Simple But Dignified Service To Be Used At King's Funeral Today

Written for the Associated Press Service by Christopher Bradby, Secretary of the Church of England Information Board.

LONDON, Feb. 14 (AP)—"I am the resurrection and the life, saith the Lord; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." (St. John II, V 25-26).

These challenging words from the Scriptures illustrate the simple but dignified service which will be held for the King at St. George's Chapel, Windsor.

One of the treasures that is shared by sovereign and citizen alike is the rich heritage of the Book of Common Prayer of the Church of England.

The dignity of the occasion is matched by the directness of the words and melodies of the burial service which ends with the oft-quoted phrases of the prayer of committal:

"Earth to earth, ashes to ashes, dust to dust; in the sure and certain hope of the resurrection to eternal life. . . ."

The Chapel of St. George at Windsor is one of the chapels royal, those foundations which stand as evidence of the unbroken link between the crown and the established Church of England.

The Chapel Royal is attached to the court and in theory should move from place to place with the court. It is not subject to the jurisdiction of the bishop of the diocese.

of Winchester (in attendance as the prelate of the Order of the Garter), and the canons and minor canons of the chapter.

The two Archbishops will wear robes of black and silver.

The burial service which now follows is, with a few changes, taken from the Book of Common Prayer written in 1660.

After "I am the resurrection" come the words:

"I know that my Redeemer liveth, and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the earth;

King's Funeral Schedule Today

LONDON, Feb. 14 (AP)—Following is the revised schedule, in Atlantic Standard Time, for tomorrow's last tribute to the King:

5:30 a. m.—coffin leaves Westminster Hall for 1-2-mile procession through London.

8:35 a. m.—funeral train leaves Paddington Station for 20-mile trip to Windsor.

9:10 a. m.—arrives Windsor.

9:20 a. m.—coffrage leaves Windsor Station.

British time is four hours ahead of Atlantic Standard Time. At the 1936 funeral of King George V crowds delayed the progress of the cortage in London so that the schedule was delayed 33 minutes.

Four Dead, 30 Homeless In Somerville Fire

SOMERVILLE, Mass., Feb. 14 (AP)—Four persons were known dead tonight in a general alarm fire which destroyed a four tenement building here.

Police said the dead included a man and a baby.

The fire raged out of control more than two hours in subfreezing temperature and swept through four frame buildings. At least 30 persons were homeless.

BBC Criticized For Gloom Following King's Death

LONDON, Feb. 14 (Reuters)—Dr. J. C. Heenan, Roman Catholic Bishop of Leeds, today criticized the BBC for "wrapping the nations in organized gloom" because of the death of the King.

The BBC's government monopoly, shut down for the day except for hourly news and weather reports after announcing the King's death last Wednesday. It since has banned all light music and entertainment.

Speaking at a memorial service for the King at St. Ann's Cathedral in Leeds, Bishop Heenan said:

"I cannot think that the memory of our Gracious King was well served either by the melodrama or prolonged silences on the day of his death or by the sombre and morbid programs which our fellow countrymen were offered without alternative for more than a week."

"The death of a constitutional monarch need not paralyze the legitimate relaxation of the whole

Would Be Permitted After Truce

By William Jordan

MUNSAN, Korea, Feb. 15 (Friday)—(AP)—Communist staff officers Thursday agreed to United Nations terms permitting joint Red Cross teams to visit prison camps and assist in prisoner exchange after a Korean armistice.

The Reds capitulated on this point in submitting a new plan for exchanging prisoners. But they still balked at the major issue—voluntary repatriation.

The Communists continued to demand that both sides release and repatriate all prisoners within 60 days after a truce becomes effective—forcibly if necessary.

The Allies have insisted that prisoners be given the right to reject repatriation.

Staff officers scheduled a Red prisoner plan and on truce urged in Munmunjin on Thursday at 11 a. m. today (9 p. m. EST Thursday).

The main armistice delegations will resume their plenary session Saturday on recommendations to governments, following the return of Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy from Tokyo.

Want Poultry Grading In N.B.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., Feb. 14 (CP)—Poultry grading regulations for New Brunswick were urged today at the annual meeting of the Provincial Poultry Industry Committee.

The committee, representing producers, wholesalers, retailers and consumers, decided to prepare a brief for presentation to the New Brunswick Poultry Producers' Association, urging a united front in a movement to make grading regulations effective.

Delegates said that New Brunswick and Newfoundland were the only provinces where poultry grading is not compulsory in at least some of the larger centres. While many birds sold in New Brunswick were graded, far too many ungraded birds were being marketed.

The committee made tentative plans for dressed poultry shows in Saint John, Fredericton and Moncton.

Truman Seeks To Extend Scope Of Clean-up Drive

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—President Truman, countering charges that his clean-up-the-government program is really a "whitewash," asked congress today to give clean-up chief Newbold Morris the power to subpoena witnesses and records from outside the government.

The President announced his action at a press conference in which he also said, giving no details, that the question of his seeking another term in the White House is a "difficult decision" for him to make.

