Road Building Costs Share Election Limelight

FREDERICTON, Sept. 19—(CP)—A royal commission probe into highway construction on the Broad Road has shared the limelight as the New Brunswick election campaign approaches an end. Voters will cast their ballots Monday.

Premier John B. McNair has denied the implication of a Progressive Conservative question asking "Just how easy is it for some people to get a million dollars in business from the McNair Government under its system of 'negotiated' contracts?"

Mr. McNair said the government does not negotiate contracts and the Broad Road contract was properly let after a call for tenders.

H. J. Flemming, Progressive Conservative leader, replied that both the Royal Commission report and public accounts showed the following: A. W. Wasson, of Minto, was awarded a contract in 1947 at his tender price of $159,479, was given an extension of this the next year, completed the work in 1949 and received a total of $1,028,025.

Mr. Watson had testified, Mr. Flemming said, that he did not reply on estimates given with government calls for tenders because "the first job I had I think was around a $200,000 job and we got a million for doing it with the extensions."

Eden said the aid "which we and our Allies have given Yugoslavia is Liberal Party spokesmen have

300 Tons Of Fire Bombs Are Dropped

By George McArthur
SEOUL, Sept. 20—(Saturday)—(AP)—Thirty-three Superforts dropped 300 tons of fire bombs Friday on a Communist military centre near the East Korean industrial city of Hamhung. It was the first mass daylight raid in 11 months.

A spokesman said all Superforts, led by Brig.-Gen. Wiley Ganey, chief of the Far East Air Forces Bomber Command, returned safely.

Sabre jets flew protective cover for the big bombers, but Red fighters failed to show up. The Russian-built Migs rarely appear on the Korean east coast, remaining closer to their Manchurian bases, some 180 miles to the west.

Other Sabres sighted about 50 Migs on the Yalu River frontier during the day but no contacts were made.

Last year the Migs made it so hot for unescorted Superforts that daylight raids were suspended after Oct. 28.

Friday's targets were the Yonto military barracks containing 140 buildings, not previously hit by Superforts, and a 210 acre Tongchon supply area.

While the heaviest air blow fell in the east, Allied troops fought for control of Old Baldy on the western front.

The battle there raged for more than 24 hours. Chinese and Allied soldiers hugged the scarred slopes just a few yards from each other Friday night.

Millcove Club Youths Score Top Honors In Cattle Judging

Wallace Wood and Wilfred Stewart of the Millcove Holstein Club, yesterday won the right to represent this Province at the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto when they were selected as the top judges of cattle among the youthful contestants at yesterday's Rural Youth Fair. The big event for young farmers was held at the Exhibition grounds.

There were nine contestants for the top honors and they judged various breeds at the Fair grounds, Experimental Farm and on the farm of Mr. Guy Rodd, Brackley. At each point the young judges were given cards on which they rated the four animals shown each time. They then turned in their cards to the officials and later in the afternoon were taken to the Provincial Department of Agriculture where they were given written and oral tests in judging.

The members of the winning club scored over 600 points in taking the honors. In second place was the Bear River Calf Club represented by Patricia McIsaac and Martena Hughes. They were followed in order by clubs of Gowan Brae, the second Millcove team and Alexandra.

In addition to the winners of first and second, others taking part were Evenetia Smith and Zyla McInnis, Gowan Brae; Gloria Jenkins and Ian MacArthur, Millcove; Arthur Jones, Alexandra.

Larger Entry List
The big fair yesterday was considered better than last year's as it attracted a greater entry list in all classes and also drew a much larger audience. It was officially opened by Hon. C.C. Baker, Provincial Minister of Agriculture.

In his brief opening speech Hon. Mr. Baker reminded the crowd that the young farmers who stayed at home were more important to the economic life of the Province than the young people who made a great success of life somewhere else.

Mr. Baker remarked on the great increase in junior club work and said that this Province now had 74 Clothing Clubs, seven Food Clubs, eight Garden Clubs, two Grain Clubs, five Poultry Clubs, and 26 Calf Clubs. He said he hoped to see an increase in the number of Grain Clubs by the time next year's Youth Fair is held. He paid tribute to the work of the extension staff of his department and also thanked all members of both Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture for the splendid co-operation they have always provided.

The Minister of Agriculture was especially appreciative of the generosity of the Provincial Exhibition Association in making available its grounds and buildings.

Speaking directly to all club members present, Mr. Baker said that "there is no better opportunity to contribute your share in the building of good citizenship than on the farms of this Province." He said it was true that they might not amass wealth, but they could make a good living and be independent.

In welcoming the clubs to the

Report Coal Strike In U.S. May Be Averted

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19—(AP)—Reports circulated today that John L. Lewis and northern soft coal operators may be close to an agreement that would avert a strike due Monday.

