

Good resolutions strengthens love

It takes two to make a perfect marriage. The bride who tries to be a wonderful wife may succeed, if her husband co-operates. Good example may help the situation if the man doesn't get the point at first—that there is no sense in looking for trouble, by prolonging or nurturing unpleasantries. Do your best and you'll have no regrets. Here are some resolutions that may help in marital happiness. I WILL:

1. Make my husband's breakfast every morning, even if he insists I stay in bed.
2. Try to look human at the breakfast table by wearing a neat house dress or robe, combing my hair.

3. Avoid mentioning my old boy friends and what I might have had if I married another.
4. Make sure that my husband has clean shirts, underwear and that his suit returns from the cleaner promptly.
5. Cook him dishes that he enjoys, and lead him gradually to better nutrition.
6. Try not to make him over (all at once).
7. Consult him about home furnishings and decorating.
8. Avoid discussing money matters with him in the morning before he goes to work.

9. Discuss with him plans to invite guests to the home, and the menu I plan for that evening.
10. Try to avoid being jealous of his friends, male or female.
11. Not pout when he comes home from work late, and listen to his excuse with an open mind.
12. Give him some leisure time and not expect him to sit and admire me all the time.
13. Try to make his interests mine, instead of criticizing the time he spends on baseball or a hobby.
14. Not plead for compliments all the time.
15. Be sure to have his dinner ready when he wants it.
16. Not criticize him for a frivolous expenditure now and then if he provides well most of the time.
17. Talk over a grievance in mature fashion, not pout or sleep on a grudge.
18. Try not to be jealous of his mother, even if he praises her cooking or compares it to mine.
19. Show respect for him in the presence of others and not humiliate him by word or deed.
20. Be home when he arrives from work.

A husband who is mature enough to marry should be able to cope with situations that arise in the home. If his goal is to make his wife happy, then he will succeed. If he is worried more about his own selfish interests, the he may cause a snag in what could be a perfect marriage.

Here are some resolutions for the groom that could help out the marriage on the blissful beam:

I WILL:

1. Not expect miracles of the new cook, and will not complain about the meals, except constructively.
2. Try to remember that women love flattery, and it doesn't cost anything.
3. Ask her to set a fair clothing allowance, so that she does not have to beg for it.
4. Take her out occasionally for dinner, and not make an issue of the cost.
5. Avoid criticizing her mother and other relatives, even if I don't love them.
6. Not invite the boss, the boys or my relatives to the house without discussing it with her first.
7. Try to keep my home in good repair.
8. Prepare the breakfast occasionally, maybe on a Sunday morning.
9. Accompany her to church if she asks me to do so, as often as possible.
10. Not argue with her over a card foursome.
11. Make suggestions about her hairdo, hat, dress, but not in a critical fashion.
12. Lend a hand with the house work occasionally instead of taking the attitude it's her exclusive job.
13. Telephone her when I know that I will be late coming home from work.
14. Not expect her to provide porterhouse steak on a frankfurter budget.
15. Not go off to work without a goodbye kiss even if I am miffed about something.
16. Listen to "her day" which must become boring, for want of companionship.
17. Try to make her birthday and our anniversary a festive occasion.
18. When in a bossy mood, I'll remember that I'm not paying her a salary for her housework.
19. Surprise her occasionally with flowers, candy or a little gift.
20. Try to maintain the romantic mood of the honeymoon as long as possible.

W. M. CONDON & SON

for THE BRIDE TO BE

From

W. M. Condon & Son

BLANKETS

We have a complete line of satin bound Blankets, including reversible, pastel shades, checks. Also auto robes made from 100% pure virgin wool. Orders mailed anywhere in Canada.

WM. CONDON and SONS

65 Queen Street

Dial 4-8712

Charlottown

FROM Taylors

"With this ring I thee wed"

Select your wedding rings from our up-to-the-minute styles.

Taylors are the best friend of the bride-to-be --- for here you will find everything for that "Big Day" --- Your favorite pattern in China, Crystal and Silver --- Gifts for your bridesmaids, ushers, etc.

Pearls are a "must" for the bride --- choose from our wide selection.

Beauty to last a lifetime, sterling silver, silverplate and stainless in a host of patterns.

Taylors
JEWELLERS LTD

121 Grafton St.

Dial 4-4253

14. Not plead for compliments all the time.

15. Be sure to have his dinner ready when he wants it.

16. Not criticize him for a frivolous expenditure now and then if he provides well most of the time.

17. Talk over a grievance in mature fashion, not pout or sleep on a grudge.

18. Try not to be jealous of his mother, even if he praises her cooking or compares it to mine.

19. Show respect for him in the presence of others and not humiliate him by word or deed.

20. Be home when he arrives from work.

A husband who is mature enough to marry should be able to cope with situations that arise in the home. If his goal is to make his wife happy, then he will succeed. If he is worried more about his own selfish interests, the he may cause a snag in what could be a perfect marriage.

