

Clarkin - Corcoran Wedding

The marriage of Miss Zeta Ellen Corcoran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John James Corcoran, Plusville, P. E. I., to Mr. Joseph Weston Clarkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Clarkin, Peakes, P. E. I., took place on Wednesday morning, July 14, at St. Anthony's Church, Bloomfield, P. E. I.

The Nuptial Mass was celebrated by Reverend Fr. M. J. Rooney while Mr. Cyrus Gallant played the wedding music. The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion with masses of summer flowers. During the Mass, the choir sang, "Mother At Your Feet Is Kneeling," "Pans Angelicus," "O Lord, I am Not Worthy," and during the signing of the register, "On This Day O Beautiful Mother."

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Kimmie MacGregor, as maid of honor, a sister, Miss Arline Corcoran, as senior bridesmaid, and another sister, Miss Alicia Corcoran, as junior bridesmaid. Mr. Gerald Clarkin was best man for his brother and the ushers were Mr. Dale Corcoran, brother of the bride, and Mr. Desmond Gallant.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length model gown of white brocade and nylon tulle over taffeta with a bolero jacket, the full skirt featuring pointed inserts of pearls and diamonds held in place by fingertip veil of tulle illusion. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a bouquet of pink roses and maiden hair fern with streamers.

The maid of honor wore a gown of pale mauve nylon net over taffeta with matching bolero. Her headpiece was a bandeau of matching nylon net and she carried a bouquet of red roses, bouvardia and bridal wreath.

The senior bridesmaid was similarly gowned in pale yellow nylon net while the junior bridesmaid was in white. They both wore matching bandeaus of nylon net and carried mixed bouquets of red roses, bouvardia and bridal wreath.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was attractively decorated with cut flowers and white candles and was centered with a three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom under an arch of wedding bells.

Reverend M. J. Rooney proposed a toast to the bride to which the groom fittingly responded.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Clarkin left by motor for a honeymoon trip through the Maritime Provinces, and on their return will reside in Montreal, Quebec. For going-away the bride changed to a frock of navy and white taffeta shantung with a milan straw hat, white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Among the many out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Louis Clarkin, Peakes, P. E. I.; Misses Marie and Jean Clarkin, Peakes, P. E. I.; Mrs. Henry LeClaire, Miss Geraldine LeClaire and Master William LeClaire, of Mansfield, Mass.; Mrs. Allyson Richardson, Boston, Mass.; Mr. Gerald Clarkin, Peakes, P. E. I.; Mrs. Thomas Ward, Boston, Mass.; Mrs. Ray Laurence; Miss Geraldine Laurence and Master John Laurence of Boston, Mass.; Mr. Harry Murray and Mr. Neil Harvey of Boston, Miss Anna Evans, Peakes, P. E. I.; Mr. Hector MacDonald, Peakes, P. E. I.

N. S. Gaelic Mod Opens Next Week

ST. ANNE'S, N. S. (CP)—This "wee bit" of Nova Scotia that sends Scottish hearts winging back to the crags and glens of Scotland will resound with the skirl of bagpipes from Aug. 6-12 when the Nova Scotia Gaelic Mod is held.

Little more than a sheep pasture the greater part of the year, the district comes into its own with the gathering of the clans, when multi-colored kilts and bonnets, offset by the rugged beauty of the land, will turn it into a "camera man's paradise."

The highlight of this year's program will be a parade of the 100 pipers as a preview of the part they will play when the Canso causeway opens next year.

A note of sadness will be cast on the otherwise gay program when a special tribute will be paid to the late premier Angus L. Macdonald, one of the strongest supporters of the clans in Nova Scotia.

"Chief" of the gathering this year will be Edward James Bruce, 10th Earl of Elgin and 14th Earl of Kincardine. Lord Bruce, head of Scotland's Bruce Clan, is a descendant of King Robert the Bruce who reigned supreme over the 13th century. He's the man who took his inspiration from the persistent spid.

Each day of the six-day long gathering will be devoted to a special event. Opening with Welcome Day, the program will include Gathering of the Clans Day; Pioneer Commemoration Day, which will include an outdoor Gaelic service; Cape Breton Island Day; Nova Scotia Champlona Day, when piping, dancing and singing competitions will be held. The mod will close with a pageant of Scotland Day.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. WILLIAM SMITH
The death of Mrs. William Smith occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. A. MacTavish, Lower Newtown, on June 5, on the eve of her 102nd birthday.

