

Find No Clue To Cause Of Indian Airliner Crash

By CORLEY SMITH
SINGAPORE (Reuters)—Royal Navy divers Thursday said they found no clue to the cause of a crash of an Indian airliner carrying Chinese Communist officials to Indonesia as three survivors of the disaster arrived here and were taken to a hospital without being allowed to talk to reporters.

At the same time, Communist China renewed its charge that the crash Monday in the South China sea was caused by "sabotage" by American and Nationalist Chinese agents. Peiping radio again laid the blame on "the United States and the Chiang (Kai-shek) clique."

The survivors were picked up by the British naval frigate Dampier. The three, all Indian crew members, were wrapped in bandages as they walked off the ship.

They spent eight hours in the water as they swam in their life jackets to a nearby tropical island. One, an engineer riding as a passenger, said earlier that the crash was caused by a fire in the hydraulic system.

The plane, a Constellation named the Kashmir Princess, was carrying 12 Communist officials from Hong Kong to the Afro-Asian conference starting in Bandung, Indonesia, April 18. The plane had a seven-man crew.

FAMOUS TRICHOLOGIST WILL DEMONSTRATE HOW TO GROW THICKER HAIR AND GUARANTEES IT!

Demonstration To Be Held Here!

This new method of home treatment for saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, Monday, Tuesday & Wednesday, April 18, 19 & April 20. These private individual demonstrations will be held at the Charlottetown Hotel on Monday, Tuesday & Wednesday, April 18, 19 & April 20, 12 noon to 3 p.m.

HALIFAX, March 25—In an interview today, William L. Keele, internationally famous trichologist and director of the Keele Hair Experts, said "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause men and women to lose hair. The most common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so-called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

GUARANTEED
"The Keele firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offer a guarantee," he said.

Once a person avails himself to the Keele treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, we offer this guarantee: If you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress at the end of 30 days your money will be returned."

HOPELESS CASES DISCOURAGED
First, the trichologist is quick to let hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a man is completely, shiny bald is he in the last category.

FREE EXAMINATION
This examination is very thorough and highly technical. It requires 20 to 30 minutes. The trichologist makes no charge for the divers found no bodies in the plane, though three corpses floated to the surface while the men were at work.

Breadalbane Service

The W. M. S. of Breadalbane held an "Easter Service" in the United Church March 20th; opening Hymn, "Come Let Us Sing of His Wonderful Love". Mr. Hedley Woodside presided and led the responsive reading "Psalm 73"; F/L John R. MacKay led in Prayer. Scripture Mark 16 Chapter was read by Mrs. Lorne Seaman. An Easter story entitled "From The Cross To The Resurrection" was read by the members with appropriate hymns sung after each selection.

1st Reader, Mrs. Lorne Newson; Hymn, "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee"; 2nd, Mrs. Angus Gillis; hymn, "I Come To The Garden Alone"; 3rd, Miss Mamie Stewart; hymns, "Jesus Keep Me Near The Cross"; 4th, Mrs. Alex I. MacDonald; duet, "Lead Me To Calvary"; Mrs. Angus Gillis and Mr. Hedley Woodside.

A brief address was delivered by F/L John F. MacKay. 5th Reader was, Hedley Woodside; hymn, "When I Survey The Wondrous Cross"; 6th, Mrs. Harold Toombs; hymns, "Alas and Did My Saviour Bleed"; 7th, Mrs. Earl Todd; hymn, "Jesus Christ Is Risen Today"; 8th, Mrs. Hugh F. MacKay; hymn, "Beneath The Cross of Jesus I Fain Would Take My Stand."

Mrs. James Snowie was organist. Mr. MacKay pronounced the Benedictions.

Former P. E. I. Governor Honored

A group of Prince Edward Islanders met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mokler of Belmont, Mass., to honour one of the Island's most distinguished citizens, Hon. Joseph A. Bernard, ex-Lieutenant Governor. A pleasant time was spent in the game-room of Mr. Mokler's new home where card playing and community singing was the order of the evening. Unusual and delightful refreshments were served by the hostess after which the party culminated with felicitations to Mr. Bernard for continued good health and many more visits to Boston. Surrounding ex-Gov. Bernard and his daughter, Mrs. Loth are seated left to right: Mary Kelly, Muriel Bell, Mrs. Philip Farrell, Mrs. Neil Campbell, Mrs. Gerald Mokler, the hostess, Mrs. Mokler, Mrs. Doroin, Mrs. Thomas L. Matthews. Standing left to right: Mr. and Mrs. Austin Callaghan, Dr. Philip Farrell, Neil Campbell, the host, Mr. Mokler, Gerald Mokler, Mrs. Noreen Mahoney, Thomas Matthews and Dr. Eric Loth.