Here are some resolutions for the groom that could help out the marriage on the blissful beam:

I WILL:

1. Not expect miracles of the new cook, and will not complain about the meals, except constructively.
2. Try to remember that women love flattery, and it doesn't cost anything.
3. Ask her to set a fair clothing allowance, so that she does not have to beg for it.
4. Take her out occasionally for dinner, and not make an issue of the cost.
5. Avoid criticizing her mother and other relatives, even if I don't love them.
6. Not invite the boss, the boys or my relatives to the house without discussing it with her first.
7. Try to keep my home in good repair.
8. Prepare the breakfast occasionally, maybe on a Sunday morning.
9. Accompany her to church if she asks me to do so, as often as possible.
10. Not argue with her over a card foursome.
11. Make suggestions about her hairdo, hat, dress, but not in a critical fashion.
12. Lend a hand with the house work occasionally instead of taking the attitude it's her exclusive job.
13. Telephone her when I know that I will be late coming home from work.
14. Not expect her to provide porterhouse steak on a frankfurter budget.
15. Not go off to work without a goodbye kiss even if I am miffed about something.
16. Listen to "her day" which must become boring, for want of companionship.
17. Try to make her birthday and our anniversary a festive occasion.
18. When in a bossy mood, I'll remember that I'm not paying her a salary for her housework.
19. Surprise her occasionally with flowers, candy or a little gift.
20. Try to maintain the romantic mood of the honeymoon as long as possible.

14. Not plead for compliments all the time.

15. Be sure to have his dinner ready when he wants it.

16. Not criticize him for a frivolous expenditure now and then if he provides well most of the time.

17. Talk over a grievance in mature fashion, not pout or sleep on a grudge.

18. Try not to be jealous of his mother, even if he praises her cooking or compares it to mine.

19. Show respect for him in the presence of others and not humiliate him by word or deed.

20. Be home when he arrives from work.

A husband who is mature enough to marry should be able to cope with situations that arise in the home. If his goal is to make his wife happy, then he will succeed. If he is worried more about his own selfish interests, the he may cause a snag in what could be a perfect marriage.

Here are some resolutions for the groom that could help out the marriage on the blissful beam:

I WILL:

1. Not expect miracles of the new cook, and will not complain about the meals, except constructively.
2. Try to remember that women love flattery, and it doesn't cost anything.
3. Ask her to set a fair clothing allowance, so that she does not have to beg for it.
4. Take her out occasionally for dinner, and not make an issue of the cost.
5. Avoid criticizing her mother and other relatives, even if I don't love them.
6. Not invite the boss, the boys or my relatives to the house without discussing it with her first.
7. Try to keep my home in good repair.
8. Prepare the breakfast occasionally, maybe on a Sunday morning.
9. Accompany her to church if she asks me to do so, as often as possible.
10. Not argue with her over a card foursome.
11. Make suggestions about her hairdo, hat, dress, but not in a critical fashion.
12. Lend a hand with the house work occasionally instead of taking the attitude it's her exclusive job.
13. Telephone her when I know that I will be late coming home from work.
14. Not expect her to provide porterhouse steak on a frankfurter budget.
15. Not go off to work without a goodbye kiss even if I am miffed about something.
16. Listen to "her day" which must become boring, for want of companionship.
17. Try to make her birthday and our anniversary a festive occasion.
18. When in a bossy mood, I'll remember that I'm not paying her a salary for her housework.
19. Surprise her occasionally with flowers, candy or a little gift.
20. Try to maintain the romantic mood of the honeymoon as long as possible.

14. Not plead for compliments all the time.

15. Be sure to have his dinner ready when he wants it.

16. Not criticize him for a frivolous expenditure now and then if he provides well most of the time.

17. Talk over a grievance in mature fashion, not pout or sleep on a grudge.

18. Try not to be jealous of his mother, even if he praises her cooking or compares it to mine.

19. Show respect for him in the presence of others and not humiliate him by word or deed.

20. Be home when he arrives from work.

JOB PRINTING

Call us for programs, club bulletins, business letterheads. All work guaranteed.

GUARDIAN - PATRIOT
CENTRAL PRINTERY
Phone 4-8506

A PERFECT PAIR
Spring and Brides

SPRING DRESSES
For Spring 1966 NU-STYLE has selected a wide variety of fine dresses for Mi-lady. In a dazzling array of cottons, jerseys, silks and silks. The smartest, fashion are yours, for only $8.95 - $24.95

SPRING SUITS
In Spring a lady thoughts turn to a fine suit. NU-STYLE has just the suit for your Spring wardrobe. In a wide variety of styles and the finest in material for that tailored appearance and priced for only $12.95 - $24.95

NU-STYLE DRESS SHOP
90 Gt. George Ch'town

FREE TO OUR CUSTOMERS

Crockett and Storey Limited
Dedicated to Home Improvement

Crockett and Storey Limited
Dedicated to Home Improvement

Crockett and Storey Limited
Dedicated to Home Improvement

Crockett and Storey Limited
Dedicated to Home Improvement

Crockett and Storey Limited
Dedicated to Home Improvement

Crockett and Storey Limited
Dedicated to Home Improvement

For The Bride To - Be

On the DAY when Everything MUST BE JUST RIGHT

Elite Millinery Provides the Finest

- MILLINERY and
- BRIDAL VEILS

Made to Order

THE ELITE MILLINERY

142 Gt. George St. Dial 4-9181

Prince Edward Island's Showplace of Fine Furniture

Fine Quality Furniture

fashioned for your

Wedded Life

We invite the discriminant couple to view our selection of fine furniture in room settings they will visualize in their own homes.

If you're looking for a lifetime of happiness in tasteful surroundings, a visit to our showroom will be a rewarding experience.

For that Added Touch
Everything for the home... and on time payment plan. Appointments may be arranged for convenient evening visits to our store if desired. Our experienced furniture consultants will be pleased to discuss your needs with you.

Our Location

We are located at 134 Kent Street in the heart of Charlottetown. Our phone number is 894-5559.