Mrs. Smith, better known to many as 'Aunt Mary', was born in Lower Newtown, and after her husband's death in 1903, went to the United States where she has previously spent some years and later resided for some time in Western Canada. Since her return in 1925 she has lived with her daughter in Lower Newtown.

Besides her daughter above mentioned, she leaves to mourn one son, William in Denver, Colorado; also four grand children and nine great-grand-children, a daughter Jennie having predeceased her in 1903.

She had been confined to bed for six months previous to her passing, but to converse with her, even up until the time of her death, was an inspiration to both old and young. For a number of years her hearing was impaired, yet, she was never known to complain. She never lost contact with her old neighbours and friends.

Funeral services were held June 7, with a short service at the home, followed by an impressive service in St. John's Church, Belfast, conducted by her pastor, Rev. J. E. Heathwood, assisted by Rev. E. C. Evans, a former pastor of St. John's Church and a close friend of the departed.

Hymns sung were "The Lord's My Shepherd" "Jesus, Lover of My Soul"; also a beautiful rendition of "The Gate Ajar" by four members of the choir.

The pallbearers were: Messrs. Harry A. MacDougall, Bennett Gillis, D. W. MacLeod, John D. MacDougall, Malcolm MacEachern, Joseph Griffin.

Interment was in Belfast Cemetery, assisting at the graveside was Rev. A. C. Fraser, Valleyfield.

The floral tributes were as follows: - Pillow-The family. Basket of Flowers-Margaret. Spray-Maggie. Spray-Belle and boys. Spray-Mamie and Willie. Spray-John N. Reta and family. Spray-Mamie and girls-Bennett, Alma and family. Spray-Belle, Etta, Tena and Lem. Spray-Heclor, Irene, Daniel, Belle. Spray-Euster and Kathleen. Spray-Eric, Jean and Wayne. Spray-Peter and Donald. Spray-Florence and Dan. Spray-Thelma. Spray-Bessie and family. Spray-Katie, Herman-May and Harry. Spray-Lower Newtown and Orwell Cove W. M. S. Spray-Lower Newtown Women's Institute.

Card of Thanks

Mrs. D. A. MacTavish and family wish to express their sincere thanks to all relatives and friends for their many acts of kindness and for the lovely flowers, letters and cards of sympathy.

Defence Workers Panic Victims

FORT JEFFERSON, N. Y. (AP) - Heaven help this Long Island community if a real atom bomb ever comes along. A make believe one was bad enough.

As part of a Suffolk county civil defence drill, a 52-inch simulated bomb was set off Thursday night with these results: Eighty house windows were blown out. Six plate glass store windows were shattered. A chandelier fell from a restaurant ceiling and injured a woman.

Two women fainted. One man had a heart attack. A car was damaged by flying glass. Ten dogs were temporarily muzzled.

BOMB GAINED POWER
The simulated bomb had been used without incident in other tests. Its manufacturers could only guess that it gained unexpected power because Fort Jefferson is in a valley and the hillside magnified the blast.

But that wasn't all. As dazed civil defence workers regrouped after the explosion they completely forgot about two low flying jet planes that roared over further unnerved the CD workers and they hit the dirt in panic.

COMPLETELY UNEXPECTED
Once again they regrouped, only to scatter anew when a civil air patrol plane arrived and began dropping emergency supplies.

Some of them nearly hit the shaken CD workers.

"Was all this unexpected?" Civil defence director Kenson Merrill was asked.

"Completely," he gasped.

SALAD WEEK

JULY 29 - AUGUST 7

Every year since 1951 a week has been set aside as Salad Week to encourage Canadians to eat more fresh fruits and vegetables. The dates are chosen to coincide with the time when fruits and vegetables are at their peak production in Canada. The purpose of Salad week is two-fold. First to publicize the fact that Canadians as a group are not eating enough fresh fruits and vegetables for optimum health and secondly, to help increase the domestic market for these fresh products from many Canadian farms.

Modern transportation facilities and refrigeration have made it possible to ship perishable fruits and vegetables long distances at reasonable costs to the consumer. Many Canadians, unfortunately, still have "dried beans and pickles" food habits. Larger demands for fresh fruits and vegetables will ultimately benefit all in better health and greater availability of these products.

Salad week is supported by several departments of government, both federal and provincial, by leading health and nutrition authorities as well as by all branches of the food industry. The Canadian Horticultural Council co-ordinates the promotion of Salad Week.

It gives the Department of Agriculture of Prince Edward Island great pleasure to endorse Salad Week and to encourage all firms, industries and societies who are promoting this work.

C. O. BAKER, Minister.
S. C. WRIGHT, Deputy Minister.
