FAMOUS HANDS

West dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

♣ A 7

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
3 ♠	Pass	Pass	Dble.
Pass	4 ♠	Pass	6 ♦

Opening lead—six of clubs.

This hand comes from the national open pair championship played last year in Los Angeles. South was Manny Hochfeld, of Chicago, playing with John Hancock, ex-Chicagoan now of Woodland Hills, Calif.

Hochfeld correctly diagnosed the club lead as a singleton and made the farsighted play of a low club from dummy, winning East's eight with the ace. He promptly finessed the queen of spades and discarded the seven of clubs on the ace of spades.

After ruffing a spade, Hochfeld led the queen of diamonds. East took the ace and decided to return a heart (a club back would have defeated the contract).

South won the ace and played a low diamond to the king. If the trumps had been divided 2-2 the rest would have been easy, but the 3-1 break created complications. With six tricks to go, this was the situation.:

North
♦ 10 9
♣ K J 10 5

West
♠ K J 9 8
♥ Q

East
♥ K 10
♣ Q 9 4 3

South
♥ J 6 4 2
♦ A J 7

The ten of diamonds was led from dummy and East found himself in quite a fix. He had Hobson's choice. If he discarded a heart, Hochfeld would overtake the diamond and establish the entire heart suit with one ruff in dummy.

Or if East discarded a club, Hochfeld would stay in dummy, cash the king of clubs and lead the jack of clubs through East's queen, ruffing whenever East played the queen. All of dummy's clubs would then be tricks. East was caught in a seesa squeeze

He chose to discard the heart. So Hochfeld won with the jack o diamonds, trumped a heart, and all the hearts came home to roost and score the well-played slam.

Five Kiddies Die In Fire At Home For Handicapped

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Five youngsters died Thursday in a fire that engulfed a nine - room private home for handicapped children. Seventeen were carried to safety amidst a light freezing rain.

"I should have saved all of them," sobbed Mrs. Mary Flake, 58, who operates the home with the help of her sister, Mrs. Margaret Prince, 60, and a daughter, Carolyn Flake, 14.

They were making the Thanksgiving Day plans when the fire struck suddenly about 7:30 a.m. and spread to an upstairs room where most of the 22 mentally retarded and invalid children were confined to their beds.

WORK AGAINST FLAMES

Working frantically against the smoke and flames, they managed to get some of the children onto an outside upstairs sun porch.

W. L. Brown, 50, a next-door neighbor, yelled to his wife to call the fire department. He hurried up the outside stairs into the children's quarters.

"The women already had pulled some of the children to the porch but I rushed in and picked up two or three in my arms and carried them outside and handed them across the fence to my daughter and wife. Some of the others we had to put on the ground until we could carry them indoors."

A couple driving by saw the flames and stopped to assist in bringing others to safety. They left before being identified.

Aircraft Models Given Canadian Aviation Museum

LONDON (CP)—Models of two British airplanes, mainstays of the RCAF between the world wars, were presented to the new National Aviation Museum of Canada Thursday by W. G. Armstrong Whitworth Aircraft Limited.

The 12-inch-long models of the Siskin fighter and the twin-seat Atlas biplane were presented to George Drew, Canadian high commissionesr to United Kingdom, by Air Commodore W. Wynter-Morgan, the company's services liaison officer. They will hang in the aviation museum when it opens in Ottawa next year.

Officials of the museum asked the company for plans of the aircraft so that models could be constructed in Canada. But Air Commodore Wynter - Morgan said: "We are delighted to have the opportunity to do the models ourselves for the museum."

The Siskin model bears the numerals 59, representing the aircraft that was built as a memorial to Sir John Alcock, who with Arthur Whitten Brown made the first non-stop flight across the Atlantic.

The Atlas carries the numerals 401, commemorating the first of these aircraft to be delivered to the RCAF about 1930. This airplane was still in service in 1939-40, on submarine patrol at the entrance to Halifax harbor.

GIVEN HONORARY RANK

OTTAWA (CP) — Defence Minister Pearkes announced Saturday that C. Douglas Taylor of Montreal has been given honorary rank of air commodore in recognition of his work in training and development of Canadian youth. The commissioning scroll was presented to Mr. Taylor, honorary president of the Air Cadet League, by Air Marshal Hugh Campbell, chief of air staff, at a dinner in the RCAF officers' mess in Ottawa.