CLYDE RIVER LODGE — The hostess on Tuesday evening, April 12, to the Clyde River L. O. B. A., was Mrs. Harold Scott, Cornwall. A worship period and business was conducted, including plans for coming events. A social hour was enjoyed and a delicious lunch served.

HONORED AT SHOWERS — Previous to her marriage Mrs. Paul S. Garnham was honoured at a shower at the home of Mrs. Kenneth J. Dudson, Charlottetown, and the groom was a guest of his friends at a dinner in the "Blue Room" of Milton's. Old Spain when he was presented with a trifle lamp. On April 12, the community of Pownal held a shower and dance for the bride and groom in Pownal Hall. The gifts received were beautiful and valuable attesting to the popularity of the young couple.

NO CURE-ALL
"We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness," Keele emphasizes. "If there is fuzz, the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to be a miracle."
There is one thing Keele wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong, and it should be given immediate attention.

HAIR FOR LIFETIME
If clients follow our direction during treatment, and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Keele said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment, it all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules."

HOW'S YOUR HAIR?
If it worries you call Trichologist W. N. Young at the Charlottetown Hotel in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island on Monday Tuesday & Wednesday, April 18, 19, 20, 12 noon to 3 p.m. The public is invited.

FREE EXAMINATION
You do not need an appointment. The examination is private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way. Both men and women are welcome. —Adv.

Strange But True

By F. H. MacArthur

Let me tell you about the librarian who works for nothing. His name is Ted Richmond. Not only does Ted work for nothing but for over two decades he has trudged the barren Ozark hills of Northwest Arkansas toting a pack of books on his back to the hill folk. Today his library is made up of 25,000 books and four times that many magazines dating back 10 years which the hill people can read free. If it were not for Ted Richmond's travelling library these backwoods folk would still be eating hog-back and cracklings instead of goats and rabbits, milk and butter.

Ted knows those lonely, barren hills better than the hill people themselves. He once guided a public health service nurse far into the hills to take care of a woman in a difficult child-birth. Another time he guided a doctor to the home of an isolated bachelor homesteader who had accidentally shot himself and had no way of summoning help. Ted Richmond and his books have brought enlightenment and a better way of living to one of the most isolated and backward communities in Uncle Sam's country. Believe it or not, but John Lister of Redwood, California, is bringing suit against the operators of Confusion Hill, near the Redwood Highway, for a half million dollars. Why? Well, Lister claims that there is something in that hill that distorts his light rays, causes his whole family to lean towards the north and make his garden tools stand by themselves at any angle.

Confusion Hill is a highly magnetized pile of rock and earth and the optical effects and other strange happenings in Lister's House of mystery is due to this fact. As a matter of fact we have a magnetic or confusion hill right here in the Island. There's another one outside of Moncton. But as yet we have no mystery house in which brooms and other things stand by themselves.

Indeed, it's surprising the number of imitators of "Confusion Hill" that have sprung up here and there. Whether they have all obtained their effects through optical means is a moot question. Anyway we'll be interested to learn whether Lister wins his suit against the operators of Confusion Hill, or whether the judge will order him to close his house and move on.

In Fort Scott, Kansas, a marriage license was taken out by Robert Lock and Beverly Key — the lock and key combination.

—Miss Louise Gillis, public health nurse, was guest speaker at the April meeting of Alberton Women's Institute and gave a most interesting and informative address on Nutrition.

The hostess was Mrs. Arthur Wilkie and the presiding officer, Mrs. Joseph Callaghan. The meeting opened with singing "The More We Get Together." Eleven members and one visitor responded to the roll call with a supper dish recipe.

Mrs. James Hodgson, Mrs. Clayton Travers and Mrs. G. J. Johnston were appointed a committee to be in charge of the pantry sale.

On motion of Mrs. H. W. Matthews, seconded by Mrs. C. H. Weeks it was decided to take out additional insurance on the W. I. Hall.

Mrs. James Hodgson reported a treat taken to sick member by the visiting committee.

For the Hall Committee Mrs. Arthur Wilkie reported two hall rentals and the Institute room used three times.

Mrs. Earle Atkinson reported books purchased for the school.

New committees were appointed as follows: Visiting, Mrs. Waldo Matthews and Mrs. Joseph Callaghan; Hall, Mrs. C. H. Weeks and Mrs. C. R. Hunter; School, Mrs. A. C. Green and Mrs. Arthur Wilkie.

