SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO THE EXAMINER.

Liberal Federation Meeting.

LONDON, Dec. 2.

The meetings of the Liberal Federation began at Manchester to-day. Gladstone was present and delivered an address. He said that the Local Government did not meet the demands of the country. He advocated granting to the County Councils the power of taxation, control of the police and liquor traffic, care of the poor, power to deal with the question of ground rents, and to form distinct councils, and he would possibly go further and establish the parish principle of government and thus convey to the rural population the first elements of their public education, and create a sense of public duty which is the highest aim of the statesman. Gladstone said that since 1885 there had been an enormous stimulus to the public mind in regard to dwellings for the poor, enfranchisement, leasehold, crofter legislation, shorter Parliaments, the disestablishment of the Church in Scotland and Wales, currency and the House of Lords, the ultimate provision for direct Scottish and Welsh home rule, must be dealt with by future parliaments. When the idea of evolution, especially with reference to Irish affairs, should become more familiar, parliament would be able to address itself to the discharge of its duties, and would be relieved of an intolerable burden. Gladstone predicted a Liberal victory at the next election for members of parliament. He also moved an amendment to the registration laws, removing the plurality of votes and the establishment of a system of one vote for one man.

Opening of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.

The House of Representative Democratic caucus met at ten o'clock this morning and re-nominated all the old officers, except the chaplain, for which position no nomination was made. The Senate, after swearing in the new senators, at 12:35 p. m. adjourned. There was little or no excitement attending the opening of the Senate. Several foreign delegates to the Maritime and Pan-American Conferences, and a number of ladies, occupied seats. Sir Julian Pauncefote, British Minister, was among those present. The usual friendly greetings were interchanged on the floor, and interest centred of course on the senators from States who had seats assigned to them on the republican side of the chamber. At noon Vice-President Morton took his seat and the proceedings opened by Chaplain Rev. J. G. Butler, who invoked the divine blessing, closing with the Lord's Prayer, in which Senator Edmunds joined audibly. The house was organized by the election of Reidas, speaker, by a vote of 166, against 154 for Carlisle, and one for Cummings, of New York. There were 372 members present.

About Pensions.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 2.

Governor Hovey, as President of the Service Pension Association, in an appeal to the loyal people of the United States and their representatives in Congress explains that the scheme does not interfere with the system of disability pensions, but asks independently a pension for every man who served sixty days or more in the Union Army, not only for a support of the survivors, but as a mark of something, as the Victoria Cross or the French Cordion of Honor.

Another Poisoning Case.

CLINTON, Ont., Dec. 2.

Mrs. Edwards has been committed for trial.
