DOMESTIC ECONOMY

Said Brown unto his wife one day,
"We're nothing left to eat;
If things go on in this queer way,
We can't make both ends meet."
His wife replied in words discreet,
"Oh, we won't be badly fed;
If you can make but one end meat,
I'll make the other bread."
Chicago News.

BUT GOOD WIFE!

You can't make good Bread, if you don't use good Flour. It's a mistake many people make in buying Flour as well as other things, in thinking they are using economy by buying a cheap grade but it generally proves the dearest in the end. When in want of Flour give us a call; we keep most of the standard brands and can quote as low prices as anyone in the trade.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—A large decrease in the number of cases of Kidney Disease has been noted in this city during the past year.

"Here's only one thing to be said about it," said a prominent physician, speaking on the subject to-day.

"This falling off is due solely to the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills by the people. Dodd's Kidney Pills are the most wondrous kidney remedy ever known. They are used in nearly every household, which accounts for the great decrease of Kidney Complaints."

BUSINESS IS BUSINESS?

Under constitutional government, the minister is responsible for the acts of his subordinates. Nothing more can be said about emergency rations because the Minister of Militia, in a long and labored argument, proved that he "didn't know any better," and the "faithful commons," (or at least those of the faithful who knew "there was something in it" for the Minister, if they voted against the Government, for the boys if they voted for it)—voted that "he didn't know any better." Next time the white-wash pail is brought in for the Minister of Militia, it will no doubt be proved that "he didn't know anything about it." The facts in the case are these: Shorey & Co., Montreal, clothing manufacturers, believing that a large contract for supplies for the Imperial forces was about to be given out, wrote to the authorities at Ottawa asking for information on the subject, so that they might have the necessary particulars on which to base a tender. The reply received was to the effect that nothing was known of any such intention; Shorey & Co., having the rumor corroborated in a way that absolutely established its truth, made application a second time and were again told that the Canadian Government knew nothing of the matter. Between the time of Shorey & Co.'s two applications, a contract appears to have been given to Mark Workman & Co., Montreal, and Sanford and Co., Hamilton, and that without asking for tenders. Now the Minister, his deputy, and clerks, may not have known as soon as Shorey & Co. that the Imperial forces were to receive supplies from Canada. Someone, in an inferior position, who opens letters and refuses information to proposing tenderers, may not have known that the Imperial order had been received. No one surely will believe that any responsible head or deputy would knowingly set signature to a falsehood, but the cheap help, who are employed to receive information, should be superannuated, and heads and deputy heads must make a point of "knowing" their business. It is time the public business was conducted on business methods. A member of the Government, not unknown to fame, has declared business to be business. The business men of Canada heartily wish that this statement, like many others from the same brilliant author, could be verified. Tenders should be called for on all Government contracts. Leading business men should have their letters read and truthfully answered. Get someone who "knows" something at work.—Canadian Journal of Fabrics

Cared the Curious Youth.

"Faving over the unclaimed mail is a favorite amusement among a certain set of idle youths," said a hotel clerk yesterday. "Any letters for So-and-so? they will ask, giving an imaginary name, their object being apparently to gratify idle curiosity by studying the superscriptions and reading the postals. Last fall an idiot of that type received a severe lesson here in this house. He made the usual request, giving rather a peculiar name, which he afterward admitted he had thought of on the spur of the moment. By a remarkable coincidence two central office detectives were standing near the desk at the time, and the name he gave was that of a noted crook who was wanted by the police of Chicago very badly. "Without a word more than was necessary they took the young gentleman by the arm and carried him off to police headquarters. He was so astonished that he was unable to make a coherent explanation and really presented a picture of guilt. His story at headquarters that he had asked for letters under an assumed name was regarded as so improbable that they held him until telegraphic inquiries could be made. Of course it turned out that he was not the Chicago crook, but he got the scare of his life, and you may rest assured that he has dropped that form of amusement from his indulgences."—New York News.