Truman sought to head off political questions, and also to disavow predictions that various persons have made after talking with him.

The President said he is asking congress to vote subpoena powers

Queen Elizabeth Pays Surprise Visit To Hall

LONDON, Feb. 14 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II made a surprise visit to Westminster Hall tonight to join with her people in paying tribute to the King.

She was accompanied to Westminster, where the body lay in state, by her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh and her sister, Princess Margaret. Neither the Queen nor her sister wore veils.

They were unnoted by the crowd moving slowly past the catafalque. They stood for 10 minutes beneath a doorway.

Earlier, the Archbishop of Canterbury, Britain's foremost Anglican churchman, bowed in prayer beside the closed coffin.

The young Queen, already shouldering the state duties passed on to her by the death of her father, had broken with tradition to greet the notable visitors from foreign lands at a luncheon and banquet customarily given on the eve of a king's funeral.

New Air Horn Equipment Installation Under Way

Installation of the new air horn equipment for the City Fire Department is proceeding satisfactorily. At the present time workmen are installing a five horsepower electric compressor in a section of the basement of City Hall at the southeast corner.

A trapdoor was cut in the floor of a small storage room and the large green compressor was installed directly below to permit of easy access. On the floor above will be installed two tanks, one 3' by 8' and another slightly smaller immediately above it. They will hold compressed air. Both tanks are reported as being on their way here and are expected to arrive shortly.

When installation of the new fire warning system is completed Fire Chief H. H. Jewell estimates that the sound will carry a distance of nine miles. This will represent a great improvement over the ancient fire bell which now signals a fire in the city.

Complaints have long been heard that all too frequently the sound of the bell cannot be heard in many parts of Charlottetown and this has been particularly true when there has been a strong wind blowing.

Fire Chief Jewell expressed the hope that the final installation would see a "timing" device attached to the button used to start the air horn blowing. This would permit the engineer on duty at the time of a report of fire to start the horn and then attend to the many duties necessary to get the fire fighting equipment underway.

The individual firemen will continue to be notified of a fire in the present manner. Each of them has a warning bell in his home which rings when an alarm comes into the Fire Hall. Some of them also have alarm systems installed in their places of business for daytime notification. Other firemen respond to the call of the fire bell tolling.

Just how the location of a fire may be announced by the new air horn system is not known pending tests to see locally how the new mechanism actually performs. At present the tolling of the fire bell tells the ward in which the fire is located by ringing, after the general alarm, once, twice or up to five times to designate the particular ward.

Took 3 Months To Trap Swans Presented Queen

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP)—The Resources Department told today how it waited three months to trap the five young Trumpeter swans delivered to Queen Elizabeth two days ago as a gift from the department and the British Columbia Government.

The formal presentation was made in Charlottetown last October by Resources Minister Winters when the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh were completing their Canadian tour.

Then the department set out to trap the swans. Early in November R.H. Mackay and D.A. Munro of the Canadian Wildlife Services flew to Lonesome Lake, in the almost inaccessible wilderness region of British Columbia, where about 100 Trumpeter swans winter each year in a protected area.

They built a huge trap of netting and the services' swan guardian, Ralph Edwards, and his daughter, Trudy, baited it regularly with grain. By the end of January, the swans had become accustomed to the trap and would enter it regularly for food.

The wildlife officers returned to the lake and the trap was sprung Feb. 8 and the five young swans were taken. They were crated and flown to England, arriving there Feb. 12.

The swans now are established on the grounds of the Severn Wildfowl Trust, in the Severn estuary in Gloucestershire about 100 miles from London.

Veterinary Course Held For Farmers

A visit to Falconwood Farm where Dr. George Fisher, Director of Veterinary Services, pointed out to students the many things a good herdsman would be able to do himself and thus avoid calling a veterinarian, highlighted the week-long course in Livestock First Aid and Veterinary Science which concluded last night.

The course was conducted by Dr. Fisher with 12 young farmers from different parts of the Province in attendance and was held at the Vocational School. During the instruction periods Dr. Fisher dealt with various diseases, their prevention and control as they related to cattle, sheep and swine. He took the class on two field trips to point out various items of interest from the practical side of farming. He showed the class some of the many things which could be wrong with animals and which would necessitate the services of a veterinarian.

Throughout the course emphasis was continually placed on the fact that individual farmers should be able to determine whether or not veterinary services are required for particular troubles encountered in their livestock.

Next week there will be a special course given to students in Animal Husbandry. Directing the course and acting as instructors will be

Communist Raid Hurlled Back By U.N. Troops

By Milo Farnell

SEOUL, Feb. 15 (Friday)—(AP)—The Communists last night broke the quiet of the Korean battlelines with a 1,100-man attack that was shattered by a storm of Allied fire on the eastern front.

It was the largest Communist attack in four weeks or more.

The Communists threw out feeler thrusts all along the 155-mile front, testing the strong Allied defences. About 200 Reds were in one raiding party that hit the western sector of the long line.

