Nurses Hear Miss Lyle Creelman

Miss Lyle Creelman, who for the past three years has been nursing consultant in maternal and child health with the World Health Organization, spoke to a group of nurses and others at Red Cross House on September 9th.

Miss Creelman spoke briefly of the organization of W. H. O. and the five regions which are made up of the countries that have joined. She spoke of the nursing teams, composed of one or more doctors and nurses who, when asked by the government of a country to help organize nursing, are matched by an equal number of doctors and nurses in that country. Adjustments must be made in each country when organizing, and nursing education is of necessity adapted to the customs, living conditions and facilities of that country.

Miss Creelman emphasized the point that the policy of the nursing team is to teach and train leaders in the country seeking help in order that they may carry on. She also emphasized the need of integrating public health all through the nursing course.

An account of a trip taken by Miss Creelman from Geneva through Egypt, India, Burma and Ceylon whetted the appetite of her audience, who would have kept her talking for hours if time had permitted.

Those who had the opportunity of hearing Miss Creelman were stimulated by her talk and received an appreciation of her work that only the personal contact can give.

Des Jardins-Larter Wedding

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Dunstan's Basilica on Wednesday morning, August 20th, when Helen Catherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Larter, became the bride of Louis John, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas DesJardins, Drummond, N.B.

The church was tastefully decorated with baskets of assorted gladioli.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. James Kelly of St. Dunstan's University.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. She chose for her wedding a floor length gown of satin and lace, with fitted bodice of Chantilly lace, mandarin neckline, and lace sleeves falling to points over the wrists. A panel of lace insertion in the skirt ended in a train. Her fingertip veil fell from a tiara of seedpearls, and she carried a white prayer book with a corsage of cream roses and a shower of white sweet peas.

Miss Jean Larter, sister of the bride, wore a gown of blue satin with matching headdress and carried a nosegay of Pink Delight roses.

The groom was attended by Mr. Ralph Breau as best man, while the ushers were Messrs. Eric and Dan Larter, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Larter wore for her daughter's wedding a two piece dress of black and white poodle cloth and a corsage of white carnations.

During the ceremony solos were rendered by Mr. Frank McIntyre. The organist was Mrs. Richard Dougan.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Charlottetown Hotel.

The bride's table was centered with a three tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, and flanked by tall white tapers. A toast was proposed to the bride by Rev. James Kelly and responded to by the groom.

Following the reception the happy couple left amid showers of confetti on a honeymoon trip to New Brunswick. For travelling the bride wore a suit of cream suede with navy blue accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Earl Chatterton, Moncton, N.B., Mrs. Paul Drescher, and the Misses Paula and Beverley Drescher, Jamestown, N.Y., Miss Jean Larter, Toronto, Ontario.

The couple will reside in Cornwall, Ontario, where the groom is branch manager of the American Optical Company.
