Double Ring Ceremony Unites Young Couple

St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, Cardigan, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday, August twenty-third when Florence Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ployer, Martiavale, was united in marriage with Alexander Sterling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling MacSwain of Morell.

Rev. D.A. Campbell performed the double ring ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of summer flowers, while the guest pews were marked with white satin bows and lily of the valley on nylon netting.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose for her wedding a floor length gown of nylon net and Chantilly lace over taffeta trimmed with tiny seed pearls and sequins. The bodice of Chantilly lace was fashioned with high neck line and long sleeves coming to a point over the hands. A coronet of pearls and sequins held her finger tip veil of tulle illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty Roses.

The groom's mother was attired in silver blue taffeta with coral and black accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations.

Miss Joan Ployer, sister of the bride was in charge of the guest book.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Rainbow Room of the Bison Restaurant. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. D.A. Campbell and responded to by the groom.

Two telegrams of congratulations were read by Mr. Donald Anderson from Miss Doris Anderson and Mrs. Lilla Peel.

For travelling the bride wore a blue linen suit with black and white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

On their return from their honeymoon trip to the New England States, Niagara Falls and the Cabot Trail Mr. and Mrs. MacSwain have taken up residence in their home at Morell.

Prior to her marriage Mrs. MacSwain was entertained at a miscellaneous shower, by the girls of the Royal Bank, at the home of Mrs. Edith Curran, also at a community shower in Lorne Valley Hall.

Go To Sleep In Peace — Know Well, God Is Awake

The September day pauses now a moment in the moonlight, straightens shoulders we can fancy are a bit weary, smiles a little wistfully... and then faces a way toward the hilltop. Another week is gone. And in this quiet which accompanies its passing, and with the thought of sweet rest ahead, we recall a nice wish we read not long ago inscribed on a quaint yellowed card. It said:

"May you have courage for the great sorrows of life, and patience for the small ones. And when you have accomplished your daily task, go to sleep in peace. God is awake."

So it comes to mind now at week's end, we shall at Alderlea — and we hope Island-over, with tasks done, come presently to "sleep in peace."

"Now where" James chuckled to Mack this evening "did our young stokers disappear to for a while this afternoon?"

And Mack our nine-year-old grinned shyly and replied "We weren't gone for long, were we? While we waited for the binder to make its fourth round—you know we needed that many rows of sheaves for our stooking—we went down to the creek to see if there were any trout about. And I guess we got interested in building a causeway there where it narrows."

"Oh you weren't away long", James said smiling fondly at the lad. "And I must say that both you and Gage have stayed well by the stooking. Through the harvest, you've been more help than you know."

The door is open into the night. A cricket is playing for us somewhere about the front verandah where the moonlight through the "ivy" makes its winsome patterns of light and shadow on wall and floor. It is a tune of autumn—a sweet-sad lay. It tells of granaries full and filling, of apples reddening on orchard

HOME CLOTHING CARE HELPS, TOO!

A lady customer came in the other day. Boy, was she mad! She said that the suit she brought had only been worn once last fall... then she put away for the winter. She said it couldn't have been very well pressed to look the mess it did. Well, it only took a few minutes to figure out the answer. Then a few questions and she was her charming self once more.

A lot of us suffer from the same trouble... not enough closet space. We try to jam everything in. Adding more closets isn't always the answer. In nine homes out of ten, the new ones get crammed full in a short time. Then the trouble starts all over again.

Here are a few simple rules about storage for clothing that will save a lot of unnecessary bills... and really cut cleaning bills:

1. Sort out clothes that are no longer worn. Get rid of them.

2. Store out-of-season clothing in garment bags. Put them away clean. Make sure they're straight on the hangers. Then put the garment bags at the end or at the back of the closet.

3. Where you have room, add extra shelves, hooks and racks... then store less used garments on them to relieve congestion.

That's a start. With that, you can give important items in your wardrobe more room. Keep them from getting rumpled and dusty and clothes will look better. As we've said before... good home care goes hand in hand with Sterns Limited expert dry cleaning care.

LITTLE SANDS

The Poole and Beer Construction Company are now at work on the western part of the Little Sands Road, beginning at MacPherson's bridge, preparing it for paving. Several trucks are hauling fill and the bridge has been covered with fill. It is reported that this section will be repaved right away. It will thus connect with the pavement at Wood Islands and east from the County Line up to the turn off the road, seven miles from the county line. This section has just recently been paved by the Island Construction Co.

Miss Velma Stewart, teacher at Little Sands School, attended the teachers' convention on Thursday and Friday.

The folks of Little Sands regret to hear that Dr. Stewart MacDonald, Eldon is moving to Charlottetown. His gain is our loss, and the Dr. will be greatly missed in these parts.
