Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—Consumption.—The prevalence this disease, and the number of victims who sink under it yearly in this country, render the consider of preventative measures a matter of paramount importance. The proportion of deaths from all causes in Great Britain attributed to consumption, is one-third. If the reader choose, he may be his own physician in guarding against this malady in himself or household. When the first suspicious arose that consumption is developing itself, let the patient have the chest and back well formented twice a day with warm brine, dry with a coarse towel, then rub in the Ointment as salt is rubbed into meat to preserve it, and the enemy will be baffled.
