New Brunswick's Premier Makes First French Speech

MONCTON (CP) — Premier Fleming made his first major address in French at a dinner following the annual meeting of French-language members of the Canadian Press here Saturday.

Mr. Fleming, whose province has a population divided almost evenly between people of English and French-speaking origin, spoke for 25 minutes on the question of the common destiny of Canadians of both languages and New Brunswick's particular problems.

The premier said New Brunswick, paying attention to its future, is united as never before in facing the problem of a better position in the Canadian economy. "I have found, during the past few years, that sentiments of provincial pride and self respect are being felt more and more widely in the province," he said. He was certain New Brunswick would correct its weak economic situation.

Hydro - electric developments had succeeded in doing this to a great extent. Conferences of Atlantic provinces had brought tangible results too. One was planned for September at Fredericton.

New Brunswick's approach to its problems was not directed against any province or government. It was simply a "pro-New Brunswick" approach.

Mr. Fleming said his province is on the march toward a "more brilliant" future through the co-operation of the two main cultural groups which form the majority of its people.

Charles H. Peters of the Montreal Gazette, President of CP, presided at the meeting held annually for French-language editors of 11 dailies in Quebec, Ontario and New Brunswick.

Roland Gagne, editor in chief of Granby La Voix de l'Est, was meeting chairman.

Moncton 'Evangeline, the Moncton Times and the Moncton Transcript were hosts at the dinner.

Recovery Pace Is Termed Good

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP) — Some federal authorities suggest that the pace of Canada's economic recovery this year may be even greater than Finance Minister Fleming anticipated.

The minister, in his April 9 budget speech, forecast an above-average seven-per-cent increase in the gross national product, value of all goods and services produced this year. That would bring 1959 national production to a record of some 334,500,000,000 from last year's 332,200,000,000.

Now some finance department officials feel that the way things are rolling along national production may climb by about eight per cent or more, bringing national production closer to 335,000,000,000.

DEPENDS ON EXTENT
The extent of the recovery would have a bearing on the size of the government's deficit and on its need for new loans. On the basis of a seven-per-cent production rise, Mr. Fleming forecast a 1959-60 budget deficit of 5393,000,000 along with a 542,000,000 deficit in the old age pension fund, compared with a total deficit of 3616,600,000 last year, a peacetime high.

Now, with talk of a more rapid recovery, it appears possible the actual deficit for the fiscal year ending next March 31 may be less than Mr. Fleming predicted. This in turn could lead to a reduction in government borrowing, perhaps thereby aiding in strengthening low government bond prices.

Federal authorities have received encouragement from the trend in the last three months of 1959. While official national production figures for the January-March period won't be compiled and published until perhaps mid-June, there are indications they will point to a seasonally-adjusted quarterly increase of about two per cent.

This would follow a two-per-cent rise during the last three months of 1958, making a total rise of some four per cent from the 1958 average.

Presbytery Men's Conference Is Scheduled In September

One of the foremost laymen of the United Church in Canada will team up with one of the Church's most prominent ministers to give leadership at the annual Presbytery Men's Conference at Stanhope which takes place on the weekend following Labor Day.

The conference planning committee announced that A.G. (Gib) Mackie, public relations manager with one of Canada's largest industrial corporations in Toronto will be the lay speaker along with Rev. George Goth, D.D. of London, Ontario.

Dr. Goth is well known to citizens of Charlottetown, where he spent the month of July, 1958, as supply minister at Trinity and conducted Monday services at the Capitol Theatre.

Dr. Goth has been described as a man who speaks what he thinks and is not particularly concerned whether everyone agrees with him or not. This is not important, he says, as long as it gets people thinking about Christianity and eventually stirs them to action.

A. Gibson Mackie known to thousands of men of the United Church as "Gib" is giving outstanding leadership in the province of Ontario. As chairman of the inter-faith committee in Toronto he works tirelessly to organize groups of dedicated men who have as their main objective the restoration of others to a fuller and better life.

"Gib" frankly admits that until he attended a National conference for men of the church of Elgin House in 1953 his social life was leading him to a dead end street. The dramatic story of his life before and after is one that has brought inspiration to thousands.

The 1959 conference is the fourth which was started by United Church Men in 1966. The results which would be difficult to enumerate, include six decisions of men to enter the Christian ministry. Scores of others have gone back to their respective communities to give outstanding leadership.

Quebec Premier Talks Education

BERSIMIS, Que. (CP) — Premier Duplessis Saturday criticized the education opinions of a Toronto newspaper, a Montreal newspaper man, and Dr. F. Cyril James, principal of McGill University in Montreal.

Mr. Duplessis said their opinions are "a type of concert of praise for a pernicious theory." system is based on religion and Quebec province's educational without religion no education is possible, Mr. Duplessis said.

He spoke at the dedication ceremonies for a new $2,000,000 bridge spanning the Bersimis River, near this power-dam site 250 miles northeast of Quebec City.

SUPERIOR TO WEST?

Dr. James, after a recent tour of Russia, told newspaper men the Russian education system is in many ways superior to the west's.

Mr. Duplessis said Dr. James "has made himself a propagandist for a pernicious theory."

Mr. Duplessis said Dr. James was surrounded by spies who had showed him only what they wished him to see.

Mr. Duplessis criticized the Toronto Star for two articles published in February. He said one urged non-denominational education to prevent inter-racial bickering.

A few days later The Star had another article, an interview with a Toronto rabbi who expressed the same views on this subject.

Mr. Duplessis also made reference to views on denominational education expressed by Jean Louis Gagnon, managing editor of the daily Montreal La Presse, in an interview published in the daily Le Devoir.

"This is a clarion call I am sounding," Mr. Duplessis said. "The clarion call one sounds on the eve of great decisive battles."

RCMP's Drumhead Service Is First In History Of Force

OTTAWA (CP)—The first parade and drumhead service in the 86-year history of the RCMP—a ceremony comparable in color to the force's famed musical ride—was staged Sunday at the RCMP's Rockcliffe barracks.

More than 3,000 persons attended the ceremony, conducted in brilliant sunshine on the parade square. Those who participated included Governor-General Vincent Massey, Justice Minister Fulton and RCMP Commissioner C. E. Rivett-Carnac.

In a brief address, Mr. Massey said his personal acquaintance with the RCMP goes back 30 years when he was appointed Canadian minister to Washington. At that time he asked that an

RCMP officer be stationed at the Canadian legion "because I felt then, as I do now, that there is nothing more Canadian in Canada than the RCMP."
