Dear Senior:

On behalf of the Canada Manpower Centre on Campus, I would like to extend to you a sincere welcome as you begin your final year of studies at the University of Prince Edward Island.

This year, you will be faced with many decisions regarding your future. Two of your choices might revolve around whether to continue your studies or to enter the labour market.

Should you decide to continue your education, may I suggest that you begin early in your quest for information concerning the Universities you are interested in, and make application in the fall semester. The Career Information Centre, located in Room 106, Main Building, contains Calendars of many graduate schools in Canada and the United States. It is open for your use daily from 9.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m.

If you are planning on entering the labour market, then I look forward to helping you find the job which will be most challenging and satisfying for you. One of the chief responsibilities of the Canada Manpower Centre on Campus is to communicate to you as a registrant all of the information we can regarding possible career directions and also any new trends, developments, employment opportunities or study programs which may appear. Your responsibility becomes one of weighing this information against your own interests, abilities and preferences, in order to pursue those which seem to have the most potential for you.

A tentative list of companies which will be recruiting on campus this fall will be available in September. It is important that you register with our office at this time. Information and brochures on these companies, as well as several publications with information on resumés and campus interviews, are available at the Manpower office. Please feel free to take advantage of this material.