None of the reports could be confirmed but they came from well qualified industry and government sources.

Mosher Resigns As C.B.R.E. Head; Successor Named

OTTAWA, Sept. 19—(CP)—An abrupt switch in the presidency of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (C.B.R.E.) today climaxed a week-long convention battle over leadership in that biggest of Canadian transport unions.

President A. R. Mosher, 72, stepped out voluntarily in a surprise move after fighting all week to stay in office, and he was succeeded by Harry Chappel, 49, of Winnipeg, a Mosher supporter.

Mr. Mosher, founder of the 32,000-member C.B.R.E. and its one president for 44 years, had won one major battle over his presidency and seemed on the way to winning the second round when he jarringly tossed in his withdrawal.

Mr. Mosher was promptly voted a $6,000-a-year pension by the convention and named the C.B.R.E.'s honorary president, a newly-created office.

There was speculation that the honorary presidency would strengthen Mr. Mosher's hand in the event he decides to run again for president of the 350,000-member Canadian Congress of Labor, convening in Toronto Monday.

One of the chief founders of the C.B.R.E., he has been its chief since it was created in 1940. But his withdrawal to the status of a rank-and-file member of the C.B.R.E. would have weakened his position in the congress.

Says Allied Navies Need More Aircraft Carriers

LONDON, Sept. 19—(Reuters)—Admiral Lynde McCormick, supreme Allied commander in the Atlantic, said today the Allied navies need more aircraft carriers.

He held a press conference at naval headquarters in Pitreavie, Scotland, that after surveying results of the big North Sea manoeuvre, "Mainbrace", he concluded that the forces suffer most from lack of maritime patrol aircraft for combating submarines and a shortage of minesweepers.

McCormick said a great many lessons will be drawn from the phase of the exercise concluded off Northern Norway by the 50-ship North Atlantic Treaty Organization striking fleet, but they would not be "earthshaking."

He revealed that in about a month a meeting will be held to draw up short-range and long-range exercises for forces available to him.

Tomorrow he will board the United States heavy cruiser Columbus and join the task force steaming south to support land forces hard pressed by a mock enemy invading Denmark from the east.

The ships refuelled at sea today after battering their way through gale-whipped seas off Norway. Normal patrols were resumed, a correspondent with the fleet reported.

A big NATO convoy sailed from Bergen, Norway, during the day with food, fuel and ammunition for the Danish defenders. It is being guarded by Norwegian destroyers.

Canadian ships taking part are the aircraft carrier Magnificent and the light cruiser Quebec.

Report Ike Annoyed By Expense Money

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19—(AP) Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower proclaimed today that "I believe Dick Nixon to be an honest man" but he indicated he wants his running mate to explain fully his acceptance of privately-raised expense money.

Eisenhower was reported to be angry over the incident. Associated Press reporter Jack Bell wrote from the General's campaign train that his top advisers were said to be split sharply over whether Senator Richard M. Nixon should be asked to withdraw from the Republican ticket.

Nixon defended his course in taking what he said was about $16,000 from private citizens in California to supplement his government expense allowances. Nixon said "crooks and Communists" are trying to smear him.

Stevenson Silent
Governor Adlai Stevenson, Eisenhower's Democratic opponent for the presidency, made no reference to the Nixon incident in a speech at Springfield, Mass.

Stephen A. Mitchell, the man Stevenson picked to be chairman of the Democratic national committee, renewed his attack on Nixon at a press conference in Des Moines, Ia.

"The problem is Gen. Eisenhower's... to cast away either his principles or his running mate," Mitchell said.

"I would like to see this thing thoroughly investigated by the press in the public interest... this is going to hurt in a lot of places."

Eisenhower made no reference to Nixon or the matter of the private expense fund in a series of whistle-stop talks between Omaha and Kansas City. He continued to hammer at what he calls wide corruption in Washington, declaring at one point that "we have got to get rid of people who regard public office as an opportunity to enrich or aggrandize themselves."

At Kansas City, Eisenhower struck anew at his Democratic opposition, saying Stevenson is a candidate of machine bosses who will try to win the presidency for him by "whatever means."

Nixon's initial mention of the expense fund in a public speech came while he campaigned through his home state, California. When he appealed to a crowd of 400 to 500 at Marysville to "kick the crooks out" by electing Eisenhower, someone called out "Tell us about the $16,000."

Nixon contended he has saved the taxpayers' money by taking expense funds from the private contributors instead of charging them to his senate office.

At Springfield, Stevenson returned to a familiar theme: That Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio is calling signals for the Eisenhower campaign. The General beat Taft for the nomination.
