-West, as head of the division composed of British, Canadian and Australian troops, gave no indication of specific plans he has in mind to keep the men busy during the long here.

He would only say the men would "be kept amused."

Successful Operations

Two men in their 30s got long lines of animal arteries to replace sections of their arm or leg arteries crushed in accidents. These borrowed animal arteries were up to six inches long.

The operations were done six to nine months ago, and are judged successful.

The animal arteries now are not alive. The human body uses them as a scaffold, replacing most of the artery tissue with new tissue of its own. But the all-important elastic tissues of the animal artery is kept intact, Dr. Hufnagel said.

The human body can't grow new elastic tissue, which keeps an artery from swelling or bursting under pressure of the blood.

Animal arteries were used because pieces of human arteries, preserved in the same way, were not available in the right sizes and shapes. Spare human arteries may be superior to animal ones, Dr. Hufnagel said, but this success opens a new source of supply.

Dressen Blames Billy Martin For Dodgers' Loss

NEW YORK, (AP)—"It was a blankety-blank, 250 hitter that beat us," fumed Brooklyn's Charlie Dressen. "It wasn't Mantle and it wasn't Berra."

"It was that little cuss out there on second base (Billy Martin) who won this series. He's the best blankety-blank man on their club."

It was so quiet in Brooklyn Dodgers' dressing room you could hear the little Brooklyn manager cracking his knuckles against the desk and unhappy Duke Snider mumbling to himself.

The Duke, whose four home runs made him the batting hero of the 1952 series, struck out three times as leadoff man as New York Yankees whipped the Dodgers 4-3 in a wild sixth-game finish Monday and kept intact the Dodger record of never having won a world baseball championship.

But the entire Brooklyn squad praised Martin, whose ninth-inning single brought home the winning run and at the same time tied the record for the most hits in a single world series—12.

"That little guy Martin is mean on the field," continued Dressen. "He's always trying to do something whether he's at bat or in the field. Always figuring out ways to beat you."

"He'll out you. He'll trip you. He'll knock your brains out if he can. He's that kind of ball player."

The most disconsolate player in the Brooklyn clubhouse was Clem Labine, young reliever who served up the pitch to Martin in the ninth—the pitch Martin lashed through the infield to score Hank Bauer.

Labine refused to talk to anyone. But catcher Roy Campanella said it was a good pitch—a "sinker" which he called for and was just right. He just got hold of it, that's all."

Hogan Agrees To Play In Charity Tourney

LONDON, (AP)—Ben Hogan has agreed to pit his golfing genius against every British amateur tournament star, who is willing to plunk down 35 cents for the chance of trading strokes with the Forth Worth master.

The project, sponsored by a London newspaper for a local golfing charity, works this way:

Hogan, with a handicap of plus 2, will play an 18-hole stroke round at Forth Worth Oct. 25.

British golfers will play off their club handicaps over any course they select Oct. 24 or 25, taking out as many cards as they wish at 35 cents each.

Those who beat the net score chalked up by Hogan will receive a certificate signed by the Texan.

British Champ In 10-Round Win Over Italian

LEICESTER, England, (AP)—British heavyweight champion Don Cockell won a 10-round decision over Italian champion Ugo Basile in a non-title bout Monday night.

"Fat Boy" Cockell, 215, slammed the game 195-pound Italian from beginning to end but couldn't knock him out. It was Cockell's first fight since he defeated American Harry Matthews in Seattle Aug. 8.

Surgeon Gives Humans Arteries From Cows, Pigs

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
 CHICAGO, (AP)—Four men are living with new arteries taken from calves and a pig, a surgeon said Monday.

The animal arteries are replacing their own damaged arteries in the chest, arm and leg.

It is a great surgical feat. For it marks the first repeal of a law of nature which has been blocking the goal of giving human's new hearts, lungs, or kidneys for their own tired, sick or damaged organs.

This law says no human, being will tolerate mature organs or tissues taken from another being or animal. Your body reacts to destroy the borrowed spare part.

New Method

The law was evaded by a new method of treating the animal arteries developed by Dr. Charles Hufnagel, Pierre J. Rabl and Lola Reed of Georgetown University medical center, Washington, D.C. Dr. Hufnagel reported it to the American College of Surgeons meeting here.

The arteries are quick-frozen and dried under a vacuum. Then they are sterilized by ethylene oxide. The dried arteries are kept in sealed containers in a vacuum, at room temperature, ready for use after being soaked in water.

The freezing and gas treatment may chemically change the arteries so they will be tolerated in the body of a human or another animal, Dr. Hufnagel said. This is the repeal of the law.

Two men in their 60s received segments of calf aortic arteries to replace arteries near their hearts which had hardened and narrowed dangerously.

C.N.R. Plans Thanksgiving Day Menu

MONCTON, N. B., Oct. 5—In keeping with the time honored harvest Thanksgiving festivities, the Canadian National Railways will offer a special Thanksgiving Day menu in dining cars across the system on Monday, October 12. The day officially set aside by the government as a National Thanksgiving Day for the bounties of the harvest.

Turkey will be featured along with mince and pumpkin pie tastefully prepared in the train kitchens by C.N.R. chefs. It is estimated that some eight hundred pies and a hundred odd turkeys will be served to patrons on the day.

The pumpkin pies served on the C.N.R. diners have attained a certain fame, and here is the recipe, enough to make three pies: 1 quart pumpkin, 1 oz. flour, one half pint cream, 1 pint milk, 1 teaspoonful ginger, one-half teaspoonful cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful mace, one-half teaspoonful nutmeg, one-half teaspoonful salt, dessert spoonful of lemon extract.

Average annual temperature in New Zealand ranges from 59 degrees in the north to 49 degrees in the south.