UNLOAD SUPPLIES

TAIPEI (AP) — The Chinese Communists withheld fire on the Quemoy islands Friday for the 14th consecutive even-numbered day. The military information service, official news medium of the defence ministry, said the Nationalists unloaded supplies on the beach at Quemoy which is specifically excluded from Communist attack on even-numbered days.

Inflation, Unemployment Seen Problems For Year

VANCOUVER (CP)—Four economists have forecast that inflation and unemployment will remain major problems for Canada next year.

Two of them suggested that "inflation psychology" is a major problem affecting the economic outlook.

Speaking at a board of trade public conference they also forecast:

A continuation of the recovery now under way but no prospect of a sudden "boom" in business;

A greater reliance on domestic sales to make up for export markets which will continue unfavorable.

PSYCHOLOGICAL FACTOR

Dr. D. W. McGibbon, treasurer of Imperial Oil Limited, said the public will have to overcome its "inflation psychology" if the economic outlook for the next year or two is to be satisfactory.

Prof. J. J. Deutsch, head of the economics department at the University of British Columbia, said the big question is going to be "whether the government can take action to reverse this psychology."

"If it continues we can expect to see high interest rates with serious implications to our economy and rate of recovery in the future," Prof. Deutsch said.

H. Dewayne Kreager, director of the department of commerce and economic development in neighboring Washington state, warned that the present recovery may be followed by another recession in 1961.

"We won't really be on the road to full recovery until between 1962 and 1965," he said.

Publisher Howard Mitchell said management and labor in B.C. would have to settle their problems before investors will put their money into the province.

"We can get labor problems in B.C. in which management and labor can slug it out," he said. "Each can get tough with the other. But let us remember this —no one can get tough with the investor."

GRADUAL RECOVERY

Prof. Deutsch said: "The recovery will be of a gradual nature. We won't see anything in the way of a boom and employment won't rise as rapidly as production.

"In fact we have the odd situation of rising production with more than normal unemployment.

"After 1962, when we expect a more rapid family formation, we can hope for a more fully employed economy."

Prof. Deutsch said that stimulus for the recovery won't come from export markets as much as in the past. He said Canada will have to rely on internal development.

"For many exports, the price conditions abroad are not likely to be favorable," he said.

"The wheat market is weak, newsprint is below capacity, base metals are facing increasing competition and quota restrictions in the U. S. are affecting other exports, particularly oil."

KIDDIES ARE TALLER NOW

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP) Children are getting taller for their age. So the Westchester County Park Commission has had to draw the line at a new place.

For years, children up to 12 have been admitted to park pools, skating rinks and other facilities at reduced prices.

This year the commission decided a lot of youngsters were older than they claimed. It took to measuring them at park entrances. A line was drawn on a wall 58 inches from the ground and all children measuring less got in at lower prices.

Now, however, the commission has checked with medical and public agencies and has learned that youngsters tend to be taller for their age than originally thought.

The line is being put up to 60 inches.

HOWLAN

Miss Patricia Finnan, student at Tignish Convent, is now recuperating from a bad sore throat at her home here.

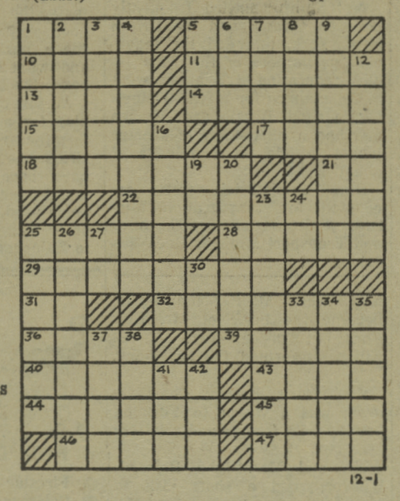
Saturday's Answer



12-1

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

A T W D W V Y H A G S C G Q H D W V G P K H E V W A T P K J C T P X T P H G K A G J E • K P H A P X A E J E E I — B S G A E.
