

Mayor Bruce H. Yeo Reviews Year's Progress In Montague

On behalf of myself and the town council, I wish to extend sincere thanks for your co-operation during the year 1960. The "Pay As You Go" policy has been strictly followed in the past year with the tax rate being kept at a minimum — real estate .30 cents per $100 and personal property .30 cents per $100. We hope to be able to follow this policy during the year 1961 and at all times are most anxious to follow the wishes of the citizens who are the taxpayers.

MAYOR BRUCE H. YEO

A comprehensive street program was initiated for 1960 and was approved and passed by the town council. This was a permanent street project and up until the present time, Brook Street, Riverside Drive, MacLeod Ave., and Chestnut Street have been graded and paved with permanent asphalt and only require the final finishing coating. The other streets that have been designated to be paved will be completed at the earliest possible time.

It was found necessary to employ a permanent town policeman, in accordance with the wishes of the citizens, and there has been a marked improvement in law and order, especially regarding traffic regulations. A substantial addition of fire fighting equipment was added to the town fire department and at the present time, a survey is being made as to the feasibility of installing a water system for fire and domestic use.

We have been diligently trying to induce industry to come to Montague in order to create employment. Don't give up hope, this matter has been given full consideration and a solution will eventually be found, we trust, in the near future.

The Garden of the Gulf Museum had its most successful year to date and has attracted innumerable visitors to our town, which is a definite indication of progress. Montague is considered as a pioneer in having the first and only permanent museum in the province of Prince Edward Island.

In closing, I extend best wishes to all the citizens for their co-operation and friendliness during the past year. The best to all for 1961.

Bruce Holmes Yeo, Mayor, Town of Montague.

Bedeque Rink In Operation

BEDEQUE — Bedeque rink, the scene of many winter time activities, officially opened on Christmas Day with a skating attendance of well over 200 persons, which rink manager Ralph Lord described as larger than any in recent years.

Fourteen teams will be participating in the South Shore League at the Bedeque rink this winter and will represent the districts of Lot 16, Cape Traverse, Kinkora and Bedeque.

The next skating event scheduled for the Bedeque rink is one planned for New Year's night.

New Year's Dinner Party Should Have Early Start

"A PARTY dinner for New Year's Eve should start about nine and break up soon after the New Year is welcomed in," I told the Chef. "This may seem getting off to a late dinner start, but it can mean getting home earlier, both of which are advantageous, especially with small children in the family and the complication of babysitters."

Souris Is Not Yet Recovered From Fire Says Mayor Birt

Following is a New Year's greeting from Mayor Wendell Birt of Souris:

"At the close of my first year as mayor of the town of Souris I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to all citizens for their wonderful co-operation during the past year.

"This co-operation was very evident during the following: a disastrous fire on the night of March 3 from which we have not as yet fully recovered.

"Construction and improvements are believed to have reached a higher quota than former years. A new federal building has been completed; a new steel and concrete fireproof Town Fire Station has recently been completed and occupied and the fire department has two tank trucks, one hose truck and two auxiliary trailer pumpers as well as ample fire fighting equipment.

"On the streets a half-mile of heavy hard surface pavement was laid on Chapel Street.

"I take this opportunity to express to my colleagues a heartfelt thanks for loyal support and teamwork in all our endeavours.

"To the citizens I extend greetings and best wishes for a better and more prosperous year in 1961."

"I am sure that you are companionable by nature. Even as part of a group, you probably keep yourself to yourself, as the saying is. In appearance you are quite good looking (or could be), it seems, with a fine forehead, reserved eyes under level brows, and a rather sensitive face, strongly but delicately chiseled. You aren't a very relaxed person, nor very easy to get along with, I should imagine.

There is an almost forbidding lack of spontaneity or friendliness in your expression; a sort of distrust, as if you warily expect the worst from life, and stand guard against it. Is it unconscious negativism such as this that keeps you from meeting the right girl? Or turns her against you, instinctively?

Your wearing apparel doesn't do you justice. The suit you have on is badly cut, ill fitting; and the necktie too loud for your thoughtful face. I venture to mention this because if you can afford a car and a boat, you can afford to invest in good clothes.

DISLIKES WOMEN
Your suits should be well tailored, of handsome fabric; and your ties plain and dark (or with a neat small pattern if you like). Also a re-styled hair cut, to reduce the floppy or fluffy effect on top, would add to your social appeal. I am sure. See the barber in town for this, and let him train your locks.

Now, back to the subject of finding the right girl to be your wife. It suddenly dawns on me that the look on your face is sour and critical, really, as if this might be your habitual unconscious response to other people. If such is the case, it may explain why you either don't meet, or don't get to first base with truly nice girls, since they would not want to subject their finer feelings to your implicit hostility.

Thus in your supposed quest for a suitable life companion, probably you should get a psychologist's help in checking and correcting the reasons why you are inwardly frozen and bitter as regards womenfolk — whom you need and dislike in equal measure, which makes the problem. Once you get that puzzle cleared up, you'll have no trouble wife-hunting, I think. M.H.

MARY HAWORTH

Male Lists Qualification Desired In Suitable Wife

Dear Mary Haworth: Members of my family read your column with much interest. We like your common sense answers to the many problems thrown at you. Take the recent letter from G.L., a 33-year-old divorcee who is faced with the problem of finding a suitable husband. She isn't aggressive about corraling men. Evidently I'm not aggressive about corraling women; because for the past five years I have tried to find a suitable wife—to no avail.

I am a divorced man, a college graduate, a school teacher, and a baritone in the choir of a large church. I belong to a number of religious organizations, love to play tennis, water ski and enjoy other wholesome sports. I have a new car and a fine boat.

NOT TOO EXACTING
Everything is dandy, except that I've not found the right girl. My qualifications aren't too rigid, I think. However, she must not drink or smoke, must love church and be as deeply religious as I. It would appear that your correspondent G.L. could fill the bill; but where do I find her, or another like her? Can you tell me?
I've been socially active in the ways you suggest; and have had many dates, but just can't find the right girl. It seems, I am 24 and need companionship terribly. You have helped many others; so what's the answer for me? P.S.: Enclosed is a photograph of myself. R.Y.
