

Tobacco Chewers Among Women.

A well-known physician, while walking down the street with a friend, remarked, a patient of mine lives in that house who is dying—an idiotic wife—beyond all help, and tobacco chewing has killed her. Why, Doctor, what do you mean? I mean this: her husband is literally steeped in tobacco juice, and the insensible perspiration from his body has become so saturated with nicotine as to be a deadly poison. His wife, before I was called, had absorbed enough of the poison so that no human power could save her; and even he will, I believe, end his days in torture from some form of skin disease. The skin is really the most wonderful and important organ of the human body. Night and day, every hour of our lives, it is filtering out from the blood useless or poisonous debris. If it stopped work even for twenty-four hours in this or any case, death would ensue. You can imagine, then, what it means for a delicate, sensitive-skinned woman to sleep in a warm bed at night after a day's work with a tobacco-chewing husband. The skin and mucous membrane of some persons is much more sensitive than others. A person who in summer is subject to hay fever, tanned or burned skin, in winter to colds, bronchitis, chapped hands or chilblains, ought always (whether at home or traveling) to keep a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment near at hand. Dilute the liniment with water and gently bathe, or moisten a cloth with it and lay upon the irritated skin if very sensitive; then wash it clean in the morning with Castile soap and water. If a person who takes cold quickly, or is predisposed to bronchitis or catarrh, or exposed to any poison, irritating to the skin or mucous surfaces, which might tend to cause consumption, will every night, before retiring, bathe the chest and throat with Johnson's Anodyne Liniment and, before dressing in the morning, rub the whole body smartly with a coarse towel, slightly dampened, and then wipe dry, we believe they never would have pulmonary troubles or disease from defective working of the skin. I. S. JOHNSON & Co., Boston, Mass., will send a pamphlet free, describing other uses for this old household remedy, now eighty years old.
