

Progress Is Reported On Geo'town Wharf Project

OTTAWA. (Special) — The rebuilding of the railway wharf at Georgetown, P.E.I. is progressing "satisfactorily" and will be completed by September, 1959. Public Works Department officials said Wednesday. The project, to cost about $862,890, is being carried out by Diamond Construction Company of Fredricton, N.B.

An official of the Public Works Department explained that the old wharf had deteriorated to the point where it had to be rebuilt. Part of it consisted of creosote timbers which were still in good condition. The rest of it, however, had reached the point where it was no longer economical to repair.

Besides the reconstruction of the wharf, plans call for the building of a new frost-proof warehouse which will be 847 feet long, and range from 135 to 195 feet in width.

The inner 155 feet of the wharf will have concrete gravity walls. The centre 319 feet will be filled with steel sheet piling walls. Most of the fill that goes into the wharf will be rock.

The official said the outer 373 feet of the wharf will consist of creosoted timber piles.

The project also calls for the construction of a road approach: 245 feet long by 40 feet in width. It will connect Water Street with the shore portion of the wharf.

A new brick boiler house is also to be built.

Marriage Preparation Course Begins At Basilica Tonight

The second annual marriage preparation course sponsored by St. Dunstan's Basilica parish will begin at the Basilica this evening at 7:30 p.m. Very Rev. Francis Bolger will deliver the first lecture.

The course, set up at the request of several couples intending marriage within the next year, will like the previous course, follow the outline contained in "This is The Great Sacrament", prepared by "The Catholic Center", University of Ottawa.

Comprising 15 lessons this course deals with many aspects of the married state such as: preparation for marriage, the first years, money problems, etc.

Conducted as a discussion group, the course includes a series of lectures, plus discussion and study on the part of the participants.

The special lecturers are chosen by those taking the course. Last year speakers included Dr. J. A. MacMillan, Dr. J. H. Maloney, Mr. Alban Farmer, and Mr. Brendon O'Grady.

Members of the Basilica, Holy Redeemer, and Parkdale parishes who are engaged or who contemplate marriage in the next year are eligible, and, in fact urged, to attend.

Oranges Are Now Growing In Georgetown, P. E. I.

Mrs. P. J. Henry of Georgetown is the proud possessor of a house orange plant, which the writer viewed with interest on Saturday, at Mrs. Henry's home.

The unusual thing about this plant is that on it are four oranges each about the size of a medium size egg. One is yet green and the other three are in various stages of ripeness, with two of the four being practically ripe.

Originally there were twelve fruit on the plant but all but four were picked off by children because they realized that they might eventually grow to full formed fruit.

Mrs. Henry purchased the plant from Dominion Seed House, two years ago this coming spring. The past spring an early summer the plant blossomed for the first time.

She informed the writer that the bloom was pink and white in colour and that the perfume was very lovely. The plant has been kept in the house at all times and now stands about a foot high.

With current temperatures being reported by the weatherman as higher in Prince Edward Island than in Florida, would it be a fantasy to expect that we are on the way to becoming an area for the growing of tropical fruit. At least a part of the proof can be seen by a visit to Mrs. Henry's home in Georgetown.
