Colorful Academic Procession Features Opening Ceremonies

"The fundamental purpose of Christian education is the salvation of souls, first the soul of the individual himself and then the souls of others." Rev. T. P. Butler, parish priest of Fort Augustus, P.E.I. told the graduates, their parents and friends at the first event of the 1956 Graduation Exercises held in St. Dunstan's College Chapel yesterday evening.

The variety of colors in the academic costumes are significant to those who understand their symbolism. The colors in the hoods are those of the university from which the wearer received his degree. The style of the attire indicates the degree received, and the colors of the trimmings indicate the faculty such as Arts, Science, or Commerce.

After the Baccalaureate Sermon, Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given by Rev. J. A. Sullivan, Vice-Rector and Dean of Studies of the College. Tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock the principal event, the Commencement, will be held in the Alumni Auditorium. Here the graduates will receive their degrees and hear the address of the Hon. John J. Connolly of Ottawa.

Speaking of the coincidence or design in the fact that the opening exercises took place on the Feast of Pentecost, the speaker dwelt at length on the "establishment, or rather, re-establishment of the union between God and man that was lost in the Fall of Adam," he showed how this union was re-effected on the First Pentecost with the coming of the Holy Ghost.

Yesterday evening's exercises began when the colorful academic procession of faculty members and graduates and Most Reverend Malcolm A. MacEachern, Bishop of Charlottetown, left the Main Building at seven o'clock and proceeded to the College Chapel.