The attack in the east rolled down Mundung valley and washed up against Allied hill positions on both flanks, a field dispatch said.

The Communists, believed to be Chinese, struck behind an artillery cover, but this advance preparation did no good. Allied mortar and artillery fire burst among the Reds.

The struggle raged for an hour. One Allied unit was almost surrounded. It hurled back the Reds without a casualty of its own.

Then the Reds began their retreat behind a smoke screen. The smoke prevented an immediate Allied estimate of casualties.

On the western front near Yonchon, which is only 24 miles northeast of the Panmunjom truce conference site, a reinforced Red company fought for two hours. Communist small arms fire, artillery and mortars drove Allied troops out of their positions. Then the U. N. troops went back and found the Communists had taken off.

Another Red platoon attacked northwest of Yonchon. The Allies withdrew again, then re-occupied the point.

In the air war a flight of 30 Communist jets tried to block Allied fighter-bombers on a rail mission. U. S. Sabres jets chased off the Russian-built MiGs before they could fire a shot.

The Sabres claimed damage to one Mig.

Parliament Faces Heavy Program At Session

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP)—Parliament will face a hefty raft of business when it meets Feb. 28.

To the half-dozen bills left over from the 1951 fall session, the government is reported to be adding a substantial legislative program and political leaders already are suggesting that parliament will have enough business to keep it sitting into August.

The precise program won't be known until it is determined in the Speech from the Throne, but much of the legislation can be guessed from hints already dropped.

It is known, for example, that the administration plans to proceed with the controversial annuities bill which got some study at the fall session but was sidetracked by heated debates concerning anti-price-fixing legislation. This measure raises the ceiling on federal annuities to $2,400 a year from $1,200.

The government is reported to be prepared to drop one or two unpopular features in an effort to win Opposition approval.

Dismiss Charge Against Dog Driver

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP)—Magistrate Glenn Strike today dismissed a charge against Wilf (Pit) Lepine of Quebec, winner yesterday of the International Dog Derby, of ill-treating one of his dogs by racing it with sore paws.

The charge was made by the Ottawa Humane Society, whose manager, Kenneth Switzer, and an official, Inspector W. J. Miles, testified that the pads on the rear feet of one of Lepine's cross-bred hounds were oozing blood after the race yesterday.

A similar charge against another Quebec City musher, Ovide Carrier, was withdrawn. The crown did not participate in the case. Assistant crown attorney Edward Houston said the crown had no part in making the charge and wished no part in the prosecution.

Inspector H.A. Larsen, who commands the R.C.M.P.'s Northwest Territories Division and was one of the judges in the race, testified that he did not consider the dog's injuries serious.

CNR Figures Show Large Decline In January Shipments

A heavy drop of 968 carloads of export freight from this Province during January as compared to the same month of last year was almost entirely accounted for by the heavy decrease of shipments of potatoes and roughwood.

January 1951 showed a total of 1998 carloads being shipped from here while this January the figure was only 1010. A sharp decrease in the number of carloads of potatoes from 1433 to 579 accounted for 851 cars while roughwood dropped from 196 carloads down to 87.

During the same period imports showed a slight increase rising from 1014 cars to 1060.

A majority of exports via the C. N. R. from Cape Tormentine car ferry route remained steady by comparison with the same month of last year. Principal among them, with figures for last year, were livestock 87 and 92; less carloads 69 and 73; meats 18 and 20; and 15; starch 4 and 6.

Four Dead, 100 Injured In Series Of Tornadoes In U. S.

DECHERD, Tenn., Feb. 14 (AP)—Two more bodies were dug from wrecked houses today, bringing to four the number of known dead in destruction by tornadoes in four states last night.

More than 100 persons were injured and vast property damage was caused by winds of such strength that sand-laden freight cars were whirled from their tracks.

The storm, following an unusual warm period, added misery with a pouring rain and hail storm.

Widely separated areas of Tennessee, Alabama, Missouri and Arkansas were raked by the blasts. This community, between Nashville and Chattanooga, appeared hardest hit.

Two persons were killed when the home of Clifton Snell near here was swept from its foundation. The mother and five children huddled in the wreckage through the night.

The body of Snell, about 40, was found today near a damaged barn. The body of his son, Doyal, five, lay nearby.

The home of Mrs. Mamie Dotson, 45, was tossed from its foundation and Mrs. Dotson was fatally injured.

The storm wrecked the home of Clarence Espy at Lexington, Ala., about 120 miles from here. Espy, 50, was killed when the chimney toppled on him.

Ottawa Ceremony Moved Inside

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP)—Because of unfavorable weather, the government has decided to hold the national ceremony of mourning for the King tomorrow in the Hall of Fame in the Parliament Buildings.

Originally, it had been planned to have an open air ceremony at the National War Memorial, but weather forecasts predicted a high of 18 above zero for Ottawa tomorrow.

At that temperature, officials said, instruments of massed bands would freeze up.