On motion of Mrs. Clayton Travers, seconded by Mrs. Cedric Hunter it was decided to send contributions to the Red Cross, and to the March of Dimes. Correspondence was read and given consideration.

Mrs. H. J. Larkin invited the members to meet at her home on May, when the assistant hostesses

RESURRECTION OF CHRIST IS GOD'S PLEDGE OF OURS

The Gospel means the good news of God's grace. One feature of the "Good News" is negative—deliverance from the guilt and the effects of sin. The other feature is positive—the gift of eternal life. Sin and all its hateful progeny are overthrown. Love is triumphant and life is, first, the origin, and second, the effect of divine renewal.

Year by year the Easter celebrations bring two facts to our attention. One is: Christ did rise from the dead. The other is: Christ's resurrection is the type and pledge of ours. St. Paul puts the two facts together thus: "In fact Christ has been raised from the dead, the first fruits of those who have fallen asleep." Every Easter hymn that we sing springs out of those two stupendous realities.

We are always interested in the way St. Peter stated the fact of the Resurrection of Jesus when on the Day of Pentecost he faced Jesus' murderers with their responsibility for His crucifixion: "But God raised Him up, having loosed the pangs of death, because it was not possible for Him to be held by it." There are two truths here. The Father whose will the Son of God accepted as His own, His compared sense, could not allow Death's triumph to last; so He raised His Son from the dead. There was in the life of Jesus a quality and energy that Death could not hold down. On that first Easter morning Jesus conquered Death.

COMMITTED TO GOD
When a friend passes into the Unseen we commit him to God. The One from whom he came receives back the life He gave. There are two versions of II Timothy 1:12 and both are true. Literally translated the verse reads: "I know Him in whom I have believed, and I am convinced He is able to guard the deposit unto that Day."

The new Revised Standard Version translates it thus: "I know whom I have believed and I am sure that He is able to guard until that Day what has been entrusted to me." Then in the Margin it adds "or 'what I have entrusted to Him,'" which is the Old Authorized Version. As a matter of fact, both these versions are true.

"The deposit" in God's hands includes everything connected with my life and work and nothing will be lost. So at death we ourselves return to Him and He can be counted on to guard and keep us "unto that Day," and forever.

Jesus also said: "As the Father raises the dead and gives them life, so also the Son gives life to whom He will." Of the life given He said: "I am the Resurrection and the Life, he who believes in me, though he die, yet shall he live."

live, and whoever lives and believes in me shall never die. Jesus here affirms that death cannot touch the spiritual life that He gives the one who trusts in Him. He pledges to the believer a life unbroken in continuity. Death may kill the body, but all that death can do will ultimately be undone.

Look at Christ's own case! The fact that Jesus' Spirit survived the Cross was not enough to turn the little band, broken by His crucifixion, into the world-conquerors of the Book of Acts. They had to be convinced that all that Death had done was undone, and far more than undone on Easter morn'g.

A GUARANTEE
So it will be with the resurrection of those who belong to Christ. We do not know how; we can leave that mystery with God; but Christ's resurrection is the God-given guarantee that the dead in Christ will be restored to full manhood plus all that Christ brings into the life of the believer.

Let the Revised Standard Version of St. Paul's assurance startle us into a realization of the glory to come. His compared resurrection to the growth of a grain of wheat, and adds:—"What is sown is perishable, what is raised is imperishable. It is sown in dishonor, it is raised in glory. It is sown in weakness, it is raised in power. It is sown a physical body, it is raised a spiritual body." All we can imagine of "the spiritual body" is that it will be a perfect organ of the soul renewed by grace.

Our call is, therefore, to cultivate spiritual life by every means in our reach. An old monk called Brother Lawrence spoke "practically" of the "presence of God". The new life is a life in Christ and every day should be lived in conscious realization of His presence.

By the exercise of prayer and faith and study of God's word and worship in the Christian community we develop and train the spiritual powers by which we commune with Christ. As he makes His will clear in our ever-changing circumstances we obey it and thereby are linked with Him in the enterprises of His Kingdom. Above all, we are called to "wait on the Lord" for the communications of His love and will which He is ready to give to the believing soul.

Changes in the history of the world bring ever new visions of God's will for His people; prophetic souls are always open to the God "Who fulfills Himself in many ways lest one good custom should corrupt the world." Then, at Easter, "forgive as you have been forgiven." Reconciliation here and hereafter is ours in Christ.
