NO POET EVER REVEALED—A keener knowledge of the inner workings of the hearts and minds of just plain men and women than did Will Carleton, two of whose poems have been made into a screen drama of surpassing power and beauty, known as "Over the Hill". BIRTHDAY PARTY—An event of more than ordinary interest took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bernard of Kensington on April 14 when a number of friends and neighbors gathered to celebrate the seventh birthday of their son Jack. When the meeting was called to order, Mr. Heath Bonness was appointed chairman and in a few well chosen remarks stated the purpose of the gathering. He then called upon Miss Jennie Bonness, who read a nicely worded address at the close of which Miss Hazel Harding presented Jack with a beautiful gift as a slight token of remembrance. Jack replied in a very fitting speech, thanking the donors for their gift and expressing the wish that they would all come and spend many more birthdays with him. Lunch was then served in Mrs. Bernard's usual excellent style. Misses Hazel Harding and Hazel Bonness cutting the loaves; the evening was then pleasantly whiled away in music and dancing until the wee small hours, when after singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" announcing the genial host, all departed for their homes, feeling that they had indeed spent a most enjoyable evening.

DANCE ENJOYED—A very enjoyable dance was held in the Orpheus Hall Friday evening under the auspices of the Beaver's Club. The hall which was tastefully decorated, was filled to the hilt. The Beaver orchestra which was in attendance furnished music which would be hard to equal. Although the hall was packed the young people enjoyed themselves to the utmost. Refreshments were served about 12 o'clock when the home made cake and tea cream disappeared very quickly. The Beaver's are to be congratulated upon their entire success in holding a dance, it being their first which was a success.

DON'T BE A BACK NUMBER—See the photograph that has set New York talking from the Battery to the Bronx. The William Fox production of "Over the Hill" is the most remarkable photoplay of his age. A film treat for those who like plenty of good old fashioned sentiment mixed with plenty of brisk, wholesome comedy. "Over the Hill" will be shown at the Strand for four days, commencing today at 2.30.

THE MAN WAS DEAD—The thirteenth, trying husband of her life, just another trial for the little mother, who was called upon to bear the burden of all the family's griefs and misfortunes. It is all old in "Over the Hill" the starting photoplay of life in an average rural family. Will Carleton wrote the story with his pen and William Fox has made it into a super film called "Over the Hill" which will open at the Strand to day at 2.30.
